Ruth McDonald of Portland, with several schoolmates and friends, spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of her grandmother Mrs. H. P. Newton. A Halloween party, with Ghosts and Goblins, was very much enjoyed by the merry and happy young folks. The guests of the young hostess were Margery Charette, Betty Higgins, Sada Bridgeman, Arthur and Bill Parkhurst, Robert Newton, George Smith and Albert Smith. The last three named are grandsons of H. P. Newton. Their homes are in McMinnville.

King Goes to the Wood
Ethiopia is an ancient country, but for generations its capital has been merely a temporary home for the king. This dignitary located in some sharp peak surrounded by military defense. A rambling village sprang up around it and all was well until the wood of the vicinity was exhausted, whereupon the court and its followers moved to a new location. Addis Ababa has been the capital for some time and promises to be a permanent one for the reason that a foreign element was attracted to this place and made some improvements of a permanent nature, and when the last movement was proposed such a great protest was heard against leaving these modern conveniences that the court decided to stay.

Honor German Professor
The faculty of Bonn university in Germany recently gave a reception to Prof. Aloys Brandt, who retired as head of the department of English. The occasion was his seventieth birthday anniversary. Professor Brandt for many years was president of the German Shakespeare society and is one of the best known authorities in Germany on English philology and literature. The faculty of the university presented Professor Brandt with a portrait of himself by Hellemann. He also received an honor scroll from his former pupils on which was recorded tribute of his services to the university in the department of English.

You Can Mail Bees
Bees and silk worms have been given special privileges in the international mails by the universal postal union convention held in Stockholm. They are permitted by mail while the convention has prohibited the mailing of all other live animals in the mails.

LaFayette

Although it was a stormy evening, fourteen Rebekahs met at the home of Miss Belle Belcher last Wednesday evening in honor of Mrs. Laura Hubbard. A jolly time was had by all. Sandwiches, cake and cocoa were served. Mrs. Hubbard went to Seattle, Sunday, where she will spend the winter with her son Carl and family.

Miss Margaret Holder, of the North Pacific Evangelical Institute of Portland, will occupy the Evangelical pulpit Sunday evening. Miss Holder is a fine speaker and singer.

A Thanksgiving program and basket social will be held Tuesday evening, November 24, at the school house.

The wind and rain have wrought havoc among the telephone lines and much repairing is being done.

'THREE GREAT DAYS' SAYS L. J. COLMAN

Northwest Chairman N. E. R. Urges Observance of "Golden Rule Sunday."

Laurence J. Colman, of Seattle, has accepted the Chairmanship for the Near East Relief and Golden Rule Sunday for the Northwest Region, including Utah, Idaho, Montana, Oregon, Washington, British Columbia and Alaska, of which J. J. Handsaker, of Portland, is the Regional Director. Colman is well known through the Northwest on account of his interest in religious and philanthropic institutions, among them being the Seabeck, Wash., conference grounds, which he has donated for the use of various summer groups.

Speaking of Golden Rule Sunday, he says, "There are three great days in November and December. The first, Thanksgiving Day, the third, Christmas, and midway between comes Golden Rule Sunday."

"On Thanksgiving Day we count our blessings. We count our enormous wealth of more than three billion dollars. We think of our vast farms, great universities and colleges, factories and other evidences of material prosperity. We are, or 'would be, thankful for a government under which both property and life are safe. Christmas is again a day of feasting and mirth, to which we invite our friends and with whom, too often, our 'gifts' become merely exchanges."

"On Golden Rule Sunday, December 6th, we can remember the word, 'When thou makeest a feast, call the poor, the halt, the maimed and the blind.' We can practice that pure religion which visits the fatherless and widow in their affliction. Surely there was never a greater contrast in all history than the one between our wealth, prosperity and security and the condition of the people of the Near East, exiled from their home lands without employment, homes or food, except as the Golden Rule operates in our hearts to make us do to others what we would have others do for us."

"In more than fifty nations on Golden Rule Sunday, December 6th, many dinners will provide for their Sunday dinner approximately the menu that is provided when funds permit by the Near East Relief for the tens of thousands of orphan children in its care, most of whom are under twelve years of age."

"When this simple meal has been eaten and the plight of the unfortunate children of the Near East has been thoughtfully considered, then give, give as you would have some one give if your children were in the Near East orphanage, were amongst the 4000 about to be turned out for lack of funds, or among those asking and being refused one meal a day."

"Full particulars of the day may be secured from the Near East Relief, 613 Stock Exchange Bldg., Portland; 339 Burke Bldg., Seattle; and for the Golden Rule Campaign temporary offices have been opened at 301 Walker Bank Bldg., Salt Lake City; 627 Peyton Bldg., Spokane; Bristol Hotel, Boise, and Y. M. C. A., Tacoma."

KHOREN KULUJIAN

One of America's 35,000 Near East Orphans, exiled from his ancestral home, but happy because he is confident that America, which rescued him from death, will stay with him until he is sixteen, when he will be ready to go out and make his own way.

New Refugee Problem in Syria.
Beirut, Syria.—The Near East Relief will distribute 50,000 pounds of refugee clothing here, to assist in caring for 20,000 Christian villagers rendered homeless by the rebellion of the Moslem Druses against the French government. All Americans have been ordered to leave Damascus, where 2,500 persons were killed in the fighting of the past fortnight. Thousands of refugees are pouring into Beirut.

October 31st there were 30,000 Armenian refugees in Beirut, crowded into an "unspeakable" camp, and refugees were arriving from Damascus at the rate of 4000 daily. The refugees were sheltered in houses constructed of oil tins and "the crowding was terrible," as many as nine people living in a single small room, cooking, eating and sleeping in this tiny quarter. The sanitary arrangements were totally inadequate and water scarce. Many of the refugees were ill, with no medicine and the children were pale and sticky.
