D. B. Abdill who has been compelled to undergo a few of "Jobs comforters" was in town a few days ago with his leg in a sling, caused by one of those pesky boils making its appearance about half way between the knee and ankle. It was just a common boil at first, but it soon got so bad the services of a Dr. was needed. He barely escaped blood poisoning. He now thinks he will be able to navigate without assistance in a few days.

Patriotism is a commendable thing, but when it becomes so strong that it leads a person to steal a flag from the residence of any of our residents as was done from the home of Mrs. J. C. Nichols, last week, it is time to call a halt. So Mrs. Nichols very indignantly reported the matter to our marshal, Wakefield who agreed to help her find the guilty party. On coming down to the store she made the discovery of her life, when she saw the missing flag in their store window. We will not attempt to say what she said, or how she looked, when her nubby innocent told her, I thought it would look as well in the window as on the front of our home, she made some remarks for his special benefit. And then she had to go and beg the marshal not to arrest him, as he had promised to do if the guilty party could be found. So Jack graciously accepted the warning, and promised to not let it occur again.

During This War

The United States Will Respect Property Rights

THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE ON FEBRUARY 8TH ISSUED THE FOLLOWING STATEMENT:

"It having been reported to him that there is anxiety in some quarters on the part of persons residing in this country who are the subjects of foreign states lest their bank deposits or other property should be seized in the event of war between the United States and a foreign nation, the President authorizes the statement that all such fears are entirely unfounded. The government of the United States will in no circumstances take advantage of a state of war to take possession of property in which international understandings and the recognized law of the land give it no just claim or title. It will scrupulously respect all private rights alike of its own citizens and of the subjects of foreign states."
