

Another Royal Suggestion MUFFINS and POPOVERS

From the NEW ROYAL COOK BOOK

BREAKFAST is too often eaten as a duty rather than a joy. The success of the day may depend upon the spirit of breakfast. The Royal Educational Department presents some breakfast dishes that will send the children to school with a hip hip hurrah and his majesty man to his daily duties with the "up and doing" feeling which knows no discouragement.

Muffins

3 cups flour
3 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
1 tablespoon sugar
1/2 cup milk
2 eggs

A wise woman once said that there were three follies of men that amused her. The first was climbing a tree to shake the fruit down, when if they would wait long enough the fruit would fall itself; the second was going to war to kill each other, when if they only waited they would die naturally; and the third was that they should run after the women, when if they did not do so the women would run after them.

Dressmaking. As an experienced dressmaker, I desire to announce to the ladies of Dayton and vicinity, that I am prepared to do neat and up to date dressmaking on short orders.

Mrs. Clara Thurman, Corner 5th and Ferry streets.

J. E. Proffitt who has been in the eastern part of Nebraska for a month or six weeks reached home Saturday evening last. He shows the effects of the wind, and sun, being tanned a beautiful brown, which we are not sure does not improve his looks. Among other things he tells us besides being glad to get home, is that times are hard in that part of the world and money is scarce. He did not say so in these words, but he led us to believe that a person could not borrow from the banks there, $18.00 even if he would put up a twenty dollar gold piece for security.

Not long since a young man of splendid muscular development was seen in our town with two heads on his shoulders. Both were fully developed heads with rather handsome features one with blonde hair the other with black. The young man was not a museum freak as might be supposed. The other head was the property of his sweetheart, and would not have appeared in such a deformed position had it not been for the young lady's neglect to drop the curtain.

H. C. Wessner and family were visitors at the E. W. How home in Crabtree, Oregon Sunday last, and were accompanied home by Mrs. Wessner's sister Mrs. Edna George and children who will visit here a short time.

IF CONDITIONS should return to normal, the low efficiency—high earning capacity of the people will suffer a reaction.

There will be two classes, the one which has not heeded the advice to spend judiciously and invest conservatively; and the other, which has. To the one the reaction will be in the nature of an emergency; to the other it will mean even greater opportunity.
