The Heart of an Overcoat is its Fabric

WHEN the "Oregon City" designers conceived these new overcoats they were inspired by the beauty and all-wool warmth of Oregon City fabrics.

For the heart of an overcoat is its fabric—it must have warmth to deflect piercing winds and zero chill.

These overcoatings are woven on Oregon City looms from pure fleece wool. Since 1864 these fabrics have been known for their sturdy all-wool warmth. Now we offer these new weaves and colors that are supreme for beauty and wear.

We are displaying Jacobs'-Oregon City Overcoats now in many new models, of which "Lafayette," the smart three-quarter ulster illustrated, is typical. All have convertible collars that fit. Oregon City "Stormboy" is a wonderful great-coat.

We are also showing Oregon City Mackinaws for men and boys.

And because we buy these garments direct from the mill, we can offer extra value.
