

BPW Conference Held In Reedsport

The Southwestern Oregon fall district conference of the BPW was held at the Masonic hall in Reedsport on Saturday night, Nov. 8, with Betty Bigelow, Mary Price, Bertha Bergstrom and Ruth Moyer in attendance from the Port Orford club.

Betty Bigelow was mistress of ceremonies, Mary Price led the pledge of allegiance and Clara Herra of Reedsport gave the invocation.

Welcoming the group was Margaret Faircloth, president of the Reedsport Garden club, and the response was given by Polly Maidenwald, 2nd vice president of the state.

State president, Maxine Hayes, from Junction City, was in attendance. Louise Mitchell, from Klamath Falls talked on "The Young Career Woman", one of the projects of the club and Laverna Holmes of the Eugene River Road club showed slides of the BPW foundation.

The ladies of the Reedsport Methodist church cooked the dinner and it was served by the Rainbow Girls. There were 68 in attendance.

Each club had a part in the conference. Coos Bay decorated the head table with doves, beautifully representing "Peace" and the Reedsport club decorated the room in red, white and blue with a special symbol to carry out the theme. Coquille made the name cards on colored fall "leaves" and each person was asked to sit at the one of the three tables that was decorated in the color of their name card.

Port Orford furnished the program covers and Myrtle Point did the fillers, while the Empire-Charleston club furnished the favors, which were little sewing kits and box matches.

The District "Travelling Team" will be going to Coquille on Nov. 18 and to the Empire-Charleston club on Nov. 22.

Open House Said Very Successful

Open House was held at the Port Orford Elementary schools on Wednesday evening, Nov. 13th, and was called "very successful" by Principal Donald Tate.

Approximately 220 people visited the Lower Elementary and about 130 were at Battle Rock.

At the Lower Elementary school Wayne Merrill's 4th grade vocal class sang for the visitors and Ken Nelson's 5th grade band presented several numbers. At Battle Rock the 7th and 8th grade chorus sang and the band played a group of numbers.

The school wants to thank all who came and hope they enjoyed themselves.

The number attending the spaghetti feed and open house at Langlois will be reported later, but there was a large crowd and the evening was declared very successful. The spaghetti feed was "very good," being partially prepared by the men and generous portions of spaghetti, with a "yummy" home-made sauce, green beans, cole slaw and pie made a satisfying meal. This is an annual affair and its popularity with the whole community is growing.

The Langlois school band and chorus presented several numbers in the cafeteria, led by Nelson and Merrill, before the groups of parents visited the various rooms.

Principal Owen Stewart expressed the appreciation of the school for the hearty support that was given them by the whole community. He was ordered home by his doctor and spent the evening in bed but was informed of the success of the Open House when he returned to his office the next morning.

Bridge Players Will Compete

A. W. Sweet, president of the local unit of the American Contract Bridge League, announced today that top bridge players in more than 200 cities across the United States and Canada will be competing with each other Friday evening, Nov. 29. They will all be playing identical set of hands at the same time as they are played at the Fall National Championships in Colorado, Calif.

The local unit stretches from Reedsport to Crescent City, and for convenience of the players the local game will be held in the Legion Hall at Port Orford, beginning at 8:15 p.m.

Entry fees will benefit the ACBL Charity Fund, from which monies are granted to worthy charitable organizations. Since July 1964, the Board of Trustees of the Charity Foundation have approved grants to such organizations as the National Tuberculosis Assn., National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation, Howe Laboratory of Ophthalmology, National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, National Jewish Hospital at Denver, Leader Dogs for the Blind, Salk Institute, National Assn. for Retarded Children, Allergy Foundation of America, etc.

The upcoming game, 17th in the League's history, is expected to top the previous record as more and more players realize the fun and excitement of competing in a continentwide bridge event in which they have a good chance to win the prize for all America. Players everywhere are dealt the exact hands as the experts tackle in the Charity Pairs game at the Fall National. Each individual section of the Continentwide Game is scored independently, but the averages are compared with those of all players in the contest. Awards, in addition to top score prizes for each section, include prizes for the best scores in each district and prizes for overall national first, second and third place winners.

Although the hands are pre-dealt, in order to allow everybody to play the same deals, no matter where played, they are not pre-arranged. They are actually dealt by a computer, and no one sees them before the game except a committee of expert players who study the deals and prepare an analysis of what may happen when they are played. Copies of this analysis are furnished to every game director in a sealed packet. At the conclusion of the game, the seal is broken and all of the participants are given a copy showing the hands he has played, thus furnishing ammunition for post mortem discussion of results achieved. This idea was inaugurated in the July 1963 Continentwide game and proved highly interesting to those who participated.

It is not necessary to be a member of the American Contract Bridge League to play in this Charity Game. Entry fee is $2.50 per player.
