

The Song of the Hair

There are four verses. Verse 1. Ayer's Hair Vigor makes the hair grow. Verse 2. Ayer's Hair Vigor stops falling hair. Verse 3. Ayer's Hair Vigor cures dandruff. Verse 4. Ayer's Hair Vigor always restores color to gray hair. The chorus is sung by millions.

"Before using Ayer's Hair Vigor I had very thin and very poor hair. But I continued to use the Vigor until my hair grew and improved in every way. I have used it off and on for the past ten years."—Mae M. Davenport, Newark, N. J.

Nagrus—What are you working at now, Horus?

Horus—I am writing a story in which there is neither hero nor heroine, no love making, no villain, no detective, and not a particle of plot.

Nagrus—That ought to be interesting. Horus—It ought to be more than that. I hope to make it touching and pathetic. It's a hard-luck story, written for my landlord's exclusive personal and use forth in detail the reasons why I shall have to ask him for another extension of time on my rent.

Helping Him On.

"Now, for my part," said Mr. Timmid, tentatively, "I wouldn't dare think of marrying."

"Why not?" eagerly interrupted Miss Ann Teck.

"Because I haven't any money."

"But," she suggested helpfully, "couldn't you get somebody to lend you a little?"—Catholic Standard and Times.

Past That.

Miss Passy—He was talking to you about me, wasn't he?

Miss Knox—Yes. He asked me if you were thirty-five yet, and I said certainly no.

Miss Passy—What a ridiculous question!

Miss Knox—Just what I told him. I said: "How long do you expect her to be thirty-five?"—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

How to Predict Safety.

"When in doubt," said the weather expert, "always prophesy bad weather."

"What for?" asked the young man who is learning the business.

"Because if it turns out to be correct people commend your accuracy, and if it's wrong their minds are so relieved that they don't find any fault!"—Washington Star.

Devotion to an Idea.

Watt Gossip—Isn't it something starting for old Hanks to be dropping into extravagant habits at his time of life?

Muskmug—Yes; he has just found out that there is an inheritance tax, and he's going to it on principle. He says he is opposed to it that his heirs don't have to pay any such tax.

Not for Him.

First Actor—I thought your next tour was to have been through South Africa.

Second Actor—It was, but the company struck. One of them had read that an ostrich egg often weighs two or three pounds.—Life.

Advice from Artemus Ward.
A certain Southern railroad was in a wretched condition, and the trains were consequently run at a phenomenally low rate of speed. When the conductor was punching his ticket Artemus Ward, who was one of the passengers, remarked:
"Does this railroad company allow passengers to give it advice, if they do so in a respectful manner?"
The conductor replied in gruff tones that he guessed so.

"Well," Artemus went on, "it occurred to me that it would be well to detach the cowcatcher from the front of the engine and hitch it to the rear of the train; for you see, we are not liable to overtake a cow, and what's to prevent a cow from trotting into this car and biting a passenger?"—Boston Herald.

Pleasant.
"Now, that it's all over, darling," said the delighted bridegroom, "I must confess I never expected to win you. Even now I can't understand why you married me."

"Well, George," said the Chicago bride, "I'll tell you. Some time ago a fortune teller told me that my second marriage would make me very happy and wealthy. So, of course, I had to get my first marriage over with!"—Philadelphia Press.

Only Wanted a Square Deal.
"Prisoner," said the judge, "stand up. Have you anything to say why judgment of the court should not now be pronounced against you?"

"I'd like to say, your honor," answered the prisoner, "that I hope you will not allow your mind to be prejudiced against me by the poor defense my lawyer put up for me. I'll take it as a great favor if your honor will just give me the sentence I'd have got if I had pleaded guilty in the first place."

The Postmaster's Holiday.
It is said that a rural postmaster in Texas sent the following letter to the Postmaster General recently:
"I ain't took no holiday these three years gone, an' this is to let you know that I'm goin' to close the office for the next three days an' go a-fishin'. There don't much mail come here now, an' I'm needin' exercise. So I put you on notice."—Atlanta Constitution.

His Natural Conclusion.
"I'm entertaining Miss Sniggs, the most popular girl in our class," said the Bryn Mawr girl. "I'd like you to meet her."

"No, thank you," replied Dick. "I'm not interested in homely girls."

"Why how did you know she was homely?"

"She must be or she wouldn't be so popular with our other girls; also, you wouldn't want me to meet her!"—Philadelphia Press.

Discouraging Him.
"Yes, he confessed that he loved me, but I tried to discourage him in every way I knew how. Once he dared to kiss me."

"And you screamed, Jeanette?"

"Well—er—not then, but I warned him that I would the next time. Then he kissed me again."

"Surely you called for help?"

"How could I when I was so startled? Presently he slipped his arm around me."

"And you drew away?"

"No, I nestled closer—er—that is— but really, dear, I tried to discourage him; yes, I tried hard."

Epithets to Fit.

