

Onward and Upward

by O. Lawrence Hawthorne

I wish more men somehow would learn
The value of a great ideal.
I wish that all of us could feel
The earnestness and faith that burn
Within the heart of him who holds
A worthy purpose for his guide.
For him the gates of joy stand wide
And genuine success unfolds.

To him there is but one demand
Upon his labor and his thought;
He counts that progress dearly bought
Which values most the gain at hand,
And so obscures all higher goals.
He knows that only as men climb
Toward things exalted and sublime
Will fortune richly bless their souls.

Lawn Social

Their will be a lawn social at the home of Mrs. Emily J. Nichols, Friday evening, July 31, under the auspices of the Ladies Aid. A good program of music and readings is being prepared. Come and bring your friends.

Oregon

Harvest is well under way in this vicinity. Much wheat is cut and shocked ready for threshing and some extremely fine wheat has already been threshed. J. A. McDougal threshed a field this week that yielded between 40 and 50 bushels to the acre. Some who have seen the crops in Washington, southern Oregon and northern California say they look much better here than any where along the road. A goodly number of fields of oats are looking fine and much of the spring oats. The prune crop is not going to be quite as large as last year but will make a fair yield. Peaches are doing fine all over this part of Oregon with a report of a better crop than usual. One man who was here from Washington a couple of weeks ago says this is a veritable paradise compared to most places he has seen. This is truly a wonderful land, adapted to most every kind of crop, with weather that would please anyone's fancy. The "Beulah Land" of the West.

A Beach Wedding

Sunday, July 26, 1925, at high noon, occurred the wedding of Ben Riekli, Secretary of the young men's division of the Y. M. C. A. of Portland, and Miss Irene Walker, also of Portland, at Neah-kah-nie Beach. The ceremony was performed with the young couple standing amid a large patch of ferns just south of Neah-kah-nie Tavern. The only supposed witnesses to the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Riekli, father and mother of the groom, his sister Marjorie, and the officiating minister; but several of us had a good view of the wedding from the back porch of the Newman home. J. C. Riekli and family returned to their home in Salem, Sunday afternoon, and the newly-weds remained at the beach for a few days honeymoon before returning to Portland.

Unbobbed Tresses Rule at Portland

PORTLAND SUMMER SESSION, July 22.—"If a woman have long hair, it is a glory to her," the Bible says, and the majority of the Portland summer session students adhere to long tresses religiously. In one class, the ratio is 65 per cent with unbobbed hair, another was 58 per cent, and still another was 72 per cent. Even in an assembly held recently 315 girls out of 400 had long hair.—The Summer Session Sun.

Mrs. M. A. Hadley of Walla Walla, Wash., arrived Sunday for an extended visit with Mrs. Chas. Hadley and other friends.

The Nation Loses A Master Mind

When William Jennings Bryan, the Great Commoner, passed to his reward, Sunday afternoon, at Dayton, Tenn., the nation lost one of its ablest statesmen and citizens. He was a real American, always on the alert for the betterment of his country and its citizens, and gave his life in defense of what he considered right. While lots of good people differed with him on some of his views, every right minded person admired him for his greatness. Three times a candidate and as many times defeated for the office of president, he nevertheless kept up the battle for what he considered the right, and his oratory along with his vast amount of good common sense has had its effect in many ways on our government. His last days were passed defending humanity against the ideas of a few fanatics on the theory of evolution and at the time of his sudden death was preparing a speech to be put before the people along that line.

Mrs. A. D. Foster and children of Lincoln, Nebraska are visiting the Wm. Foster family and other relatives in this vicinity. Mrs. Foster is a niece of Mrs. Emily J. Nichols of this town.

Ralph Thompson of Portland spent Sunday with his parents.

F. H. Reichstein and family returned home last Thursday after a two weeks trip through southern Oregon and parts of California. They visited relatives in Medford and Rouge River valley. Mr. Reichstein says the grain crops are better here than any he saw elsewhere, except where they have irrigation. The weather was so hot in the south that they would have to fill the radiator every few miles and then it was boiling all the time.

Mrs. R. G. Hadley visited at the Milo Blough home near Lafayette last Friday.

