Eli Rowley, after a few days in Portland, returned home Saturday evening last.

Mrs. Ernest Burnham is spending a few days with relatives in Portland this week.

Mrs. Ross Watson was a Portland visitor Friday last making the return trip home on the evening train.

The Tribune acknowledges a pleasant call from County School Superintendent Duncan the latter part of last week.

Order that Brick Ice Cream for your Xmas dinner from A. W. Hatfield by noon Monday, Dec. 24.

Mrs. Marguerite Cook terminated her visit with the Hash family here and returned to her home in McMinnville Friday morning.

Ernest Litscher of Portland was here a day or so the first of the week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Litscher, and other relatives.

John W. Coovert of Amity was extending the glad hand to his many friends here Saturday and attending to some other business between times.

J. U. Smith of Chehalem center was in town last Saturday and extended us cordial greetings besides making a good speech at our corn show.

If this paragraph is blue penciled, it means that we are sending you sample copies for a short time asking you to read carefully and subscribe for THE TRIBUNE.

James W. Coovert is the recipient of a very fine Christmas present from his son Dick from Stockton, Calif., consisting of dried raisins, dates, figs and other good fruits adapted to that locality.

James Wakefield has secured a good job superintending the laying of water mains and has moved his family to Oak Grove, Ore. We congratulate you James on securing a permanent situation and hope you will not forget the many friends you have in Dayton.

Cast your eye on those new labels the Equity Queen Canning company are using and remember this classy job of printing was done by the Tribune plant, and right here let us tell you we are prepared to and can do any and all kinds of job and fancy printing.

The Tualatin Valley news, Aurora Observer and the Newberg Enterprise reached our exchange table last week all dressed up in Holiday attire and well filled with Christmas advertisements which speaks well for the loyal support of the business of their various towns.

See that fine line of spectacles and Christmas Cards at Ballards.

Mrs. M. G. Miller is reported to be among the very sick people of our town at this writing.

Order that Brick Ice Cream for your Xmas dinner from A. W. Hatfield by noon Monday, Dec. 24.

Mrs. Edna Clawson made an over night visit with her parents here last Friday night returning to Portland the next morning.

This office is under obligations to Mr. Carl Unger for a beautiful bunch of mistletoe that he had secured in the red hills north of town.

Just because your wife tells you to buy her something useful for a Christmas present, don't think she will be satisfied if you send her home a sack of flour.

Another Dayton boy has joined the Aviation department of the U. S. Army. This time it is Paul Lewis, who will be located in Texas for training in the electrical department.

Mrs. Elizabeth Simler, who has been visiting with a brother near McMinnville for a week or ten days, has returned home in time to witness this gentle rain we had the first of the week.

By the kindness of Jas. Coovert we have been able to sample a couple of Banana apples from Hood River. "Thanks" they were sure fine and tasted like more would please us better.

The Anti-Cant's club of Webfoot will give a basket social in the Webfoot church on Friday, Dec. 28. The proceeds to be used to swell the piano fund. Everybody invited and be sure to bring a basket. Short program.

Geo. F. Hartley, a brother of Mrs. Ernest Burnham, from southern Oregon, is staying a few days in our town and absorbing some of our superfluous moisture which has lately come upon us.

Mrs. C. Lewis was a passenger last Friday morning to see her son, Paul, at Vancouver, Washington, he having enlisted in the Aviation corps and was expecting to be transported at once to some where in Texas to a training camp.

J. U. Smith of Chehalem was having a good time at the Corn show among his former friends acquaintances and made a good speech pleading with all thorough bred stock men to join the Stock Association of Yamhill County. Quite a number of our stock men will join the association.

Mrs. Ed Hadaway after a few days in Portland returned home last Saturday evening accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Nell Simms and children who have rented the Fred Withee house in the Frank Louis neighborhood and will become residents of Dayton for the coming winter.

T. B. Clark has just received a very fine male pig from the R. J. Fox strain of Poland China hogs. Mr. Fox captured most of the prizes at the last state fair, consequently it will be easily seen that this pig comes from among the best of his class in Oregon. Mr. Clark is very proud of his new possession and Mr. Piggy is assured of the best of care.

B. J. Parrish, who has been sojourning with his daughter, Mrs. Clyde Robertson, near Forest Grove for about two months past, has returned home for the winter, arriving Saturday.

All the church bells, the school bell and the fire bell will ring in the Red Cross Christmas next Christmas eve. Unless you see the blaze or a big smoke, remember the fire bell is not calling you to a fire.

Mrs. Dale Skinner and baby of Oregon City are spending a few days at the home of her mother, Mrs. Jas. Coovert of this city. Grace, as she is known to us, says she sure enjoys these homecomings.

C. M. McAllister, special representative of the Union Stock Yards Co. of Portland was one of our out of town visitors at the Corn Show, and made a stirring speech relative to the needs of raising more stock and the benefits of cooperation by the farmer. His remarks were attentively listened to and unquestionably our farmers receive some suggestions if followed will be of much benefit to them.

Mrs. A. H. Benton, a former resident of Dayton, a cousin of L. E. Sutton, but now of Falls City, visited over night with one of her former neighbors, Eli Rowley and wife. She said they have been blessed with good health and plenty to do and are consequently happy and contented. It has been some ten or more years since she was here and she saw many changes in our city for the better which pleased her greatly.

MARRIED

A very quiet wedding was solemnized at the Christian church at McMinnville by the pastor Rev. Champie when Miss Violet Wilhoit, of St. Joe, Ore., and Harry E. Dey, of this city, were united in marriage in the presence of immediate relatives.

The Deys will spend a few days at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Dey of this city, before making their home of a farm near here.

The Tribune along with their many friends here and in other cities wish the young people all the success and happiness that this world will afford.
