CHERRYVILLE

This weather is like some people, it is going to the extreme.

The watery moon seems to be having everything its own way.

Never mind, the sun will be shining in July and August and that is not far away.

Little Johnny Friel returned home from Bridal Veil last week where he has been on a visit.

The road makers have certainly made some big improvements in this vicinity. Jack Greenwood can run a grader all right. The entire crew moved up to Brightwood and beyond, this week, where they will work for a few days.

Several flocks of wild pigeons have been around here lately. They greatly resemble the passenger pigeons that formerly came to many of our northern states in immense flocks. Now they are practically extinct, so much so that the Audubon Society of Philadelphia offer $100 for a single specimen of them.

Gardens grow very slowly this kind of weather, but perhaps they will do better later on. We live in hope if we die in despair.

Mrs. Sneed and Mrs. Lehnfield, of Portland, are both out on their R. R. claims and are in hopes of a speedy decision on this long delayed case.

Howard Watkins and family moved down to their new home at Aurora near Canby, the first of the week, a distance of some 35 miles. They are working a farm of 120 acres, mostly cleared and 12 acres of it in hops.

Mrs. Shank went to Portland last Saturday and will return same time next week.

Pete Stend has a couple of quince trees that were a beautiful sight when in bloom. It is a wonder that more of these are not grown as they command a high price in the prairie states and ship readily.

BULL RUN

(Too late for last week.)

Mrs. Nicola and grandson, of Portland, were Bull Run visitors at the mystry supper and entertainment Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Reed, of Portland, spent the week end with Hingston's at Headquarters.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Townsend and daughter, Gladys, came over from Estacada to the mystry supper and entertainment Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Hall and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Oliver were out from Portland to attend the supper and entertainment Saturday.

Mrs. Bradford's sister-in-law was out Saturday evening.

The Bull Run Community Club and Bull Run Union Sunday School wishes to express their appreciation to those who helped to make the mystry supper and entertainment a success. Several complimentary remarks were made on the parts taken, especially the three old maids and the three young maids and Dr. Fisher. There were about 125 present at supper and entertainment and the proceeds for the evening were $33.00. It shows what Bull Run can do when people will come from Estacada and Portland to be entertained.

Lester Townsend attended lodge at Sandy Tuesday evening.

Jack Greenwood went to Estacada this week.

Mr. Greenwood received his new car this week.

Lester Townsend and Mrs. C. F. Allen are to receive their new cars this week.

The play "Lovey Mary," will be given by the pupils of the Bull Run school at eight o'clock, p. m., May 27, at the church near Mr. Hagan's home. The following acts will be given:

Act I The coming of Tommy.

Act II The Runaway couple
Act III The Hazy's Household.
Act IV The Dawn of a Romance.
Act V Courtship and Wedding.
Act VI Losing of Mr. Stubbins.
Act VII Good bye.
Mr. Brenton Vedder, of Gladstone, will address the 8th grade graduates.

HILL CREST

(Too late for last week.)

Mr. A. W. Gourdeau went to Sandy Tuesday and took Oscar Smith's cow to Corbett to be shipped from there on the boat to Kennewick, Washington. Mr. Smith took his family in the Reo and will drive to Kennewick over the Columbia River Highway.

John Maronay went to Oregon City Wednesday.

Dan Talbot, salesman for Lewis & Staver, of Portland, was out in an auto Sunday p. m., on a fishing trip. He called on H. H. Watkins before returning to the city.

Maronay & Watkins have plowed and planted the Holbrook place to oats for P. T. Shelley, of Sandy.

GEORGE

A mistake was made in the name of the person in the George items who was ill. It should have read Mrs. Peter Rhul, not Mrs. Peter Rath.

Mrs. Peter Rhul died in the Portland hospital on Saturday morning after an illness of two weeks. She leaves a husband and three children to mourn her loss, besides her mother, two sisters and four brothers. Rev. Givens, of Estacada, conducted the funeral services which were held at the George Presbyterian church Monday at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Weiderhold is recovering from her illness and will be home again in a couple of weeks.

The primary election was held in the club house. The ward consisted of Fred Lins, chairman; A. Weiderhold, judge; Mrs. P. Rath, Henry Smith and Mrs. Stephens, clerks.

Road work has been discontinued on account of the bad weather.

Mrs. Peter Rath visited relatives at Kelso on Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Peter Paulsen and daughter, Irene, visited at C. A. Johnson's Tuesday.

The shareholders in the telephone line are busy getting out cedar poles to replace the ones which are now in use.

The George Social and Commercial Club will have their regular meeting Saturday night. During the summer months the club meets but once a month.

Novel Way of Growing Potatoes.

Some gardeners in Denmark grow potatoes without taking any garden space whatever and grow them in considerably less time than it takes to produce a crop in the garden.

The starting place is an absolutely dark place in a cellar, where not a single ray of light enters and where there is no ventilation. Such a place is difficult to make use of, and this system of growing potatoes will prove interesting to all having a dark corner of the kind.

A table of the desired size, dry earth to cover the top to a depth of two or three inches and seed potatoes are all that will be required.

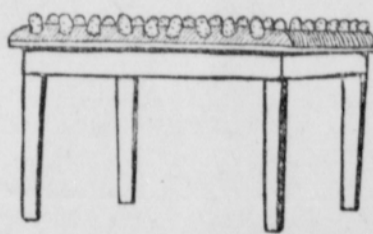

The earth can be dug up from the garden and laid in a warm place in the cellar until it has thawed and dried out. Cover the table top with this to a depth of from two to three inches and on this place the potatoes.

Use perfect potatoes for seed, free from rot or disease. Wash them thoroughly with a moist sponge and dry them carefully with a cloth, as there must not be the slightest trace of fungus to spoil the operation. If there are any sprouts these must be cut off close without wounding the potato.

The potatoes washed and freed from sprouts are half buried in the soil in rows four inches apart. Inspect occasionally and cut off any sprouts that appear. In two or three weeks each potato will be crowded with white points, changing a few days later into little white potatoes that grow rapidly. When large enough the new potatoes are removed, leaving the parent potatoes to continue bearing. Several weeks after the first crop a second crop will be ready, followed by a third, and so on until the parent potato is completely exhausted, only the skin remaining.

No water will be required. All sprouts if they appear must be cut off carefully without injuring the parent potato. The new potatoes are said to be firm and solid, of good flavor, with thin skins.

This system has an advantage over cultivation in the garden inasmuch as there is no deep planting, hoeing, weeding, digging and fighting insects, and the experiment will at least be interesting.
