IS ON ITS LAST LEGS

Philippine Government is About to Fall Hard.

THE PRESIDENT SURRENDERED

Renounced All Connection With the Insurrection and Asked for an Office-Cabinet Minister Caught.

Manila, Nov. 27.—Bautista, president of the Philippine congress, presented himself to General MacArthur today and formally renounced all further connection with the insurrection. He was one of the influential Filipinos who hesitated at the beginning of the war as to which side to cast his lot. He was offered a judgeship of the supreme court, but declined. He now announces that he desires to accept the position, and says the Philippine congress and cabinet are scattered, never to reassemble. Some of the members, he adds, have returned to their homes, while others are flying for safety. Many of the congressmen have resigned, and he believes the Philippine soldiers will lay down their arms everywhere as soon as they learn the truth.

SITUATION IN NATAL.

Favorable Message From General White at Ladysmith.

The Natal Advertiser confirms the report of fighting near Willow Grange. It says:

"Five thousand British left Estcourt Wednesday afternoon for reconnaissance. They surprised the Boers at 5 o'clock Thursday morning, and occupied the Boer position, laying out 80 of the enemy. At daybreak the Boers opened with quickfiring. The British artillery was unable to reach the Boers and the British position, therefore, became untenable and was evacuated. Subsequently the artillery was brought into action, and the Boers fell back. Their object having been attained, the British returned to Estcourt."

Five Hundred Boers Killed.

London, Nov. 27.—The Daily Mail publishes the following dispatch from Belmont describing the battle:

Mr. Knight, correspondent of the London Morning Post, was wounded. The Boer prisoners are ignorant, dirty and wretched. They say that half their command, tired of the war, will refuse further service."

MANY SPURIOUS BONDS.

State of Virginia May Have to Pay Compensations Just the Same.

New York, Nov. 27.—The Herald says: Considerable interest has been created among investors by the announcement that a large number of forged Virginia state 3 per cent bonds are afloat. It is not known how many of these bonds are held in this city, but it is said that a comparatively large number have found purchasers here. It is the opinion of some who are considered authorities that the coupons from these bonds in the hands of innocent third parties will prove valid obligations of the state of Virginia.

Under what was known as the Riddleberger law, in 1882, a contract was given by Virginia to the Kendall Bank Note Company, of this city, for 3 per cent bonds, which were to be used in refunding the state debt. Ninety days after the contract had been awarded, a special session of the legislature annulled the Riddleberger law. However, bonds having a face value of $3,000,000 were expressed to Richmond and were refused. Later they were sold for the charges. In whose hands the paper fell is not known.

Attempts were made to recover the bonds, but without success. For more than a year, however, banks in the North and West have heard much of the forged bonds. It is said that in St. Louis last July a trust company loaned $30,000, taking a large block of the worthless paper as security. In that case there was no attempt at fraud, and the loan was repaid before either the borrower or lender knew that the security was without value.

These demands include the reinstatement of certain discharged employees and adjustment of differences with regard to the crews of suburban cars running into the city.

Washington, Nov. 27.—The navy department received the following cablegram from Captain Leites, commanding the naval station at Cavite, dated Manila, today:

"The Culaga reports that the Charleston has disappeared."

The Culaga was the relief-ship sent out from Hong Kong. It is believed at the navy department that the Charleston has slipped down into deep water from the steep bank on which it was resting at the bow. The report has disappeared the last hope of saving the ship.

RAPID TELEGRAPHY.

Letters Successfully Sent at the Rate of 50,000 an Hour.

New York, Nov. 29.—Experimental tests of the Pollak-Virag rapid telegraphy system were made on Sunday over 1,000 miles of wire, between this city and Chicago. Signals, consisting of the letters of the alphabet from A to Z, were sent at the rate of 50,000 an hour, but, owing to the great amount of induction to be overcome and interference and interruptions with the wire, no actual messages were transmitted.

