

Eastern Star Officers Installed July 1

Open installation of officers of Curry chapter No. 135, OES, Port Orford, was held at the Masonic building July 1st at 8 p.m. The East was decorated in a beautiful rainbow scene, pots of gold containing yellow calla lilies completed the motif.

Installing officers were: Eva Kerber, installing matron; Althea Smith, installing marshal; Eulla Mastropolito, installing chaplain; Cecile Paris, installing organist.

Officers installed were: Naomi Baker, worthy matron; James Mastropolito, worthy patron; Frances Smith, associate matron; Harold McGarvey, associate patron; Mildred Russell, secretary; Letha Bush, treasurer; Marjorie Logsdon, conductress; Ethel Crutcher, associate conductress.

Margaret Jensen, chaplain; Gertrude Lantz, marshal; Hazel Livermore, organist; Beth Churchill, Adah; Grace Blagden, Ruth; Dorothy Collins, Esther; Pat McGarvey, Martha; Evelyn

McDonald, Electa; Lucy Gentry, warder; Cecil Bush, sentinel. Soloists for the evening were Frances Smith, singing "God's Rainbow Shines For You", and Mrs. Peter Kollibab with "Over the Rainbow" and "Bless This House".

Approximately 80 members and visitors signed the guest book with out of town guests including: Worthy matron of Gold Beach, Margaret Gardner; worthy patron of Gold Beach, Doug Danville; worthy matron of North Star, Drain, Ruby Thomas; and Mary Yoder, grand representative of Miss, in Oregon, Port Orford.

Refreshments followed the installation.

MOTHER VISITS

Visiting from Cave Junction with her sons, James and Paul Peterson, is Mrs. B. R. Kessler.

Silver Springs

By Audrey Gebauer

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Vaurick of Salem were weekend guests of the Jim Miller family. Marilyn Miller accompanied them back as far as Dallas and will work in a West Salem cannery the remainder of the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Rudy of Lynwood, Calif., are guests in the Fred Kitzelman home for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Miller and young son Danny are leaving this weekend on an exciting vacation, planning to get in a lot of fishing. They will stop for a visit in San Francisco to see a cousin of Margaret's whom the family had lost track of years ago in Ireland, then on through California to Nevada, returning home via the Columbia gorge, Willamette valley and down the coast. (Have fun friends.)

Mr. and Mrs. Richard McCord of Sheridan were Wednesday guests of the Del Newkirks.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Hitt of Gilchrist were guests of the Harry Gebauer's last week. Lots of beachcombing, seeing local sights and the Rogue river boat trip were enjoyed. Mrs. Hitt and Mrs. Gebauer are sisters.

Mrs. Lud Vico of Rio Vista, Calif., spent several days as a guest at the Dow Clarno home recently. The Landis lived in Bandon and Gold Beach 29 years ago, and Mrs. Landi marveled at the many changes, the mild climate, and said she could enjoy living here again. The family group spent the Fourth at the J. P. McDonald home in Bandon.

The Silver Springs Sewing club enjoyed a picnic at Humbug park Wednesday. Attending were Mrs. Eulah Elliott, Mrs. Betty Newkirk, Mrs. Wanita Colson and daughter Rhonda, Mrs. Twila Byrnes, Mrs. Audrey Gebauer, Mrs. Clarice Clarno, Mrs. Margaret Jensen and guest, Mrs. Gladys Adams.

ALTAR SOCIETY PLANS SALE

The regular monthly meeting of the Altar Society of St. John's Catholic church was held recently at the home of Mrs. Thomas Haban. Among new business discussed was necessity of furnishing the new convent now under construction in Bandon.

A rummage and "odd and end" sale is being planned for early August. The proceeds from this sale will go toward furnishing the convent. Anyone having rummage or any re-saleable article to donate is asked to call ED 2-3494 for pickup or leave it at the home of Mrs. Haban on Madrona avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Goergen

(Bethna Williams)

Coquille Studio

Yellow roses and baskets of lilies provided the setting in Holy Trinity Catholic church in Bandon for the June 17 wedding of Bethna J. Williams and Richard L. Goergen of Port Orford.

The daughter of Mrs. Art Williams of Sheridan, the bride was given away by Ted Williams. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Leo Goergen of Port Orford. Wearing a floor length white slipper satin gown accented by a fingertip veil, the bride carried a yellow rose and white carnations on a white prayer book.

