EVENTS OF THE DAY

A Comprehensive Review of the Important Happenings of the Past Week Presented in a Condensed Form Which is Most Likely to Prove of Interest to Our Many Readers.

A slight earthquake was felt at Saratoga a few days ago. Two men were killed by accidental asphyxiation in New York.

A bill has been reported to the house to make more sure of the gold standard. Fire in an Indian Territory coal mine was the cause of 14 men losing their lives.

Prince Henry of Prussia, will leave that country on February 13 for a visit to the United States. Chicago board of trade has sent a petition to congress asking for the reopening of the Schley case.

Had forest fires are burning in Colorado near Buffalo Park and in the mountains south of Cheyenne mountain. Elaborate preparations are being made for the fitting celebration of the pontifical silver jubilee of Pope Leo XIII.

A petition with 24,000 signatures has been presented to the king protesting against the sale of the Danish West Indies. Emperor William, of Germany, will have his yacht being built in this country, christened "Albatros" in honor of Miss Roosevelt.

The Cherokee, Choctaw and Chickasaw nations, in the Indian Territory, have petitioned congress for territorial government instead of tribal rule. A family of seven perished in a Buffalo fire.

There are 900 cases of smallpox in London. Croker has retired from the leadership of Tammany. Mitchell may secure modifications of the Philippine tariff.

An extra session of the Minnesota legislature has been called. The Cheyenne Indian troubles in Montana have been quieted.

Wireless telegraphy is likely to have a bad effect on the Pacific cable project. A $10,049,000 contract has been let for paving and sewerage the city of Havana.

The senate has been asked to appropriate $400,000 for a naval experimental plant. The Union Pacific will spend $25,000,000 on the improvement of its Western lines this year.

A prominent Canadian has brought action against federal officers for false arrest and imprisonment. Senator Quay, of Pennsylvania, although in very poor health, declares he will not resign his seat in congress.

Owing to recent disturbances, notices have been posted in St. Petersburg ordering instant obedience to any orders by the police. January 29 will be generally observed as a holiday, that date being the late president's birthday. Governors are issuing proclamations accordingly.

Russia is determined to hold onto Manchuria. Governor Shaw will succeed Secretary Gage January 25. New York has appropriated $50,000 to represent that state at the St. Louis fair.

Relations between Americans, British and Russians at Niu Chwang are strained. Rear Admiral Wildes has been ordered to take command of the Asiatic squadron. Several senators propose to fight the indiscriminate passage of pension bills by congress.

The population of the entire United States is 84,233,069. The Boer losses up to date have been twice as heavy as the British. A Southern Pacific train at Houston Texas, ran down and killed two men.

Ex-President Cleveland has almost entirely recovered from his recent illness. There will be a strong fight in congress against the new Chinese exclusion bill. The first proclamation against football in England was issued by Edward II in 1314.

During the last decade the Roman Catholics have increased more rapidly in Prussia than the Protestants, while the increase in the number of Hebrews was insignificant. No country does so much for the education of its people as Germany. The common schools are not only in reach of the poorest, but the tuition is free and attendance is compulsory in childhood.

Eggs to the value of $27,500,000 were imported by England last year. There are 5,700,000 children on the rolls of British schools, but of these only 4,700,000, or about 80 per cent, attend regularly. Three rivers as big as the Rhine would just equal in volume the Ganges, three Ganges the Mississippi, and two Mississippi the Amazon.

Previous practice of the few girls enabled the teachers in a school in Cleveland, O., in which a fire broke out to empty the building of 860 pupils in a minute and a half, without one being injured.

HOMESICKNESS IN MANILA.

As a Cure, an American News Service Will Be Established. Manila, Jan. 14.—Medical authorities here assert that a considerable portion of the breaking down among American residents of the Philippine Islands is due to homesickness. Newspapers of Manila are urging the United States Philippine Commission to make an appropriation for a daily published news service from the United States, thus bringing Americans here in closer touch with their home life. A majority of the local papers, several Army officers, civil officials and others, have promised subscriptions to help meet the cable tolls for a three-month news service of 100 words a day. An amount sufficient to cover the tolls for 70 words a day has already been subscribed. It is hoped that this news service can be begun January 15. It will be devoted to American news exclusively. The Government has offered to send news bulletins free to all points on the military wires.

Commissioner Bernard Moses, head of the Department of Public Instruction for the islands, has delivered an address to the teachers of Manila, in which he particularly urged the continued instruction of Filipino children in English. He said the members of the wealthy farmer classes were making a great mistake in sending their children to Spanish schools, as the consequence would be that the instruction would injure their position and standing in the islands, which would inevitably and indissolubly become a portion of the American nation.

President E. E. Lytle says the filing of these incorporation articles means the building of the extension at once. Construction will be begun as soon as the weather in that region is suitable, and the line will be put through to completion this year unless some unexpected obstacle should come to build it.

The Doctor's Dilemma By Hesba Stretton

CHAPTER XXVIII.—(Continued.) "My daughter," he said, "I have left you leave your duty in my keeping. Now I summon you to fulfill it. Your duty lies yonder, by your husband's side in his agony of death."

"I will go," I whispered, my lips scarce moving to pronounce the words, so stiff and cold they felt.

"Good!" he said, "you have chosen the better part. Come! The good God will protect you."

He drew my hand through his arm and led me to the low doorway.

The inner room, as I entered, was very dark with the overhanging eaves, and my eyes, contracted by the strong sunlight, could discern but little in the gloom. Tardif was kneeling beside a low bed, bathing my husband's forehead. He made way for me, and I felt him touch my hand with his lips as I took his place.

Richard's face, sunken, haggard, dying, with filmy eyes, dawned gradually out of the dim twilight, line after line, until it lay sharp and distinct under my gaze. The poor, miserable face! the restless, dreary, dying eyes!

"Where is Olivia?" he muttered, in a hoarse and labored voice.

"I am here, Richard," I answered, falling on my knees where he lay, and kissing his forehead, and putting my hand in his; "look at me, I am Olivia."

"You are mine, you know," he said, his fingers closing round my wrist with a grasp as weak as a very young child's; "she is my wife, Monsieur le Cure?"

"Yes," I sobbed, "I am your wife, Richard."

"Do they hear it?" he asked, in a whisper.

"We hear it," answered Tardif.

"I am better than you," I said, "not one more dear than you. Yes, I am rich, and I have been planning something to do for Ville-en-bois. Would you like the church enlarged and beautified, Monsieur le Cure?"

"It is large enough and fine enough at present," he answered.

"I have discovered what Monsieur le Cure would approve. It is truly English. There is no sentiment, no romance about it. Cannot you guess what it is, my wife and learned Monsieur?"

"No, no, madame," he replied, "it remains as it is during my brief lifetime."

"I thought so," I said, "but I believe I have discovered what Monsieur le Cure would approve. It is truly English. There is no sentiment, no romance about it. Cannot you guess what it is, my wife and learned Monsieur?"

"No, no, madame," he answered, smiling in spite of his sadness.

"Listen, dear Monsieur," I continued, "if this village is unhealthy for me, it is unhealthy for you and your people. Dr. Martin told Tardif there would always be fever here, as long as there