It is asserted that the system, which has been successfully operated up to 700 miles, will work at 1,000 miles or more when a good wire is obtained and a sufficient battery power provided. In the experiments here two ordinary telegraph wires were used to form a complete metallic circuit, and the good connections commonly employed in telegraphing were dispensed with. Josef Virag, one of the inventors, was at this end of the wire, while Herr Pollak was in Chicago.

When the wires were finally found to be clear, the signals were sent. They had previously been punched in a roll of tape by a perforator similar to that used in the Wheatstone system. The tape was passed through a transmitter containing a metal cylinder, revolving at a high rate of speed. Bearing down upon the tape were two needles. At each perforation a needle completed the circuit and made a dot or a dash at the other end of the line. A small electric motor operated the transmitter. The signals were sent through Chicago, it was found that a current of 75 volts was necessary.

After the signals had been sent through the apparatus to Chicago, an operator, using the ordinary key, telegraphed back that they had been received all right. At this juncture, the time for changing from day to night wires arrived, and the circuit was interrupted at Buffalo. The experiments were then postponed to another day.

Claims of Southerners.

Columbia, S. C., Nov. 29.—Governor Miles B. McSwain today addressed a letter to the governor of each Southern state, asking for united effort to get Southern representatives in congress to work for the passage of a bill to refund $11,000,000 to Southern people for cotton seized by United States troops during the war between the states. The cotton was sold by the collector of customs at New York, and the funds were placed in the United States treasury. The United States supreme court had decided that the government has no right or title to these funds, which are held for ultimate return to those entitled thereto. But the funds cannot be reached except by congressional action, as legislation is necessary before action can be brought against the sovereign government.

Forced to Put Back.

Seattle, Nov. 29.—With a cargo of dying horses and mules, and 55 empty stalls, the United States transport Victoria returned to port late tonight, having been forced by an unprecedented street of weather off Cape Flattery to turn back. The cargo was between the Victoria and the coast.

Of the 410 horses and mules carried, 55 were literally pounded to death against the sides of their stalls in the storm, and the remaining animals are so badly bruised that the officers of the vessel believe that many cannot be saved.

The Victoria sailed for the Philippines last Thursday.

Shabbily Treated.

Berlin, Nov. 27.—The Lokal Anzeiger says Professor Stiles, the scientific attaché of the United States embassy, has been recalled because of "differences with the imperial health officer." As a matter of fact, Professor Stiles has been treated of late with unusual discourtesy by the health officer, and he has officially reported the matter to Washington, advising that Germany's scientific attaché at Washington, Count von Haecke, should be deprived of privileges like those of which Professor Stiles was deprived here. Professor Stiles sails for the United States in December. He will not have a successor.

Message Through Walls.

Chicago, Nov. 29.—Professor W. S. Johnson and C. L. Fortier, of Milwaukee, today made a successful test in this city of wireless telegraphy. They succeeded in telegraphing without wires through a suite of seven rooms, with all doors closed, and through seven walls. Another test was made when the signals were conveyed through three fireproof vaults and an ordinary telegraph switchboard, in which third dead wires were located. This is considered to be the severest test to which wireless telegraph has yet been subjected.

Samoa Treaty.

Washington, Nov. 29.—The United States has declined to accept the agreement as to the disposition of the Samoan islands reached by Great Britain and Germany. The reasons which influenced the state department here in rejecting the British-German arrangement related entirely to minor matters. At the instance of the other parties concerned, the United States prepared and submitted a draft of a treaty, which it is hoped will be acceptable to all three powers.

FUNERAL OF HOBART

Impressive Religious Services at Paterson.

SERMON BY REV. DR. MAGIE

Distinguished Men of the Nation Present—Remains Placed in a Vault at Cedar Lawn Cemetery.

