

NEWSLETS GATHERED ABOUT COUNTY COURT HOUSE

Minor Matter of More than Passing Interest

Budget Law Not Repealed

The county budget law has not been repealed, nor set aside by the supreme court but is still in full force and effect, according to an opinion prepared Thursday by Attorney General Brown for the information and guidance of Paul V. Maris, county agent leader of the co-operative extension division of O. A. C. at Corvallis.

New Auto Registration

The registration of automobiles for 1920 is now on, starting on November 11. The secretary of state has requested that applicants do not ask for any certain number for the licenses will be issued in the order that applications reach the state office.

The county assessor will not list motor cars this year for taxation purposes as the new law combines taxation and license fee and provides that no other taxes be collected on motor vehicles.

This will make the license fee appear much larger than last year and fees for the registration of cars will be charged according to the schedule of the law passed at the last session of legislation.

The new rates range from $15 for cars of less than 23 horsepower, to $22 for 26 horsepower, $28 for 30; $36 for 36; $48 for 40, and $56 for horsepower in excess of 40.

Glory Ticket Issued

Adah Helen Burchell and Rollins Leo Kosack, of Sheidan, were granted a marriage license on Nov. 6.

Seventeen marriage licenses were issued in Yamhill county during the month of October.

Judge Geo. Bingham Will Hold Court
Judge George Bingham, of Salem, of the circuit court for Marion county, will hear a case here on November 29 for Judge Belt. On December 1 the continuation of the present term of the circuit court will be held.

Mr. Edward Roseman was united in marriage to Miss Marguerite Oliphant at the bride home in LaFayette on Friday November 14th at 2:00 p. m. Rev. M. A. Marcy officiating.

Mrs. Roseman is the daughter of Melvin Oliphant and lived two miles north of Dayton on the Dundee road until this fall. Mrs. Roseman attended Normal at Monmouth and has been a successful teacher for several years.

Mr. Roseman is a graduate of O. A. C. and a writer for various farm magazines, living at present with his father near Hopewell where the young people will make their home for the present.

Mr. Ezra Oliphant, brother of the bride was best man and Miss Helen Roseman, sister of the groom was bridesmaid. The bride was gowned in white crepe-de-chene with a bridal veil of white net and a bouquet of white carnations. The bridesmaid was dressed in dark silk and carried pink carnations.

The home was tastefully decorated and the guests were impressed by the attractive ring ceremony. After a dainty luncheon had been served the newlyweds were escorted to the station, showered with rice, and started for Portland where they expected to hear Sousa's Band and enjoy a short honeymoon.

Mrs. Seng mother of Mrs. Frank Louis who has been in Wisconsin for the past two or more months, arrived at her home with the Louis family in this city, the latter part of last week.

COMMUNITY HALL FOR DAYTON

The Ways and Means Committee consisting of J. J. Denson cbr., A. C. Detmering, W. S. U'Ren, G. Christenson, and Mrs. E. J. Nichols have had a meeting and wish to report the following progress in caring for details of government:

1 The trustees of this building shall have no authority to make any rules or regulations conflicting with those adopted prior to taking of subscriptions for said building.

2 The building shall be open to all persons regardless of belief providing that the rules and regulations of the trustees of this building shall not be violated.

3 The building shall be open to all organizations for meetings such as are usually conducted by Evangelical Churches or by the Y. M. C. A. or Y. W. C. A. whose action shall be consulted when necessary, as a guide.

4 Priority of application shall determine the order in which the building is used.

5 Questions regarding the care of the building shall be settled by the trustees or by a committee appointed by them provided that no articles in this agreement shall be violated.

6 The trustees who hold this building shall consist of nine persons who shall be elected annually as follows: Two-thirds shall be elected by the Methodist Episcopal Church; one-third shall be elected by the Council of the City of Dayton and the Quarterly Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Dayton agree to ratify the same.

(Such action was taken by them at their regular meeting in the Dayton Church on November 9th, 1919.)

7 A reasonable rental fee shall be charged for the use of the building for "charge entertainments."

8 The use of a room for library purposes shall be free.

9 The use of the building or its various rooms shall be free as far as possible.

10 Each individual upon payment of ten dollars or more toward the upkeep or construction of the building shall be entitled to a gymnasium ticket without further payment and valid until the gymnasium tickets then in circulation shall have expired.

The amount of the regular gymnasium fee shall be determined by the trustees.

11 If any individual is unable to pay the total gymnasium fee he or she shall make application to a committee appointed by the trustees, who shall relieve such a one of part or all of the fee as seems advisable.

12 The first years running expenses shall be included in the construction budget.

13 Subscriptions shall be payable in three equal annual installments unless otherwise stated.

14 Any individual or club gift of $500 or more shall permit the donor to name one room in the building.

15 The largest single gift shall permit the donor to name the building.

16 We recommend that the present committees continue to act and control the building, including location, rules, and finances until such time as the Methodist Church shall pay $2000 into the building fund, and this time shall be determined by the present committees and present officers or their successors in joint session, providing that this agreement be not violated.

