Making a Name For a Town

The citizens of every town have it within their power to make or mar their own municipal name. It will be good or bad, just as they choose to make it.

We of this town are no exception to the rule, and the citizen who loves his own home will always bear it in mind.

There are many good points in favor of our community, and when the stranger comes to our midst we should not fail to impress these facts upon his mind.

We should take him in hand, exhibit the community as you would a blooded horse, let him understand that he is among a fair minded, energetic and generous hearted people, and when he goes to other climes he will speak as he has been spoken to.

That is the way reputations are made.

But there is another side, and it is there that mischief is too often done.

The stranger enters our door and we immediately begin to complain of the community and of the people. Nothing is as it should be. Everything is wrong and the town is on the way to the dogs.

And again the stranger speaks as he hears.

That is the way reputations are destroyed.

Which is it to be with us?

One Bird At A Time.

Some people start life by trying to kill two birds with one stone and go down to their graves without having bagged either one.

It is a fatal mistake that is often made.

The young man begins his career and is naturally anxious to get ahead.

There are two ways that are commonly used to accomplish this end. The one is to do one thing at a time and do it well. The man who does this advances steadily, if at times slowly, but in the end he attains the goal he seeks.

Patience and energy and faithfulness are rewarded by success. The other is impatient and wants to go forward by leaps and bounds. He wants to kill two birds with one stone. Sometimes he wants to bag a dozen at one throw.
As a result his objects are confused, his aim is too quick and careless, and he scores more misses than hits.

This is unsatisfactory to the employer and in time such a man generally finds himself looking for another job.

The wise employer is an excellent judge of men. It is a part of his business to be such, and it is because of his ability to gauge the capacity of his men that he succeeds in life.

He wants no drones, and the two-bird man does not appeal to him. He wants faithfulness, efficiency and steadiness, and that can only be secured by selecting the man who does one thing at a time and does it well.

It is a lesson every young man should learn on the threshold of life.

A clear conscience and a sweet smile will make any girl a winner.

The hen pecked husband might well be termed a peace at any price man.

Patriotism should begin at the cradle and end at the grave. But with some people it begins at the pocketbook and ends at the same place.

We note, too, that the city rubes are scrambling for the high life in the country.

It is leap year, to be sure, but the boys are to bashful and the girls can't pluck up courage.

The next time you meet a grouch take a good look at him. It is the way you appear when you are in the same class.

Cut the weeds, mow the grass, and push the garden along. The three speak well for the man and the town.

The wisdom of a fool often puts the wise man to shame.

If it is true that a fool and his money soon part company our delinquent subscribers must be the quintessence of wisdom.

The lad who sticks to the farm in youth will find the dollars clinging to him in old age.

There's a lot of good sound horse sense in this town, but we'd like to see it galloping around at a livelier rate.

Soldiers who have families dependent upon them are being discharged from the regiments on the border. In time, no doubt, unless something "breaks loose," the dependent families will multiply many fold. Plowing corn on a hot day is no sinecure, but is a paradise compared to patrolling the border with no immediate scrap in sight.

If you would know something of the inner workings of your neighbors' home, just note the attitude of his dog and cat.
Their actions tell the story.

No matter how troubled the waters may be, if you look you can always find a stone upon which to step or a harbor in which safety may be found. Life holds more joys than sorrows for those who cultivate an open mind.

A little sunshine in a shadowed life is as precious as gold to the miser. Give of your abundance to those who are starving for joy, and the world will be brighter to you for your act.

Speak gently of the one who speaks ill of you, and the world will regard you as a gentleman and him not at all.

The neigh of a horse bespeaks the heart of the master. Their instinct is never at fault.

The "hail fellow wellmet" is too often loved for the legs he has to be pulled.

Keep right on telling people this is a good town and in time they will make you believe it yourself.

Curious Old Clock.

In the tower of the town house of Heldelberg was an old clock so constructed that when the hours struck the figure of an old man pulled off his hat, a cock crowed and clapped its wings and soldiers fought with one another. But this curious piece of workmanship, with the castle and town, was burned by the French in 1693.

Painfully Explicit.

The proprietor of a certain hotel in Europe posted up the following warning to his clients:

"Gentlemen who come in this hotel not say anything about their meals they will be charged for, and if they should say beforehand that they are going out to breakfast or dinner, and if they say that they not have anything to eat they will be charged, or unless they bring it to the notice of the manager, and should they want not to say anything, they must order the manager for, and not any one else, and unless they not bring it to the notice of the manager, they will be charged for the least things not, according to hotel rate. And no fuss will be allowed afterward about it, and nothing will be allowed to deduct anything out of it."

After this explicit information there surely could be no excuse for misunderstanding.
