All Around Our Town

Of course, if they were my children—

BUT Mrs. Wilder—I just can't understand her. It seems that she was away for the afternoon, and those boys gathered the whole neighborhood in, took up the living room rug and staged an athletic contest—running broad jumps having been the principal event, judging by the heel marks. That beautiful floor! But she just laughs about it—says that Mr. Wilder, being a staunch supporter of junior athletics, couldn't consistently refuse to use the Acme Quality Floor Roc Varnish she bought—and that the floor needed refinishing anyway, and she was wondering how to get it done.

High-Crowned Hats Are Chic This Spring

While small, close-fitting shapes predominate in the low season's millinery, there are many larger hats. Crowns are high; brims soft in outline and colors entrancing. Three chic models shown here reflect the style features of the mode.

Our Little Town
There are fancier towns than our little burg.
There are towns that are bigger than this.
But folks that live here in our little town
Don't know of the pleasures they miss.
And so we're contented to live on right here.
Nor worry o'er things of the West, Or the East or the North or the South, whatsoever.
For we know our own town is the best.
