Anniversary wishes go to Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Jensen, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Caughell, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Crum, Mr. and Mrs. Rod Loan, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Briggs and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pratt.

SURPRISE DINNER

Charlie Ellis was observing a quiet natal day last Friday evening when suddenly 15 voices burst in singing "Happy Birthday." Mrs. Ellis (Jessie) was in on the plot and had dinner all prepared and under the counter, as it were. The chorales were daughter Darragh (the Ralph Hildreths) and four children, Alex and Gwen Ellis and three children, Bill and Nancy Ellis and friends Dave and Joan Grad, of Bandon. When the Ellis heirs get together, it's a real gala!

BACK FROM TRIP

Bill and Miriam Rasch recently returned from a trip up Washington way. They met her son, Robert Deaver and wife, at Long Beach where they did some clam digging, then traveled to Winthrop. Returning, the Raschs traveled a new highway called the North Cascade Pass and stopped at Tumwater where they visited former Port Orford residents, Poly and Marie Gerhardt, who are reportedly enjoying life to the fullest.

TAKE IN SAWDUSTERS

A week ago Saturday evening, as a birthday event for her daughter, Jeri Preston, Mrs. Erma Hague feted her and husband Orville and Mrs. Erma Wagner at an evening at the Sawdust Theatre in Coquille. They were enthusiastic about the entire performance. Dr. Robert Ley, optometrist, they say, really exercises the piano "eye-voles."

DANFORDS ENTERTAIN

Mr. and Mrs. John Danford recently entertained friends, Mr. and Mrs. Pike Grubbs of Medford, Mrs. Danford's mother, Mrs. Ed Morgan, recently entertained her sister, Mrs. Nola Hopkins, who was here a week from Baxter Springs, Kansas.

HALL GUESTS

Overnight guests of the Ralph Halls of Sixes a week ago were his nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hall and daughter Deana, of Chicago, Ill.

IN PORTLAND

Mrs. Jack (Red) Smith visited in Portland several days last week.

BROTHER VISITS

Guests of Mrs. Lola Wind, maiseur this week for four days were her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley (Dutch) Bryant, and her sister, Mrs. Lois Haddock, from the Portland area.

FROM TUMWATER

Pat and Georgia Dougherty entertained her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Seavey of Tumwater, Wash., who were here four days last week.

SON GRADUATES

Jim Samudio, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Samudio, was recently graduated from Treasure Valley Community College. He completed a two-year course and has an Associate of Science degree. He plans to resume studies at OSU in the fall.

NEW GRANDPARENTS

Harold and Anona Robinson became proud grandparents for the fourth time last week when a boy, named Alexander, was born to their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walker of El Monte, Calif.

FROM BEAVERTON

Jon and Marilyn McWilliams, and daughter Laura, of Beaverton, spent two days last week with his parents, John and Nadine McWilliams.

WEDNESDAY BRIDGE

The Wednesday Bridge Club

met for the last time until fall at the home of Mrs. Mary Yoder. High for the afternoon, with siam honor too, was Georgia (her honor) Dougherty. Second was Catherine Marsh.

VISIT DAUGHTER

Bob and Thelma Wallace were in Salem recently visiting their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ottele and four granddaughters. They were present for the youngest granddaughter's graduation from high school. The Wallaces also visited another daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reeder and two sons at Corvallis. Next they visited Thelma's mother, Mrs. May Rakestraw, at Carson, Wash. Susan Ottele returned home with her grand- parents for a 10 day visit.

IN HOSPITAL

Word has been received from Mrs. Sue Ramey that her husband, Albert, is now in Josephine General Hospital in Grants Pass. They are former residents here and she was famous for the pies she made at Bartlett's Cafe. Mr. Ramey would like to hear from old friends,

COUSIN VISITS

Mrs. Irene Kirby entertained at lunch last Thursday her cousin, Mrs. Gladys Kanick of Brookings, and her daughter, Mrs. Joan Jackson and friend, Mrs. Esther Briggs of Springfield, Va. Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Briggs had participated in a bowling tournament at Las Vegas before coming here.

OLD FRIEND VISITS

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Maloy had a pleasant surprise last week when an old friend, Edna Ernst, and her sister, came by for a visit. As a young woman, Mrs. Ernst worked where Mildred Paulman (Maloy) worked before her marriage, and attended the Maloy wedding 58 years ago in San Diego. They have kept in touch, but had not seen each other in 30 years. Mrs. Ernst and her sister, both of La Mesa, Calif., have taken many vacations together and thought perhaps this would be their last extensive trip. The women, 80 and 81 years of age, were planning to drive through Canada and parts of the states for several months. The Maloys were happy that their itinerary brought them up the Oregon coast.

Until next week...

OUT OF HOSPITAL

Marjorie Fisher of Sixes spent a week at McAuley Hospital with a severe throat infection. She was released June 7 to recuperate at home, but she is still under doctor's care.

ZASTERA GUESTS

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Zastera were Mr. and Mrs. Clem Rotha of Prosser, Wash. They had met at Lukeville, Ariz., where both couples were vacationing at the Organ Pipe National Monument, then had traveled together to Nogales and Tombstone where they spent three more weeks before the Zasteras left for other points of interest. The Washington couple were on their way to Half Moon Bay, Calif., on account of illness in their family, and stayed overnight with the Zasteras.

Also visiting on Saturday of last week were Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne Leseau of St. Petersburg, Florida, another couple they had met last winter during their stay in Arizona. The Leseaus had also been here a month ago to pick up some myrtlewood bobbins Mr. Zastera had made for Mrs. Leseau, which she uses in her hobby of making 18th Century linen lace.

AT CONVENTION

Belva and George McDonald attended the State Grange Convention held at Medford last Sunday through Saturday. Mrs. McDonald said that 400 persons attended the Home Ec breakfast, and that 198 persons took the 6th degree.

Couple Wed

Marjorie Fisher of Sixes and Robert Lee Cox of Langlois were united in marriage on Saturday, June 16, at Zion Lutheran Church. Attending the couple were Mrs. Larry Haight of Sixes and Ike Wells of Ophir. Rev. Keller performed the double ring ceremony before family members and many friends. A reception is planned for the future. The newlyweds are now at home on Cape Blanco Road.

ESA Sorority Notes Events

The regular May meeting of the ESA Sorority was held at the home of Bea Hensley on June 16. It was announced that a Coast Council dance is being planned for Sept. 15 at Pony Village Motor Lodge.

The Sorority donated $50 to Glen Sypher to help with his European singing tour this summer, and $25 was given to sponsor a child from this area to the 4-H leadership camp. ESA is again planning to sponsor a barbecue raffle during the Jetty Jubilee on June 29-30.

A social was held at Edson Creek May 19, and the June meeting was held at the home of Patty Sweet to complete plans for the summer. In the making is a cookbook tea slated for later this summer for all past and present members. It was decided to have a work meeting in July on the proposed cookbook the Sorority is to publish in spring.