"Never heard a man use as many epithets as Binkley does."

"Yes, and he always tried to make them fit the occasion. Did you hear what he called the waiter who spilled the consommé?"

"No."

"He called him a consommé idiot!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Warrior and His Book.

Real book lovers are likely to own a few books that they especially treasure. If these be bound worthily in handsome leather, it is not being too fussy to make a little chamol case or light box for each one to protect it from the chance knocks and scratches that mar the beauty of the leather. It is true that the best binding is one that, like the old white vellum, is durable, cleanable, attractive and serviceable; but not all bindings can be left unprotected, and if Alexander the Great believed nothing better worthy of a place in the jeweled closet of Darius than his copy of Homer's Iliad, even the most manly boy need not be ashamed to provide a safe-keeping wrapper for his dainty books.—St. Nicholas.

IN THE NATIONAL HALLS OF CONGRESS

Tuesday, June 19.

Washington, June 19.—Knox addressed the senate at length in support of the lock type for the Panama canal, contending that in point of feasibility and economy it is far superior to the sea level plan. He argued that as this government had practically prohibited the French government, and later had declined to allow private corporations to embark in the canal enterprise, the United States can not afford to hesitate on account of the cost in money or time. The fact that a sea level canal would cost more than a lock canal should not deter this country from giving to the world the best possible waterway between the oceans, which must necessarily be on the tide level. He expressed the opinion that if a sea level canal could be built for the same price as a lock canal, all the engineers would favor it as the best possible canal. Hence he contended that in standing the canal Chief Engineer, neither Stevens discredited himself as an engineer.

Washington, June 19.—With practical unanimity the house today adopted the substitute for the Beveridge amendment to the agricultural appropriation bill relating to meat inspection, the objectionable features of the former amendments being eliminated and the amendments perfected to meet the wishes of the president. An effort was made to extend the time of debate, but Wadsworth, chairman of the committee on agriculture, desiring to get the bill into conference as soon as possible, objected. After the adoption of the amendments the bill was sent to conference, the conferees being Wadsworth, Scott, (Kan.) and Lamb (Va.).

A large number of bills were passed under suspension of rules. Through the efforts of Champ Clark, of Missouri, and William, of Mississippi, the subsidiary silver coinage bill failed to secure enough votes to pass it under the rule.

Monday, June 18.

Washington, June 18.—After another day devoted largely to the Lake Erie and Ohio river canal bill, the senate today passed that measure by only 11 votes in the negative. In addition several bills to which there was no objection received favorable action. There also was further discussion between Tillman and Hopkins over the resolution of the former for an investigation of the question of national bank contributions to political campaigns, which involved a renewed reference to the failure of the Chicago national bank.

The session adjourned upon the official announcement of the death of Lester, of Georgia.

Washington, June 18.—A black-draped desk in the hall of the house of representatives today told the story of the passing of Rufus Lester, late a representative in congress from the First Georgia district. Previous to an announcement Wadsworth, of New York, asked unanimous consent, which was granted, that the agricultural bill, with senate amendments, be recommitted to the committee on agriculture. Payne, of New York, by unanimous consent, then fixed Tuesday and Wednesday as suspension days, instead of today, in view of the early adjournment of the house.

Bartlett, of Georgia, announced the death of his late colleague, stating that he had been a member of the house for nearly 16 years. He offered the usual resolutions, which were agreed to. As a further mark of respect, the house then adjourned until tomorrow.

Saturday, June 16.

Washington, June 16.—The senate spent the entire day debating the bill to incorporate a ship canal connecting Lake Erie with the Ohio river, and again adjourned without action on it. The bill was warmly attacked by Patterson as in the interest of speculation, and was warmly defended by Knox and Nelson. La Follette offered a number of amendments, which were laid on the table.

During a lull in the proceedings the president pro tem announced his signature to the statehood bill.

The senate adjourned at 3:30 p. m. for want of a quorum.

Washington, June 16.—After 40 minutes of debate the house voted by the vote of 129 to 82 adopted the senate resolution providing for the purchase of material and equipment for use in the construction of the Panama canal of domestic manufacturers and of the lowest responsible bidder, unless the president shall in any case deem it expedient to resort to be extortionate or unreasonable. The adoption of the resolution came after a long discussion of purchasing canal material in open markets, while the sundry civil bill was under consideration.

The sundry civil bill also was passed. It carries a total appropriation of $94,778,040, nearly $26,000,000 of which is for the continuation of work on the canal.

Friday, June 15.

Washington, June 15.—When the senate took up the Kitteridge sea level canal bill today, Senator Teller spoke in support of that plan. He argued that as this government had practically prohibited the French government, and later had declined to allow private corporations to embark in the canal enterprise, the United States can not afford to hesitate on account of the cost in money or time. The fact that a sea level canal would cost more than a lock canal should not deter this country from giving to the world the best possible waterway between the oceans, which must necessarily be on the tide level. He expressed the opinion that if a sea level canal could be built for the same price as a lock canal, all the engineers would favor it as the best possible canal. Hence he contended that in standing the canal Chief Engineer, neither Stevens discredited himself as an engineer.

