MR. AND MRS. LARRY BOWMAN
(Patty Ellis)
Salon Portraits

Tall gold and white baskets of yellow and white gladioli and greenery with yellow bows and gold candelabra graced the church for the double ring ceremony as Patricia Ann Ellis and Larry R. Bowman repeated vows before the Rev. William Mai Sunday, April 3, at 2 o'clock in the Langlois Community Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Ellis of Langlois and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion R. Bowman of Bandon.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was elegantly attired in a floor length gown designed of white slipper satin and bodice covered with Chantilly lace, featuring a sweetheart neckline and fingertip sleeves. An applique of brocade roses and seed pearl clusters encircled the skirt. The bridal gown was designed by Mrs. George Chappell of Bandon.

She wore a fingertip veil of a rose designed scalloped crown with seed pearls and crystals inset with a crystal tear drop in front. She carried a bouquet of yellow rose buds and white stephanotis with white satin streamers on a white prayer book with the groom's mother's handkerchief enclosed and wore her mother's pearls.

Candlelighters were cousins of the bride, Rudy and Gordon Sherych of Coos Bay.

Nuptial organ music was provided by Bonnie Jensen of Langlois who also accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Lester Hill of Port Orford. "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer" were sung by Mrs. Hill, the former Mildred Anderson of North Bend who sang at the wedding of the bride's parents in Coos Bay 26 years ago.

Miss Sandy Dearborn of Pendleton was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Bob Woodworth of Seaside, and a cousin of the bride, Miss Susan Sherych of Coos Bay. The attendants wore floor length gowns of yellow rayon acetate with a flowing separate panel, set in belt with a bow in front and v'd back necklines. Head pieces were yellow velvet bows covered with yellow tulle, and each carried a single yellow long-stemmed rose with white satin streamers.

Johnnie Botz, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Botz of Langlois, was ring bearer.

MILLER IS BEST MAN
Steven Miller, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man. Other attendants were Bob Woodworth and Jerry Cox. Ushers were Don Smith, Alan Haga, Rudy and Gordon Sherych.

A reception followed in the grade school cafeteria with a background of yellow pleated curtains with white bells. Arrangements of yellow and white daffodils decorated the large room.

The four-tiered bride's cake was served by Judy Myers and Carla Hubbell of Port Orford. Presiding at the coffee service was Mrs. Steven Miller, sister of the bridegroom.

Ladelling punch was Edie Clarke of Port Orford. Mary Lee Geer attended the gift table while Mary Ann Deets and Diane Haga registered the guests.

Passing the groom's cake and rice cups were Diane Haga and Janell Wilcox, all of Langlois.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Ellis chose a beige and brown lace dress with beige accessories and wore a yellow carnation corsage. Mrs. Bowman, mother of the bridegroom, wore a pink chiffon dress and jacket with white accessories and wore a white carnation corsage. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Rudy Sherych of Reedsport, wore a pink and white suit with white accessories, and a pink and white corsage.

For going away, the new Mrs. Bowman selected a three-piece marine blue knit suit, trimmed in white and complemented with white accessories. She wore a yellow rosebud corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Both the bride and groom were graduates of Pacific High School and attended Southern Oregon College at Ashland.

Bowman is now stationed at Fort Sill, Okla., where the couple will make their first home.