Paterson, N. J., Nov. 28.—With the impressive religious ceremonies of the Presbyterian church, and with the dignity due to his high office, all that was mortal of the vice-president, Garrett A. Hobart, was committed to the earth. The president, Secretary of State John Hay, Chief Justice Fuller, ex-Vice-President Levi P. Morton, Secretary of War Alger, Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock, the supreme court judges, members of the senate, members of congress and the vice-presidents' personal friends filled the beautiful Church of the Redeemer, and with moistened eye and bowed head testified silently and eloquently to his worth as a statesman, friend and neighbor.

Through the west window from the center of the stained glass Maltese cross pierced a shaft of crimson light that shed its light around the catafalque and bathed the orchids, narcissus blossoms and the roses in bright tints. The eye of the clergyman, Dr. David Magie, traveled along the shaft of light to the cross as he repeated the words: "The Lord gave and the Lord hath taken away; blessed be the name of the Lord."

The chief magistrate of the country bowed his head in his hands. He was visibly agitated. There was scarcely a dry cheek in the crowded edifice, and the widow was comparatively the most composed. All the pomp of an official pageant, which was omitted in deference to the wishes of the deceased, could never have caused the impressiveness of this scene.

Through a long lane of thousands of uncovered heads, the cortege wended its way to Cedar Lawn cemetery, where the body was placed in the receiving vault.

THE KHALIFA IS DEAD

Killed in a Battle With the Anglo-Egyptian Army.

Cairo, Nov. 28.—Lord Cromer, the British minister here, has received the following dispatch from General Kitchener:

"Wingate's forces caught up with the khalfis' force of 77 miles southeast of Gedid and attacked it. After a sharp fight he took the position. The khalfis, who was surrounded by a body-guard of emirs, was killed, and all the principal emirs were killed or captured except Osman Digna, who escaped. The dervishes were utterly defeated, their whole camp was taken and thousands of men, women and children, also fell into the hands of the Anglo-Egyptian force."

General Kitchener also writes: "We took the entire dervish camp. All the dervishes not killed surrendered. I cannot speak too highly of the excellent behavior of the troops, and their enduring the long, tedious marches preceding the final action. From 4 o'clock in the morning of November 21 until 12 o'clock in the morning of November 24 they marched 60 miles and fought two decisive actions."

"The Sudan may now be declared to be open."

REBELLION BROKEN

Philippine Troops are now Scattered in Small Companies.

Manila, Nov. 28.—The last Filipino council of war was held by the retreating leaders at Bayambang November 18, in the house now occupied by General Aginaldo. It was attended by Aginaldo, Pio del Pilar, Garcia, Alejandro and some members of the so-called cabinet. Information has reached General MacArthur from several sources to the effect that the council recognized the futility of attempting further resistance to the Americans with united forces, and agreed that the Filipino troops should scatter and should hereafter follow guerrilla methods. The disposition of the generals, with their approximate forces, is as follows:

General Concepcion, with 840 men, in New Eja province; General Macabulos, with 325 men, at the town of Binaca, province of Tarlac; General Pio del Pilar, with 800 men, northeast of Malolos; General Aquino, with 500 men, at Arayat; General San Miguel, with 150 men, in Zambales province; General Mascardo, with 1,100 men, in the mountains west of Angeles, and the largest force, probably under General Tria, in Cavite province.

Train Struck a Slide.

Trontal, O., Nov. 28.—The O. R. & N. eastbound passenger No. 2 ran into a small slide near Rooster Rock at 9 p. m. The engine was derailed and slid down the embankment, instantly killing Fireman Miller and injuring Engineer Robert Hunter, who seriously is not known. The mail car was derailed, but the passenger coaches remained on the track. The train crew and passengers showed great heroism in the work of digging the dead and injured men from the wreck.

Thanksgiving in Berlin.

Berlin, Nov. 28.—Rev. Mr. Dickie, pastor of the American church in Berlin, delivered today a Thanksgiving discourse before a large congregation. The church was hung with American flags.

Rusty marks can be taken out of linen by dipping it in hot water and squeezing the juice of a lemon over it.

The Maine Explosion.

