Better Mousetrap

"Build a better mousetrap," said Ralph Waldo Emerson, "and the world will beat a path to your door."
But the United States Patent Office is not so easily impressed. If your mousetrap is better merely because it is made of better materials, you probably could not get a patent. It must also work in a new and better way.

For example:
A man came up with the idea of making towel holders out of plastic rather than metal. The plastic holders did have certain advantages. They were cheaper, for one thing. They were also more colorful.
But these advantages of plastic were already well known. Simply applying them to another product was held not original enough to qualify for a patent.

Even if the change of material means added convenience, that usually won't do. Another would-be inventor put together a map case of lightweight metal, making it easier to carry. But again, a court found no basis for a patent. ("The lightness) may prove beneficial," said the court, "but it is not invention. There must be original thought or inventive skill, not mere mechanical change of what was old."

On the other hand, a change of material might actually change the way the product functions. Take the matter of garter buttons. Originally made out of metal, garter buttons had two major drawbacks. If the clasp was tight, the stocking had a tendency to tear. If the clasp was loose, the stocking had a tendency to slip.

Someone finally hit upon the idea of making the button out of rubber. This solved both problems at once. Stockings neither tore nor slipped, because the rubber button gripped the fabric in a new and better way.

Did this change of material entitle the man to a patent? A court said yes.
"It is this capacity for accomplishing results," said the court, "which has always distinguished success from failure and the inventor from the mechanic."

KIRBY GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Marrs of Fremont, Calif., stopped by Irene Kirby's home recently. They had been to Portland to visit their daughters and were on their way home. Mrs. Kirby hadn't seen Mrs. Marrs since she was a school girl in Canada.

PARENTS VISIT

Visiting at the Wylie Cartwright home are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wylie Cartwright, Sr., from Roswell, New Mexico. They are enjoying the beach, spending a lot of time beachcombing.

MORRIS GUESTS

Visitors at the Frank Morris home recently included Mr. and Mrs. Jack Warner and son of Gaylord (she is the former Doria Yetter), and Braxton Hale, a former Sixes resident now living in Matador, Texas, who has also been visiting his sons, Carl, Don and Glen, and their families of Gold Beach.

MEET SUSAN RAYE

Mr. and Mrs. Curt Gearhardt were down on the dock the afternoon of the Jubilee, where they met Susan Raye, her parents and an aunt. They all took a tour of the Coast Guard Cutter.

DAUGHTER VISITS

Visitors at the George Sparks home over the holidays were their daughter and family, the Dwight Austins, Carol and Randy, of Woodland, Calif. They enjoyed beachcombing and collecting driftwood.

COUSINS VISIT

Visiting at the Irene Kirby home recently were her cousins, Mrs. Carlin Jackson and three children of Springfield, Virginia, and Mrs. Wm. Duke and two sons from Ithaca, N.Y. They were on their way to Brookings to visit their mother, Gladys Kanick.

IN PORTLAND

Ed McDaniels spent the weekend in Portland visiting a friend.

VISIT RELATIVES

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Reese and her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Geroux of Gold Beach left last Friday night for Portland and Vallejo, Cal.,

to visit relatives. They returned home on the 4th.

KNUTSONS VACATION

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Knutson recently returned from a 10 day vacation. They flew to Minneapolis, Minn., and were met by his sister and her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Moyer. Then they went to Verdale where they had a reunion of both their families. They stayed with Lyle's sisters and her brother, and visited his mother. Next they flew to Albuquerque, New Mexico, to visit their daughter and family, Captain and Mrs. (Lila) Dean Bartel. While there they saw many interesting sights, including Sandia Crest, a high peak that overlooks an area (on a clear day you can see 140 miles in all directions), ruins of an Indian stockade, and saw Indian dances. They flew back to Portland and enjoyed a barbecue at their son's home, and saw other relatives and friends. They stayed for the fireworks on July 3 and returned home the evening of July 4.

FR. DALLY HERE

Father Peter Dally and his family (former Episcopal minister here) were here over the 4th. They live on Vashon Island, Wash.

DRIVES BIG TRUCK

This correspondent had an interesting experience the other day...drove a 16-ft. U-Haul truck from Charleston to Monty's Union for the Baldwin's to use for moving. Doug Jamieson drove a 24-ft. truck down for them. Had my son as a look-out for me. They sure are big, but easy to drive.

Oppose Beef Import Lift

Oregon's Board of Agriculture on Monday, June 26, at its quarterly meeting in Ontario, voiced vigorous support of statements made by leaders of state and national cattlemen's associations in opposition to the lifting of import quotas on beef for the remainder of the year

Dunes To Be Dedicated

The Oregon Dunes National Recreation Area will be dedicated Saturday, July 15, by Forest Service Chief John R. McGuire, Washington, D. C.

The public is invited to the 11 a.m. ceremony at Ecol Creek Campground 10 miles south of Reedsport on Highway 101.

Scheduled to be present for the dedication are three members of Congress who sponsored the legislation to give the coastal strip national status. They are Rep. John Dellenback and Senators Mark Hatfield and Bob Packwood. Gov. Tom McCall also is scheduled to participate.

The 32,237-acre area, mostly Siuslaw National Forest land, was designated March 24 by President Nixon, who said "the dunes are as beautiful as they are unique...a mix of desolate whiteness with sparkling blue lakes and bright green foliage. Now this beauty may be preserved for all Americans for years to come."
