EXTENSIVE BOER VICTORY.

British Lost 632 Men Killed, Wounded and Prisoners—Also Lost Two Guns.

London, March 5.—A dispatch from Pretoria contains details of the disaster to the escort of the convoy of empty wagons at Vondonkop, southwest of Klerksdorp, Transvaal Colony. The British casualties were 632 men killed, wounded and men made prisoners reach the total of 632. In addition the Boers captured two guns.

Lieutenant Colonel Anderson, who commanded the British force and who returned to Kraaipan, Cape Colony, with nine officers and 245 men, reports that when his advance guard was within 10 miles of Klerksdorp, during the morning of February 25, the Boers opened a heavy rifle fire on the troops from the shrub. These burghers were driven off, and the convoy resumed its march, when a more determined attack was made on the convoy's left flank, the Boers getting within a hundred yards and stampeding the mules harassed to a number of wagons. The attacking force were again driven off.

At about 6:30 in the morning the rear guard was attacked by a strong force of Boers and simultaneously another body of Boers boldly charged the center of the convoy and stampeded the mules in all directions, throwing the escort into confusion, during which the Boers charged and recharged, riding down the British units. The fighting lasted for two hours, during which the two British guns and a pom-pom almost exhausted their ammunition. A detachment of 200 mounted infantry from Klerksdorp attempted to reinforce the British, but were held in check by the Boers.

Lieutenant Colonel Anderson adds that the strength of the Boers was estimated at 1,200 to 1,600. Commandants Delany, Kemp, Celliers, Lunnier, Wilmarans and Potgieters were all present. Commandant Lemmer is said to have been killed.