Members of this committee will appreciate constructive suggestions from others.

Reported by M. A. Marcy.

GOVERNOR ISSUES THANKSGIVING

DAY PROCLAMATION

I, Ben W. Olcott, by virtue of the authority in me vested as governor of the state of Oregon, and carrying out the wish expressed by the president of the United States, do hereby designate and set aside Thursday, the 27th day of November, 1919, as day of praise, prayer and thanksgiving, and urge that all citizens of the state suspend their usual occupations on that day; that in a spirit of service they give to those less fortunate than themselves such aid and encouragement as they may, and that they assemble at their homes to pay homage and thanks to Almighty God.

WHITE—ROWLEY

At McMinnville, Oregon, on Thursday afternoon November 13th 1919, Miss Carrie Rowley and Mr. Jess White, both of this city, Rev. Hunsaker officiating in the presence of a few intimate friends. Immediately after the ceremony these newly weds boarded the train for Portland where they enjoyed a few days honeymooning, arriving home the first of the week and are now working and trying to act as though they had been married a long time. Accept the congratulations of the Tribune.

UNIONVALE MAN

BURNS TO DEATH

Starts Fire in Stove With Gasoline Instead of Kerosene

During the latter part of last week a very sad and distressing accident occurred at the Grange hall building in the Unionvale neighborhood, when a young man by the name of Batzner who had recently moved in that neighborhood attempted to light a fire as he supposed with coal oil, and by mistake got the gasoline can with the result, that an explosion occurred which threw the flames over him in such a volume that he was so badly burned that he died a few hours after the accident. His wife who was near at the time attempted to extinguish the flames and was badly burned about the face and hands. We understand these people were recently from Centralia, Washington. He was an over seas soldier, having served some 11 months in France, and had been married only a short time previous to his death. The sympathy of this entire community goes out to these people in their sad hour.

THE INDUSTRIAL SITUATION

All will admit that the industrial situation is grave, and calls for serious thought and action.

This paper has consistently held that both Organized Capital and Organized Labor were more or less right and more or less wrong, and that each should, and must, make concessions in the interest of the whole people, and each succeeding strike and misunderstanding between these titanic forces but confirms that opinion.

Things have got to come to a showdown before long, as the industrial situation is becoming intolerable. We do not propose to have any French Communes in this country, and won't stand for it. Neither do we propose to have any Mexican system of peonage in this country, creating millionaires on the one hand and paupers on the other, and won't stand for that, either.

There is a happy medium that must be arrived at, and the general public is now demanding in no uncertain tones that the politicians, party leaders and lawmakers get busy and produce results, instead of producing nothing much more tangible than hot air and chin music.

President Wilson's proposal that he appoint a commission of five, which shall pass upon the merits and demerits of strikers effecting great industries and public utilities has much merit, but does not get at the root of the matter in that it lacks power to force its decree or decision. It does seem that our national congress could create a court of arbitration, before which all warring factions to any controversy would have to go and submit its troubles for adjudication, and abide by the result, that just the same as all the rest of us have to do at other courts when we get into scraps with each other, and the quicker such a high court of compulsory arbitration is established the better for the whole American people.

CAUSE FOR THANKFULNESS

The Good Lord, or whoever has this great universe in charge, has certainly been mighty good to the people of this section of the U. S.

Few of the awful waves of crime which sweep over the country find echo here, where abides in peace and comparative plenty a lawabiding, honest folk. There are no murderers among us, very few criminals and both suicides and divorcees are on the decrease. Bankruptcy is infrequent, no hunger, no soup houses, no pinching want; but plenty of work at good wages for those who are thrifty, profits for those who labor either with brain or brawn, many comforts and luxuries, little illness and the lowest death rate on earth. The future prospects for prosperity and happiness could not be better or more certain. The loved ones of our family circles have been spared from the touch of the icy finger of the grim reaper as a general rule none of those we have born and bred and reared have turned out bad, criminal, insane, or in any way brought sorrow to our hearts. For all this and for many other blessings we should be very thankful and try to do our part in the great plan of creation, try to improve ourselves, to be better men and better women and to do by ourselves and each other the best we know how.

We should take more pride in our town, in our county and in our state, for it is a good country, full of good and noble people with big and generous hearts and the best intentions in the world. Our mountains are rich in metals which the great architect of the universe has put here for our use and benefit; our fertile valleys are full of prolific farms that yield our husbandmen bountiful harvests of that which sustains life for us all. A good state sparkling with the greatness now staring it in the face for the future—a veritable empire is produced in abundance all that men should desire, and peopled with a whole-soled, bighearted population full of energy, pluck and manhood.

Word has been received by the Tribune that Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Clark are enjoying a visit with Mrs. Clark's daughter Mrs. Myrtle Peed, in or near Pullman, Washington. Her son-in-law is farming some 500 or more acres to wheat, which looks like a whole country to Mrs. Clark.
