Mrs. Georgia Spangle spent the day Sunday with her parents, A. H. Nicols and wife returning to her Portland home in the evening.

Jack Stilwell is not carrying his leg in a sling, but nevertheless he sustained a severe kick from one of his old horses that he claims is not worth six-bits. We are not going to tell what else Jack said about this horse but will say Jack is able to ride in an automobile without limping.

The Bank of Dayton is exceptionally busy these last few days in taking out the vault door that has been in use since the establishment of a Bank in this town, and is having installed a new burglar proof door equipped with time locks and other up-to-date mechanism. If this new door is as hard to drill as the concrete in this vault is, we feel convinced that it will require more than one night to affect an entrance to this vault.

The wholesalers are grumbling at the manufacturers, the merchants are grumbling at the wholesalers, the customers are grumbling at the merchants; father is grumbling at mother and mother is grumbling at father. Conditions are delightful.

E. Gabriel of St. Johns, Oregon, spent Saturday night and Sunday with a daughter living here and incidentally enjoyed himself in greeting his many friends in this locality.

Local editors always say "the party was a great success and the refreshments were delicious" but the local editor has to be a robust liar to be a success. If any man went to all the parties his wife does, and ate everything at them she does, it would kill him deadlier than a mackerel. Nobody but a woman could do it.

Mrs. Tarrant who has been visiting her nephew V. H. Ballard for some time has returned to her Portland home the latter part of last week.

Attorney Charles Andersen was a business visitor in Portland Monday of this week.

Mrs. Walter Senn was among our people who journeyed to Portland Monday.

Frank Stewart formerly of near Dayton, but now of McMinnville, was extending the glad hand to his acquaintances of these parts Monday.

A Lyre it has many strings, Though few there be that play it; A Liar may be stringing you, But you hesitate to say it.

Fred Goodridge of Portland was seen in Dayton Sunday viewing our streets, sampling the city water and between times spending a few happy hours with our friend Miss Ruth Oliver.

The lumber industry of the United States now has its principle producing center in the Pacific Northwest, where the timber resources are located: it is predicted that the pulpwood producing center of the future will be in Alaska and the Pacific Northwest for the same reason.

Friday of last week the writer of this item was greatly surprised and pleased by a short call from former Nebraska friends and former residents of Dayton, being Sam White and wife now of Portland, who will be remembered by many of our people when they lived here. The other people were Joe Lomax, wife and three children from Broken Bow, Nebraska. Mr. Lomax is now a banker of that part of Nebraska and drove through in his car. He and White are brother-in-laws. Mrs. Lomax and children will spend the winter in Berkeley, California, where the children will attend school.

THE ECONOMIC SITUATION DEMANDS THRIFT

DURING the "come easy, go easy" period after the war prosperity was so prevalent that practicing rigid economy was not deemed absolutely essential. However even at that many of our depositors' accounts continued to grow consistently. Others seemed to neglect theirs.

Now the welfare of the country generally depends upon thrift, and of course that of each person individually does.

If you already have an account at the Bank of Dayton make it keep on growing.

If You Were in My Place What Would You Do

As A Tire Dealer

Would you sell shoddy tires on which you made a large profit with each sale?

Would you sell tires with a guarantee covering only a limited number of miles?

Would you "fall" for some smooth sales talk offering you an "exclusive proposition" on some tire whose worth was not established?

NO, YOU WOULDN'T

You wouldn't risk losing your patronage by indulgence in these practices.

You would sell such well known articles as GOODYEAR tires.

GOODYEAR customers come back again. They're satisfied.

Let us show you our complete line of GOODYEAR clincher tires for Ford, Chevrolet, Maxwell, Dort and other smaller cars