Washington, June 15.—The house today voted 110 to 35 in favor of a lock canal across the Isthmus of Panama, the amendment to the sundry civil bill to this effect being presented by Littauer, of New York.

With members of congress sitting on the short steps in the aisles of the house, around the space in groups, the galleries filled, and the speaker, of Ohio, pointer in hand, discussing charts to show the difference between the sea level and lock canal, the house presented every appearance of a class room.

Thursday, June 14.

Washington, June 14.—The senate today decided to vote next Thursday on the bill to amend the act of March 3, 1875, relative to the construction of the Panama canal, the bill being introduced by Senator Teller, of Ohio, pointer in hand, discussing charts to show the difference between the sea level and lock canal, the house presented every appearance of a class room.

SKIN DISEASES

There is nothing more distressing than an itching, burning skin disease, and upon the return of warm weather those who are afflicted with skin troubles find the symptoms appearing and know that they will be tormented through the hot summer months. The blood is heated with humors and acid matter, and as they are forced to the surface the skin seems to be on fire. The treatment of skin diseases with external applications is all wrong, because they do not reach the trouble which is in the blood. The most such treatment can be expected to do is, allay the itching and burning and cover up the trouble for awhile, but as soon as it is left off the disease returns.

All food taken into the body contains, in some form, the elements necessary to sustain the different parts. One portion is used for the making of blood, another for muscle, one for bone, still another for fat, and so on. After these different properties are extracted from the food there still remains a portion that is useless, or waste matter, which is intended to be disposed of through the natural channels of bodily waste, the Liver, Kidneys and Bowels. At this season of the year, however, these organs become torpid, dull and sluggish, and fail to perform this duty, and these accumulations remain in the system and are absorbed by the blood to ferment and sour; producing burning acids and acid humors. The blood cannot properly nourish the system while in this impure condition, and begins to throw off these acids through the pores and glands of the skin, producing Acne, Eczema, Tetter, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum and skin diseases of every description.

ECZEMA appears usually with a slight redness of the skin, followed by pustules from which there flows a sticky fluid that dries and forms a crust, and the itching is intense. It is generally on the back, breast, arms, legs and face, though other parts of the body may be afflicted. In TETTER the skin dries, cracks and bleeds, and is often very painful. The acid in the blood dries up the natural oils of the skin, causing a dry, feverish, hardened condition and giving it a leathery appearance. ACNE makes its appearance on the face in the form of pimples and black-heads, and is particularly disagreeable because of its unsightly appearance, while PSORIASIS, a scaly disease, comes in patches on different parts of the body. One of the worst forms of skin disease is SALT RHEUM. It discharges a watery fluid, forming sores and producing intense itching. The head and face are the parts usually affected, and sometimes the hair falls out and a mass of sores forms on the scalp.

These and all skin diseases are due to the same cause—burning acids and humors in the blood, and until this vital fluid is cleansed and made pure they will continue. The best treatment for all skin diseases is S. S. S., a remedy that is purely vegetable, being made entirely from roots, herbs and barks, and acts directly on the blood with a cleansing, healing effect. It neutralizes the acids and purifies the blood so that the skin, instead of being blistered and burned by the fiery fluids, is nourished by a supply of cooling, healthy blood. It goes down into the circulation and forces out every particle of waste or foreign matter, builds up the blood and cures all skin diseases promptly and permanently. S. S. S. does not leave the least particle of the poison for future outbreaks, but entirely rids the blood of the cause for all skin diseases.

S. S. S. tones up the system and regulates the Liver, Kidneys and Bowels so that they will carry off the natural waste and refuse matter through the proper channels, instead of leaving it to be absorbed by the general health. THE ITCHING WAS ALMOST UNBEARABLE.

Dear Sirs—My body broke out with a rash or eruption which in spite of all efforts to cure continued to get worse. The itching, especially at night, was simply terrible. It would almost disappear at times, only to return worse than ever. I had tried many highly recommended preparations without benefit, and hearing of S. S. S. determined to give it a fair trial, and was exceedingly delighted when a few bottles cured me entirely, removing every blemish and pimple from my body. I shall not fail to recommend S. S. S. whenever an opportunity occurs to do so. Escondido, Cal.

Dear Sirs—My body broke out with a rash or eruption which in spite of all efforts to cure continued to get worse. The itching, especially at night, was simply terrible. It would almost disappear at times, only to return worse than ever. I had tried many highly recommended preparations without benefit, and hearing of S. S. S. determined to give it a fair trial, and was exceedingly delighted when a few bottles cured me entirely, removing every blemish and pimple from my body. I shall not fail to recommend S. S. S. whenever an opportunity occurs to do so. Escondido, Cal.
