Last Saturday morning the members of Prosperity Circle No. 209, W. O. W., assembled at their lodge room in this city and proceeded to "clean house" with the result that the hall was completely cleaned up and new curtains were hung at the windows which added greatly to the appearance of the room. A hot dinner was served at noon cooked on their new oil stove and was greatly enjoyed by all present. An invitation was sent to the Circles in Dundee and McMinnville to meet with No. 209, April 21st. All members are urgently requested to be present at this meeting.

Last Saturday night at the Arcade Theatre the contest committee awarded the following prizes to the fortunate winners. Grand Prize to Web-foot, Miss Finnium—Brownie Camera; Second Prize to Grand Island, Miss Wright—Fountain Pen; Third Prize to Unionvale, Miss Withee—Sharp Point Pencil; Fourth Prize to Pleasantdale, Miss Sheldon—Automatic Pencil; Fifth Prize to Lafayette, Miss Holt—Automatic Pencil; Sixth Prize to Dayton Prairie, Mrs. Ray Berry—Perfume; Seventh and last Prize to Dayton, Miss Erma Hole—Toilet Set. These recipients were all much pleased with the fairness of the committee in charge.

On last Sunday night the Methodist church enjoyed a special service consisting of quartette and solo music coupled with a short talk by E. W. Peterson of Portland, church page editor of the Journal. He was accompanied by his wife Mrs. Mildred Peterson and her parents and two brothers, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Oppenlander and Herman and Harold Oppenlander. Mr. Oppenlander, the two boys and Mrs. Peterson formed the quartette. They sang several songs with the negro interpretation to them and were very much enjoyed by all. The church was full and people were profuse with their expressions of appreciation and wanted them all invited back again for another evening service.

"Under Two Flags" as a book is a masterpiece of history and fiction, as a stage play it was dramatic achievement second to none and as a moving picture it is a magnificent production equal if not better than either the book or the play. See it Saturday night at the Arcade Theatre.

I wish in this manner to thank all my friends in Pleasantdale and vicinity who supported me by their votes in the popularity contest at the Arcade Theatre, also to the managers of this contest for the elegant prize I received.

L. Maye Sheldon.

Even our blacksmiths are getting rich during the rush of work for one of our most continuous workers, Fred Anderson now sports a classy new car. That will never do Fred, you can not work every night and get any pleasure out of that car at the same time.

Herbert and Flossie Coffin, former Daytonites but now of Portland, came up Sunday to spend the day with their aunt, Mrs. E. J. Nichols, (arriving in time for breakfast) and in the afternoon took the Nichols family to Carlton to visit with relatives in that city.

A most enjoyable recital was given by the pupils of Miss Harriet Coburn music class at the home of her aunt Mrs. Ella Coburn, last Friday evening. About twenty-five guests were present all of whom were loud in their praises of every number given. After the recital refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed. Miss Coburn is to be congratulated on the ability displayed by the pupils.

A certain business man who ran a few advertisements in the Tribune offering a special bargain on some goods he desired to sell came rushing into our office and said "take that advertisement out, I forgot it last week, when all those goods were sold and I have had more calls for them this week than ever."—It pays to advertise.

Albert Mills and family are planning to move to Tillamook the first of next week, where Mr. Mills has secured work in a sawmill. Albert says there is just one thing he doesn't like about farming and that is the enormous pay one receives for the short hours of work. According to him it wouldn't be so hard if one could work 24 hours a day instead of 18 and get two bits per day more but that's impossible so he says he is going to hit some business that comes nearer satisfying his personal tastes.

"Wish I Had" and "I'm A Going To"

"Wish I Had" and "I'm A Going To" were members of an ordinary, every day family.

"Wish I Had" was always seeing what he wanted, but never had the money to get it, because he had never done anything about a bank account but "wish he had" it.

"I'm A Going To" was his sister. She, too, saw many things she wanted, and it was her real intention to have them "sometime," but always failed to get them, because when the matter of starting a bank account was mentioned, she always said, "I'm a going to," and let it go at that.

Moral—A bank account while not a cure all, can heal a lot of financial "aches" and "pains" and give a fellow that "pleasant" "easy" and "comfortable" feeling.
