GOETHALS INDORSES IRRIGATION PROJECT

Gravity System From Pend Oreille River Advised in Official Report.

Olympia, Wash.—General George W. Goethals finds the Columbia basin irrigation project in this state feasible from an economic and engineering standpoint by using a gravity supply from the Pend Oreille river and that it can be constructed in six years for a total cost of $254,170,351, or $145.56 an acre.

This is the conclusion reached by the noted engineer in his report, made public here by D. A. Scott, state director of conservation and development, after he had made an extended personal investigation and study of the project to determine the feasibility of the Columbia river pumping project and the Pend Oreille river gravity system.

Nearly 2,000,000 acres will be reclaimed through use of the Pend Oreille river diversion, it was estimated.

"The Columbia basin project is as much a national one as were the Panama canal and the Alaska railway, and will, if completed, add much more to the national wealth than either of the others mentioned. The work should be provided for and carried out as were these other two national projects—by direct appropriations," declared General Goethals.

Because of its larger area, greater assurance and reliability of operation and its smaller acre cost, General Goethals advised adoption of the gravity system. It will, he says, irrigate 1,753,000 acres by direct flow, with an additional 91,000 acres that may be reached by a pumping lift of less than 150 feet, and 137,000 acres that may be utilized by pumping at slightly higher lifts.

528 BANKS CLOSED DURING PAST YEAR

Washington, D. C.—During the calendar year 1921 a total of 528 state and private banks in the country were closed, according to a statement issued by Comptroller of the Currency Crisinger, summarizing bank failures for the year. However, he added, 163 of these banks were able to reopen or otherwise liquidate their liabilities.

The southern geographical division, Mr. Crisinger declared, was the most seriously affected in respect to the number of bank failures, there being 131. Failures to the number of 43, with liabilities exceeding $13,500,000, occurred in the Pacific states.

Failures in states in which the depositors' guaranty system is in operation were: Mississippi, six; Texas, 36; North Dakota, 34; Nebraska, 22; Kansas, 11; Oklahoma, 22; Washington, 11.

The calendar year 1921, Mr. Crisinger said, was the third most disastrous year with regard to number of failures of national banks in the history of the national banking system, there being 37 national bank failures with liabilities of $23,677,367. The most disastrous year in this respect was 1893, when 65 failures occurred, and the next was 1897, when there were 38 failures.

MOVE TO DEPORT SEMENOFF

"Butchery" of Americans By Russian General in Siberia Is Charged.

Washington, D. C.—Chairman Borah of the senate labor committee, declaring that he had received charges that American men, women and children had been "butchered" in Siberia by General Semenov, announced he would endeavor to bring about deportation of the anti-bolshevik leader, now under bail in New York after arrest in connection with a civil suit.

Senator Borah said the charges had been laid before him by officers and enlisted men of the American expeditionary force that served in Siberia and were supported in part if not fully by an official report to the American government by Major-General William S. Graves, who commanded the expeditionary force.
