If You Make Your Own—

Warning Issued by Revenue Authorities

Persons who may be planning to make liquor in their own homes after national prohibition becomes effective July 1 are to be warned by revenue authorities as to the penalties to which they will be subject. The internal revenue bureau has sent to revenue collectors and agents a summary of laws on the subject and penalties with the suggestion that they be made known widely.

The schedule of penalties for various violations is as follows:

For failure to register still, $500 penalty, fine of between $100 and $1,000 and imprisonment of between one month and two years; for making liquor in a community where it is prohibited by local or state laws, tax of $1,000; for violating war-time prohibition, $1,000 fine, or one year imprisonment or both; for making a whisky mash or a beer, fine of between $500 and $5,000, and imprisonment of between six months and three years. Beer making comes within the same prohibitions.

Animals Display Great Intelligence When Ill or Hurt—Treat Themselves

Few people realize, notes a writer in the Christian Herald, how many animals are constantly getting hurt and sick. The wild animals seldom get sick from what they eat, but the domestic animals frequently do. Wild animals get injured from fighting with other animals of their kind or in fights with animal enemies. In all cases, animals have a way of doctoring themselves that is remarkable.

Animals suffering from fever eat nothing, keep quiet, seek darkness and airy places, drink much water and sometimes plunge into the water from time to time. When a dog has lost its appetite it eats that species of grass known as "dog's grass." Cats also eat grass, catnip, etc., when sick. Sheep and cows in the same circumstances seek out certain wild plants.

If an ant's foot is cut, other ants will cover the wounded part with a transparent fluid from their mouths. If a chimpanzee is wounded it stops the flow of blood by placing its hand on the wound or dressing it with leaves and grass.

A terrier had an injured eye. It remained lying under a counter, avoiding heat and light, although it had been its habit to keep close to the fire. It adopted the general treatment—rest and abstinence from food. The local treatment consisted in licking the upper surface of its paw, which it then applied to the wounded eye, again licking the paw when it became dry. Cats, when hurt, also treat themselves by this simple method.

The methods adopted by most of the wild animals for doctoring themselves are unknown to man, but there is no doubt that every animal has the ability to skilfully doctor itself.

Apple Tree in Steel Cage.

A steel cage with a burglar alarm system is being built around an apple tree on the farm of A. H. Mulkins, in Clay county, West Virginia. Five thousand dollars was paid for the tree, which is a seedling of rare variety, by a nursery company which will supply the budding stock for the propagation of its species. For further protection a watchman has been employed.

SAYINGS OF WISE MEN

He is a sorry barber that has but one comb.—Italian Proverb.

A bargain is a bargain.

It is a rash bargain to sell the bird on the bough.—Italian Proverb.

Bloodthirsty is the man who returns from banishment.—Ancient Proverb.

There never was a banquet so sumptuous but some one dined ill at it.—French Proverb.

Commerce loves freedom.—Richardson.

GOOD JOKES

Good in Everything.

"There is a use for everything in this world."

"So? Well, tell me the use of a jealous wife?"

"Certainly! If there were no jealous wives, how do you suppose homely stenographers could get jobs?"

Expressed Sympathy.

The Overbearing Lawyer—Ignorance of the law excuses no one.

The Culprit—I'll be sorry for you, then, if you ever get into trouble!

The Exception.

"It's a long lane that has no turning."

"How about the straight and narrow path we hear so much about?"

Its Class.

"Is that dilapidated-looking flower a monthly rose?"

"I don't know, but I should call it a weekly one."

Must Be Brave to Raise Mustache—and a Little Later to Shave It Off

It takes a brave man to raise a mustache. When you first hesitate and then desist when it comes to shaving your upper lip and the sprouts spring up as ragged as the weeds in a brick walk, then your friends nudge each other and grin broadly when they meet you, musing a writer in Toledo News-Bee. Your family looks at you with sorrowful eyes and cringes when you jauntily caress the segments of down and remark that you certainly are breaking all records for quick accumulation of foliage.

You become the butt of constant kidding. You furnish large bunches of enjoyment for your friends. The favorite form of witticism indulged in by your friends is along these lines: "Why the disguise? So you're raising alfalfa now? Of course you want to hide that face of yours!"

After about three or four weeks of this sort of life you determine to remove the hirsute adornment. But you find this doesn't stop the kidding. As a matter of fact it flares up more strongly than ever. "Ah, ha," say your friends, "so you cut off your mustache to make yourself look younger? That's right, old top, make yourself look as young as possible—you're slipping fast!"

It takes a mighty brave man to raise a mustache and—to shave it off!

Our Ancient Ancestors

Dwelt in Icy Period Is

Proven by a Discovery

One often hears of "the glacial period" or "the ice age" of the earth, but, strictly speaking, this expression is not correct, avers a writer. It is now established beyond all reasonable doubt that this planet has experienced not one but a great many glacial periods. Evidence has been found which proves that the latest or Pleistocene glacial epoch has several important subdivisions and that all of the present continents have experienced glacial epochs at different ages.

Great ice sheets were formed at different periods back to the Proterozoic age; that is the age of the oldest known sedimentary rocks, a great many million years ago.

One of the most recent discoveries of the old glacial deposits was made by Professor W. W. Atwood of the United States geological survey, near Ridgway, in southwestern Colorado. These deposits were found beneath tertiary lavas of the San Juan mountains, and resting upon upper Cretaceous beds. They have, it is believed, been formed in early Eocene times.

Trace Military Terms and

Designations to Normans

Nearly all of our military terms and designations are derived from the Normans. These designations are marshal, general, colonel, major, captain, adjutant, cornet, lieutenant, ensign, officer, sergeant, corporal and soldier. The military terms are: siege, maneuver, trench, tactics, march, invasion, assault, escalade, encampment, column, battery, fortification, battalion, bombardment, reconnaissance, enfilade, army, regiment, company, military, artillery, militia, cavalry, infantry, volunteer, etc. These are in strong contrast to the sea terms, nearly all of which are pure Anglo-Saxon.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts if your Back Hurts or Bladder troubles you.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become over-worked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.—Adv.

HOW MRS. BOYD AVOIDED AN OPERATION

Canton, Ohio.—"I suffered from a female trouble which caused me much suffering, and two doctors decided that I would have to go through an operation before I could get well."

"My mother, who had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, advised me to try it before submitting to an operation. It relieved me from my troubles so I can do my house work without any difficulty. I advise any woman who is afflicted with female troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and it will do as much for them."—Mrs. MARIE BOYD, 1421 5th St., N. E., Canton, Ohio.

Sometimes there are serious conditions where a hospital operation is the only alternative, but on the other hand so many women have been cured by this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, after doctors have said that an operation was necessary—every woman who wants to avoid an operation should give it a fair trial before submitting to such a trying ordeal.

If complications exist, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice. The result of many years experience is at your service.