New York, Nov. 28.—The World to-morrow will publish a letter from Havana stating that United States officials, after months of secret investigation, have discovered that the battleship Maine was blown up by gun cotton torpedoes placed in the bay for that purpose. The gun cotton, 700 pounds of which was used, was sent from Barcelona to Admiral Manterola, commanding the port of Havana. It was either stolen from the magazine where the stuff was stored, or taken away with the knowledge of the officials in charge.

CENSUS OF DAIRY PRODUCTS.

Requirements of the Law in Regard to Statistics.

The law requires the statistics for the 12th census of dairy products (farm and factory) to be taken on separate schedules.

The division of agriculture will take the amounts of milk and cream produced and sold, and the amount of money received from their sales; also the quantity and value of all the butter and cheese made on the farm.

On the manufacturer's schedule will be taken the quantity of butter and cheese made in factories, co-operative and otherwise, together with the quantity and cost of raw materials (milk and cream), cost of labor, capital invested, character and value of plant and machinery, etc.

After the two forms of schedules shall have been returned to the census office in Washington, the like statistics of dairy products on each will be consolidated, and thus show, what never heretofore has been shown, the total yield of milk in the United States and the amounts and values of its several products.

This assertion is based on the assumption that the farmers shall furnish to the enumerators, fully and accurately, the information which the schedules may call for.

In some sections the records of cheese factory and creamery operations for the current year are destroyed, apparently to prevent vote of directors or patrons. For 1899 they should retain, instead, to have prepared and preserved for the use of the census enumerators, who will appear on June 1, 1900, the statistics which the law says shall be gathered.

In many cases a failure to do this will prevent the enumerators from securing any returns, because new managers, or new secretaries, or new boards of control may be in charge on June 1, 1900, who will know nothing of the factory statistics of 1899—and the figures for 1899 are the ones which the law says shall be taken.

Farmers who keep no records of their transactions will find themselves in the same dilemma, on the arrival of the census enumerators, as a factory which destroys its records. Therefore, Chief Statistician Powers is appealing to all of them to prepare in writing, while the necessary forms are fresh in mind, such a statement of milk, cream, butter and cheese products as will enable them to reply promptly and accurately to the inquiries which the law says the enumerators must make.

If they shall fail to do this, the statistics of dairy products in their county will be incomplete, and will compare unfavorably with those of counties wherein the returns are more accurate.

THE POPE WORKS HARD.

How the Supreme Pontiff Passes Each Day at the Vatican.

Rome, October 23, 1899. (Special Cable.) Pope Leo is an early riser, and by that I mean a man who is out of bed and at work at five o'clock in the morning. He takes a light breakfast—a little very weak coffee with plenty of milk, and a piece of bread. He works, reads or writes and receives some visits, until lunch time. In the afternoon he takes his walk, and when in ordinary health, spends some time in the gardens of the Vatican, then he returns to his apartment, where he says his rosary. He may then receive a few visitors, after which he takes a nap and dines. At ten P. M. he reads the newspapers and then retires for the night. The Pope thus really works all day long.

During his recent illness very little medicine was given him; the physicians relied principally upon rest, nourishment and stimulants every now and then, but always in small quantities.

The Pope's nervous energy, as already noted in a previous letter, is something remarkable in one of his advanced years, and when he comes out of his apartment he almost runs—walking so fast that his attendants can hardly keep up with him.

When he is to be carried in state into the Sistine Chapel, to attend or preside at any ceremony, the clanking of the sabres of the noble guard on the marble floor and the reverent minutes before the procession reaches the chapel. The Pope, it seems, although sleeping well and enjoying his afternoon nap, which he takes every day, does not sleep so much at night, during which he may get up several times, and even go to work.

A house to house secretary is the latest employment which an enterprising woman has devised for her sex. She declares she has found scores of women unable to write their social notes and letters creditably, while others are similarly unable to attend properly to their business letters, and by employing a secretary for these purposes they not only escape blunders, but add something to their prestige by the fact that they only sign their letters, and are, therefore, known to have a