Dressed in a yellow chiffon ballgown length gown, Janet Dougherty was maid of honor. Bill Goergen was best man and ushers were Phillip Wright and Thomas Osborn. Donno Goergen was flower girl.

The Rev. Father Ervin S. Vandey of Holy Trinity officiated. Mrs. Ray Marshall played the organ.

Mrs. Jack Rice was in charge of the reception planned by St. John's Altar Society of Port Orford in the church parlor.

The four-tiered wedding cake was baked and beautifully decorated by Mrs. William Breeleov as a gift to the bridal couple.

The flowers in the church were arranged by Mrs. John O'Hara and Mrs. Ray Marshall. All the bridal party corsages and flowers were made by Mrs. Ray Marshall and Mrs. Jack Smith.

Serving the cake were Mrs. Ted Williams and Mrs. Minor Meade. Pouring were Mrs. Chas. Dougherty and Mrs. James Cook. Janet Crose was in charge of the guest book and the gift table was presided at by Patricia Goergen and Katherine Dougherty.

The bride's mother was dressed in navy blue chiffon with a pink carnation corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a pink carnation corsage with her deep pink knit suit and white accessories.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Minor Meade of Roseburg, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Williams of Sheridan, Mr. and Mrs. Newton Cox of Empire and Mr. and Mrs. James Cook of Newport.

Wearing an aqua blue suit with white accessories, the bride honeymooned with her husband in Monterey, Calif. They are now at home in Port Orford where Mr. Goergen is a commercial fisherman.

SCENES and SOUNDS OF YOUR OLD HOME TOWN

with Loraine Haines

The memory of the wonderful July 4th celebration still lingers. The tired torsos of those who worked so hard and faithfully are beginning to come back to life, as it were. The famous quotation "too little and too late" could be changed to "too much to do by too few" and would be very apropos of the annual event just passed. One thing that was obviously missing in the parade was music. Not that it could have been avoided this year, but a parade with only one musical group at the end of the line, even though it was the Eugene Highlanders who are always avidly received and appreciated—is not enough.

I believe that without any doubt whatsoever there are at least fifty people in our community who play well and who have band-type instruments. The makings of a community band are here; there are some capable men who would gladly lead and direct such a group it's also believed. So what are we waiting for? Why do we not turn the spigot of the barrel of talent and get going on some music 'ere another year rolls around?

In a recent issue of the New York Times, there appeared a picture of a 25-member orchestra in Westchester which performs strictly for the fun of it. All of these instruments are mandolins of all sizes and shapes; the members are all amateurs and range in age from 14 to 68. Their common bond, a love of music, has kept them together for 13 years. They play for church, school and social welfare organizations, without charge, and are often summoned to acclaim for repeat performances.

We need many things in our beloved, and sleepy, city. High on the list, and nil in cost, could be a city band. We also need some pep and enthusiasm; more civic pride and a lot of TOGETHER-NESS!

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Marsh and two children returned home last week from a three weeks' vacation in Calif. The first week was spent at Lake Tahoe where they leisurely soaked up relaxation beside a sumptuous swimming pool. The remainder of their time was spent in Long Beach, their former home, visiting Milton's parents and friends.

Here visiting for the past two weeks from Tillamook is Mrs. Bruce Cawley and son Jon. She has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Dora Hatton and sister, Mrs. Ray Fromm, and renewing acquaintances with friends and former neighbors.

Geneva and Ira Tucker have recently had the red carpet of hospitality rolled out. Here last week from Glendale was Mrs. Tucker's mother and niece, Mrs. Ida Basye and Peggy Edson. Next arrivals were the daughter-in-law's sister and brother and three children, Norman Johnson and Barbara from Los Angeles. Over the weekend Geneva's brother and wife, the L. Edsons, were here, also from Glendale.

Busy times are still prevalent at the Marton Wilson home even though daughter Beverly is now married and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Ramey are happily ensconced at Sixes. (The wedding writeup will appear in next week's issue). The bustling scene is now because Sharon Wilson is preparing to enroll on July 17th at the Medical Secretary and Assistants' school in Portland. Sharon plans to reside at the Martha Washington hotel where other girls from here live.

The younger generation grangers, juvenile division of Sixes grange are to have their annual picnic next Sunday at the Tope ranch. Swimming will be the main afternoon event and will precede a potluck supper type picnic at 6 p.m. All parents are invited too; it sounds like fun.

Levity: Definition of a gentleman: One who will always hold the door open so his wife can carry in the $25 worth of groceries in two small sacks.

See you next week.
