Mrs. M. V. Swick has returned to Seattle for a few weeks sojourn.

"Phillip, I think you married me for money." Well, dear I think I earned it, don't you?

We are told that there is a movement on foot looking forward to the consolidation of several of the school districts in this locality. The Tribune has always been a staunch advocate of consolidation and hopes this movement will not end only in talk as was done some years ago.

The regular meeting of the Farmers' Union was held in the Artisan hall here last Monday evening. Besides their usual pleasant gathering they enjoyed the movie films sent out by the bureau of Commercial Economics of the State University. This show was instructive as well as entertaining and those present are expressing much good will and pleasure of seeing those good pictures. There will be another such show given on the second Monday night in March. This show is free and the public is cordially invited.

There is another new Ford in town, this time it is the Rev. W. T. Ford and family of Portland, and a brother of Henry Ford, but not of Detroit fame. Rev. Ford is the new preacher for the Baptists of Dayton and Lafayette. We feel we are voicing the sentiment of our people when we say to these people we extend you a cordial welcome to our city.

Elinor Glyn, a British novelist says American husbands are best. Some of us have suspected it all along.

Told by the Bank Book

COMMUNITY PROMOTION MEANS INDIVIDUAL PROSPERITY

It behooves everybody around Dayton to push and pull for this particular community. As business and farming interests develop, it means the development of the interests of every person.

We feel that the best way to work for the Bank of Dayton is to work for everything and everybody around us.

Let's keep our financial strength concentrated.