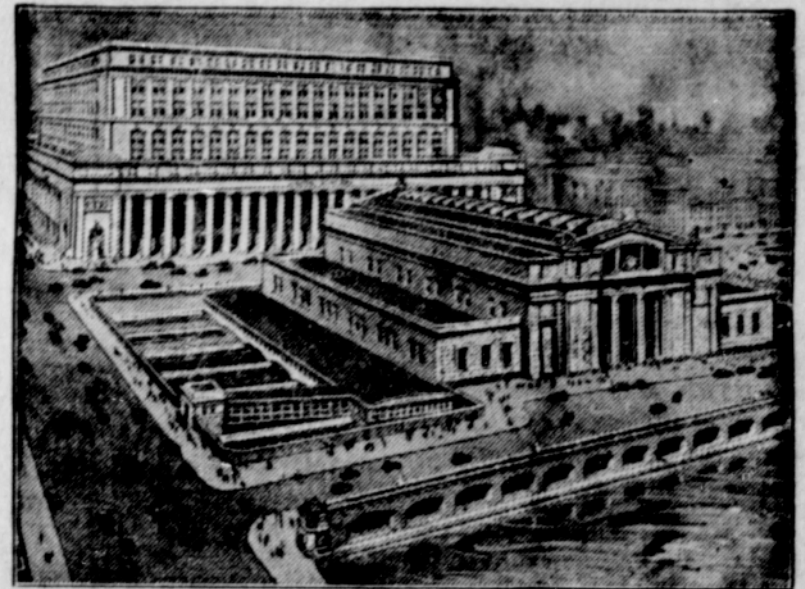

A pretty home wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Gubser, Sunday afternoon, July 26th at 2:30 o'clock, when their daughter Neva was united in marriage to Edward Richards, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Richards of McMinnville. The bride was attractively gowned in white tulle and carried a shower bouquet of pink carnations; the only ornament worn was a string of pearls, a gift of the groom. Miss Myrtle Richards, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid and wore a dress of blue silk; Frank Finnicum acted as best man. The Rev. F. M. Fisher of Dayton performed the ceremony and Mr. Chester Caldwell of Portland played the wedding march. Following the ceremony ice cream and cake were served to about thirty guests. Many beautiful and useful gifts were received by the couple, among them a tea set brought from China by a brother of the groom. Shortly after the wedding they left for a short honeymoon trip to Oceanside. Both of these young people are well and favorably known in this vicinity and have the best wishes of their many friends.

A birthday party was given at the home of Mrs. Ralph Taylor last Wednesday afternoon in honor of her little daughter June who was six years old that day. Games of all kinds were played by the little folks after which ice cream, cake and punch were served by Rowen Dorsey and Hazel and Lois Taylor. Those present were Margie Edwards, Ellen Warren, Loren Crimmins, Stanley Simpkins, Virginia Stillwell, Ruth and David Dorsey, Raymond and Edna Mae Grabenhorst, and Leona and Francis Taylor of Newberg. June received several nice gifts and all the little folks had a jolly good time. W. J. Robertson and wife of LaFayette spent Wednesday with her son Ralph Taylor and family.

The Baptist will have a solo at the morning service by Miss Florence Birmingham and music by a quartet at the evening service, next Sunday.

Latest Triumph in Railroading

THE completion of the new Chicago Union Station marks a noteworthy accomplishment in the history of important engineering undertakings, from which travelers from all parts of the United States will derive pleasure and benefit.

The station is without doubt one of the finest and most efficiently designed railroad terminals in the world. It forms a vital link in the realization of the "Chicago City Beautiful Plan." Simplicity, accessibility and convenience for the traveling public are the essential virtues of the new terminal. Rest and recreation rooms, ticket offices, barber shop, dining rooms, stores of various kinds, and almost every convenience known to travelers, are to be found on the one level, no steps to climb.

The main station is a low monumental type of building with a row of massive columns of classic design along the entire east front. Once inside, the traveler finds himself in a gigantic waiting room more than 100 feet high and brilliantly lighted through skylights in the great arch ceiling. Colonnades inclose the room, the walls of which are patterned after the architecture of ancient Rome. Bordering this room are the ultra-complete passenger terminal facilities. An innovation in railway terminal design is a conference room accommodating 125 people, which is available, without charge, to patrons of the Union Station for conferences and other meetings.

To give some idea of the immensity of the new station, it may be stated that the main building covers an area of about three acres with a concourse covering 60,000 square feet. The entire terminal facilities cover more than 35 acres and will expedite the prompt and satisfactory handling of 50,000 passengers, 400 tons of baggage and 300 trains daily with room for future expansion. Fifteen acres of glass were used in the various coverings over the train sheds, which extend more than 1,200 feet beyond the main structure. A total of 17,000 tons of structural steel, 175,000 cubic feet of Indiana limestone and 10,000 cubic feet of granite were used in the station building and concourse. The foundation consists of 449 cylindrical concrete piers from four to ten feet in diameter, reaching to a depth of more than 60 feet below the level of the Chicago river.

Those who have had the privilege of inspecting the new station pronounce it a marvel in terminal construction and are urging their friends to see it on their next visit to Chicago.

The station is used jointly by the Pennsylvania Railroad; Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Ry.; Chicago, Burlington & Quincy R. R., and the Chicago & Alton R. R.

The Ten Commandments of the Mail Order House

1—You shall sell your farm produce for cash, where you can, for we buy nothing from you.

2—You shall believe in us, and best because we do not know you personally—

3—You shall send your money to us in advance, so we can buy the goods from the factory with your money; you may have to wait a few weeks, but that is our business method.

4—You shall get help from your nearest city or village to build good roads, so you may easily haul our goods from the depot, do not ask help from us—we don't help to build good roads.

5—You may buy church bells and altar utensils from us, and send the money in advance—that's our rule.

6—You shall get all the help you can from the business men in your neighborhood; although we may have more profit from you than they have, it is against our rules to give to the churches.

7—You shall convert your neighbors also to your faith in us, for we have room for more money.

8—You shall look at the pretty pictures in our catalog as often as you can, so as to strengthen your desire for things you do not need, but which you may order with other goods and save freight. Send us all your ready cash so that you may not have any left to buy necessities from your home dealers.

10—You shall call on the business people in your own vicinity for help and credit if you meet with hard luck or sickness. It's your money we want; we don't know you unless your orders are accompanied by cash.—Ex.

O. A. C., Corvallis, July 30—Yaumbill county is represented in the attendance at the annual summer session this year by 13 students—9 men and 4 women. A total of 690 regular and special students were registered for the summer course, an increase of 208 over the attendance last year.

Twenty states are represented by students some as far away as Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, North Dakota and South Dakota, and Missouri. Because O. A. C. was designated by the United States Indian service as one of the schools for Indian school teachers to attend during educational leave, 35 men and women instructors in Indian schools from North Dakota, South Dakota, Idaho, Montana, and Washington as well as Oregon are in attendance.

M. G. Miller and wife spent Sunday with relatives in Portland and were accompanied home by their nephew Laverne Corbett for a short visit.
