"For Sandy Always."

Our Greatest Menace

The people of the United States are facing the menace of war on every hand, from every point of the compass.

We are having diplomatic troubles with England, and Canada (England's possession) is to our north. We are at the breaking point with Germany to the east. Mexico is a thorn in our flesh to the south, and now comes Japan as a possible and dangerous adversary to the west.

From every point of the compass!

And yet there is an even greater menace to the future of our country right within the circle of the compass itself—within our own borders and among our own people.

That menace is the hyphen.

Englishmen, Frenchmen, Germans, Austrians, Italians, Russians, Serbians, men who sprang from every nationality are forgetting their American citizenship and violently espousing the cause of one nation or another in the unhappy strife which is destroying our neighbors across the water.

Men who came from other countries to escape oppression and sought asylum in our land of freedom are denouncing our own government and our congress because we as a nation do not champion the cause of the particular country from whence they came. This condition is not confined to the people of any one nationality. It exists wherever a foreign tongue is spoken—mildly in some instances, insanely rabid in others.

A man is either loyal to this country or he is not. If he enjoys the blessings of American citizenship and the protection of the American flag the least he can do is to respect his flag and his country and demonstrate his loyalty by his acts.

Carrying a hyphen around on one shoulder and a chip on the other is anything but an evidence of loyalty to this country.

We are a nation made up of people of many tongues. The very nature of this admixture of nationalities, collectively constituting a great and rich and powerful nation, becomes at once its greatest and most serious menace.

A people may stand and flourish only as they remain loyal one to the other and all to a common flag. Divided they become a mass of snarling, bickering, fighting factions each bent upon the destruction or elimination of the other.

And the hyphen is producing this disastrous effect in America today.

But it is not yet too late to pause and take stock of ourselves and of the position in which we are placing our common country—the place we know as home, and which feeds us, and clothes us, and provides us with the luxuries and pleasures of life.

Let European monarchs and European peoples fight their own battles.

Our business and our duty is to consider only our own individual interests, and those interests are the interests of our country.

If the time should come when it becomes imperative that the United States should take up arms against any foreign country, then we should do so as American citizens, as a united country, as a people who know but one flag and who serve that flag to the death.

We know many Germans, and Englishmen, and people of other nationalities whom we respect and love as brothers. They have adopted our country as their own, have been taken to our hearts, and made one of us, and we want them to remain so.

But we want to see them Americans, and not hyphens.

High Prices And Lost Pennies.

In these days of high prices and expensive living it behooves us to guard the pennies with a far seeing eye.

Bad pennies sometimes return, but good ones seldom do.

It therefore becomes our duty, when we part with a good penny, to secure the greatest possible returns for it. Lost pennies soon mount into dollars, and the vanishing dollar blazes the way to poverty and eventual nowhere.

You can save the pennies and retain the dollars if you will read carefully each week the advertisements in this paper. They will tell you at which stores you can get the best bargains, where quality is of the best and price is at the minimum, where your true interests lie when you go out to spend the money that comes to you from hours of heavy and unceasing toil.

"A fellow dropped into the office the other day and ordered the paper, and we were pleased. Said it was a good paper, and we were glad. Said it was more than worth the money to any man of intelligence, and we were tickled. Said it was the mainstay of the town, and we were supertickled. Said it was the greatest booster and the most reliable town-builder and developer in this whole community, and we yelled for joy. Paid for his paper, and we slid gently to the floor in blissful unconsciousness. Nature had reached its limit."—Altona Tribune.

Be a fool, if you want to, but for heaven's sake don't be fooled.

There are times, to be sure, when a big talker tears off but little do.

Every person on this earth has a creed, but with most of them it is self.

There are times, however, when men talk big, say little, and do nothing.

Remember the children today and perhaps they will do as much by you tomorrow.

It's easy to make a million. All you have to do is to beat the other fellows to it.

Laugh today, and tomorrow you may forget your grouch.

A lot of people make a noise, but only a few are ever heard.

Go to church, young man. Don't wait for it to come to you.

No one is so immaculate but what they may be dirty in spots.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE STATE OF OREGON FOR THE COUNTY OF CLACKAMAS.

Ezra C. Truman and Eliza J. Truman, husband and wife, Plaintiffs vs

Elijah Coalman and Elvina C. Coalman his wife, D. C. Latourette, Bank of Oregon City, a Corporation, Caspar Junker, F. L. Mack, Constable, and John Straus and W. A. Proctor, Defendants.

SUMMONS

To F. L. Mack, Constable, and John Straus, Defendants:

IN THE NAME OF THE STATE OF OREGON: You are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you and each of you, in the above entitled action on or before the 3rd day of June 1916, and if you fail to answer or appear, for want thereof the plaintiff's will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in their complaint, to-wit:

1st. That they have and recover from said defendants, Elijah Coalman and Elvina C. Coalman, his wife, or from either of them, the sum of FOUR THOUSAND FIVE HUNDRED ($4,500.00) Dollars, principal, together with interest thereon at the rate of SEVEN (7) per cent per annum from the 3rd day of July 1914; the further sum of FIVE HUNDRED ($500.00) DOLLARS attorney's fees; and their costs and disbursements herein. 2nd. That said mortgage be foreclosed and the premises covered thereby be sold by the sheriff of said Clackamas County, Oregon, according to Law and to the practice of this Court and that the plaintiffs, or either of them, be permitted TO PURCHASE said property upon execution sale by the Sheriff; 3rd. that the proceeds of the sale of said real property be applied; First, to the payment of costs and expenses of this suit and sale Second: to the payment of the amounts decreed to be due the plaintiffs from said defendants, Elijah Coalman and Elvina C. Coalman, his wife, or from either of them; Third, that the balance be paid to the clerk of this Court to be distributed by him as by Law provided; 4th. That the defendants and each and all of them be barred and foreclosed of and enjoined from asserting any right, title, lien, claim or interest in to or upon said real property or any part thereof, situated in the County of Clackamas, State of Oregon, and more particularly described in said mortgage as all of the South west quarter (S. W. 1/4) of Section Twenty four, (24), in Township two (2) South, Range Seven (7) east of the Willamette Meridian, in the County of Clackamas, state of Oregon, containing one hundred sixty (160) acres according to the Government survey thereof, except only the statutory right of redemption, and Fifth, for such further and different relief as may to this Court seem meet and proper.

This summons is served upon you by publication and published by virtue of an order made and entered herein on the 4th day of May 1916, by J. U. Campbell, Judge of the above entitled Court, directing the same to be published in the Sandy News, a newspaper of general circulation, published at Sandy in Clackamas County Oregon.

Beyond His Power.
"Woman," cried the big, burly husband, shaking his finger wildly. "I can read you like a book."

"That may be," retorted the little wife, with a queer smile. "but you can't shut me up."—London Stray Stories.

Definite Limits.
"What grounds of complaint have you against me?" asked the dentist. "Ground!" scornfully echoed the patient. "I have achers of it."—Baltimore American.

* TESTING SEEDS SIMPLE *
* MATTER. *

Two methods for testing the small seeds, such as timothy, orchard grass, clovers and the like, vary only in the materials used to keep the moisture near the seeds. Sometimes blotting paper is used and at other times cloth. Two plates are taken and a sheet of blotting paper put on each plate. The two papers are moistened quite a little, the counted seed placed upon one paper and the plate with the other paper inverted over the first plate. The plates tend to hold in the moisture, but they should be examined every day until the test is finished for fear the blotters get too dry.—Farm Progress.
