Jim Hendricks has never dared tell her the real story

WHEN the Hendrickses decided to move here, Mrs. Hendricks sent Jim on ahead to look up the houses. It just happened that the Wheeler house was on sale at a great bargain. It was a bit rundown, but otherwise it filled every one of Mrs. Hendricks' requirements. So Jim took a chance and bought it on the spot. Then he began to get cold feet. Thought he'd let Mrs. Hendricks see it before he told her. He drove her past it the day she came to town. "That dilapidated place! I wouldn't even consider it." Anxious moment for Jim. Then he called up the painters. Five minutes after the last ladder and the last can of Acme Quality Paint were off the place, he drove Mrs. Hendricks past again. "What a ducky house," she said, "how in the world did you happen to overlook it?"

If some one were to ask you this question: "What are the two most useful, serviceable, and cheapest mechanical devices used today in the American Home," what would you answer? There would doubtless be a variety of answers. But—The Electric Washing Machine is beyond doubt the greatest labor saving device ever invented for the home. That is one of the two. When you consider the cost of doing the average family washing once a week costs about twenty-five or thirty cents a month, can you think of anything equally serviceable and comparably cheap? The Electric Range comes next with its tremendous power in labor conservation. Think of this. An automatic Electric Range which turns on the energy and turns it off when the oven is just hot enough, cooks the food to perfection, saves a lot of labor, keeps the kitchen clean, will keep the food warm eight hours after the energy is off, well, the numerous wives and mothers who use this kind of fuel for cooking say it can't be beat. Washer? Range? Have you these two useful household necessities? Cooking rates three cents per K. W. H.
