

DEEP CREEK

Friday, the last day of school, was celebrated by a picnic at the school-house which was largely attended and a fine time was enjoyed by all.

Miss Osborn the teacher departed from Deep Creek to her home in Portland.

Ira Scott is on the sick list.

Mrs. A. N. Smith spent a few days of last week at Deep Creek visiting her friends and relatives.

Miss Evelyn Todd of Oregon City spent a few days with Erdman's.

Will Guiles and family of Portland, spent Saturday and Sunday at Barton visiting their relatives.

Miss Esther Anderson of Eastern Oregon, is spending a few days at Deep Creek visiting her parents.

Miss Judith Holst spent last Sunday at home.

John Douglas of the Judd Ridge, lost a fine horse Sunday evening. It fell through a railroad bridge and broke its leg.

Ellis Richey and family of Park Place, are visiting with his brother Charley Richey at Deep Creek.

All the pupils of the Deep Creek school who took the county examinations received passing grades. Mable Erdman and Chester Richey received one hundred per cent in Physiology.

Amy Anderson received her eighth grade diploma.

Fair Play For Business Men.

(From Pacific Coast Manufacturer.) Banker E. L. Thompson, of Portland, protested against the Portland handicap of $3 a day minimum wage.

He said the time had come when those who run a city government should be compelled to treat business men fairly.

Mr. Thompson is a banker, operates a big woolen mill, a big dairy farm and heads an irrigation project in Marion county.

The Portland city commissioners put through the political deal to give common city laborers $3 a day for 8 hours when they know that contractors and business men were hiring such labor for much less.

A business man, whether he runs a peanut roaster on the street, or a steam railroad, is a human being.

He has a right to protection from unfair treatment even at the hands of a labor organization or a politician.

The whole program of the kid-glove political experts and labor agitators to buy votes at the expense of other people is an outrage that reacts against those it seeks to benefit.

Grain Ration For Dairy Cows. A desirable grain mixture to feed in combination with silage and mixed hay is made up of cornmeal, 275 pounds; cottonseed meal, 150 pounds; dried brewers' or distillers' grains, 200 pounds, and gluten, 100 pounds. This grain mixture should be fed daily at the rate of one pound for each three pounds of 3 to 4 per cent milk produced. In the case of a cow producing twenty-five pounds of milk you should feed about eight pounds of grain daily. The cow should also be supplied with all the silage and hay she will eat—Country Gentleman.

SUMMONS

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE STATE OF OREGON FOR THE COUNTY OF CLACKAMAS
Clackamas County Bank, a corporation, Plaintiff

vs.

E. R. Ernsberger and Multnomah Central Railway Company, a corporation.,
Defendants
To E. R. Ernsberger and Multnomah Central Railway Company, a corporation, defendants:

In the name of the State of Oregon: You are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you and each of you in the above entitled suit on or before the 30th day of June, A. D. 1915. And if you fail to answer or appear, for want thereof the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint, to-wit:

That it be empowered and instructed to return to the parties who executed the notes and agreements and who made the deposit, and who deposited said notes and agreements in said bank in escrow for the benefit of you the said defendants, with the understanding that the railroad from Cottrell to Sandy should be built within one year from the dates of such deposits, and that the plaintiff may have such other and further relief as to the court may seem meet and agreeable to equity.

This summons is published by virtue of an order made by J. H. Campbell, Judge of the above entitled court, made on the 7th day of May, A. D. 1915 directing the same to be published in The Sandy News, a newspaper of general circulation published at Sandy in Clackamas County, Oregon.

POULTRY GOSSIP.

The lousy hen is the one that always catches cold and finally comes down with the roup.

Hens will produce nearly twice as many eggs if fed upon milk than if otherwise fed.

January is the month in which most poultrymen mate up their flocks for the coming breeding season.

During cold weather the eggs should be gathered several times a day, as they very readily chill and crack. Eggs for hatching should be kept in a temperature of not less than 50 degrees.

Separate all the ailing birds from the well ones, keeping the former in warm and dry quarters while undergoing treatment.

Increase the quantity of corn in the night ration, especially during very cold weather.
