Moulding Them Into Men

Have you ever watched wood turners take up a rough piece of wood, run it through first one lathe and then another, and have it come out a polished and perfect piece of furniture or other article of daily use?

That is exactly what the officers of the Army are doing with the young men of the National Guard now on the Mexican border.

Doctors and thinking men generally admit that military training is the greatest possible aid to intellectual, physical and moral development. The daily exercise gradually works the raw and awkward youth into a physically perfect and self reliant man; discipline implants in his mind the necessity and the desirability of respect for his superiors and for his fellow men; the intelligence and the high standard of morality maintained by his preceptors elevates him to a higher and more honorable plane of manhood; as the months go by he becomes more and more a man among men.

Young men who went to the border with their regiments will come home with higher purposes in life, with a greater determination to meet and overcome the numerous obstacles in the pathway to success, and radiating to others their own newly acquired polish, self reliance, forcefulness and the will to accomplish that which they undertake.

If you have a relative or friend on the border, rest easily on his account. He will return a better man than when he marched away.

Again the youth of our community are back in school and preparing themselves for the duties of life. A few years hence they will be bearing the burdens of the community that are borne by us today, and it is incumbent upon us to see that they are in every way fitted to cope with the many and intricate problems that will confront them. Education is a modern necessity.
It is no longer a luxury reserved principally for the rich. It is just as essential that the mind of the farmer be developed to the utmost capacity as it is for the merchant or the doctor or lawyer. Each branch of industry is dependent in great measure of the success attained by other branches.
No longer can we "go it alone" as our forefathers did in the good old days.
Hence, if we would have our children successful in life it is necessary that we afford them every opportunity to acquire the education that is the first requisite to such achievement. Keep the public schools in mind, encourage the teachers by your personal interest and support, and commend the children in their efforts to meet your expectations. Speak the good word that breeds ambition in the breast of teacher and pupil alike, and begin the speaking today.

This is a mighty good time for everybody to get busy and improve our country roads. Winter will be coming along soon and then we will be again lamenting the fact that the roads are muddy, and rough, and "getting worse all the time." Of course they will be muddy and rough, and will keep on getting worse, unless we buck up ourselves and get out and do something worth while.
We have never yet seen a fellow who was not willing to get out his hammer and knock when the subject of country roads is mentioned, but very few of them are willing to use a shovel, or a spade, or a scraper. If we had more do and less talk we would have good roads everywhere and the family hammer could be put to better use.

When you have read through this issue of the paper just take time enough to let one fact sink into your active brain. The paper on which this issue was printed has cost us approximately double what it cost us two years ago.
The ink we used is away up in price.
The oil that keeps the press revolving is up in price. The power that moves the machinery is sky high. In fact, every item of expense is up in the clouds and many are away above them, and every dollar of expense means just that amount of money right out of our pocket. A great many subscribers are in arrears on subscription, and we need that money in order to meet the rapidly increasing cost of producing this paper. It is simply thoughtless-ness on your part, we know, but our creditors do not recognize that word.
It don't go with them for an instant.
Do we get "ours," brother?

This conflict between the railroads and their employes has served at least one good purpose. It has convinced the ultimate goats (the public at large) that laws must be enacted to prevent a recurrence of conflicts in the future which have the possibility of a paralysis of the commercial interests of the country.
Those laws should be so drastic in their nature as to force a course of moderation on both sides to the controversy. The people have rights, as well as the railroads and their employes.

A man with a single idea is a crank, while one with no idea at all is often a successful politician.

Little Roumania is wallowing around in the blood just like a small boy in a mud puddle.

And now painted stockings are becoming fashionable for bathing beach wear. Where's the beach?

Soon, no doubt, there will be quite enough war to go round.

A lie is a lie, and that's no lie.

A brother editor says that when a man has $1,000,000 he has to be careful how he spends it or his brain may be investigated. And coming from an editor, too!

If there are any nations that are not fighting there is still room for another splash or two.

About the only thing that is not open to criticism is that which you do yourself.

The fellow who pulls other people's chestnuts out of the fire seldom has any of his own to pull.

Among the mysteries of the world yet to be solved is the distance covered by the normal jump of a healthy flea.
Go to it!

Same funny paragraphs never see anything funny in their own jokes. But, then, neither do we.

Sensational news is becoming so common it is rapidly ceasing to be sensational.

If you are wallowing in gold, and don't like the banks, and can't find anything to suit you at the stores, and investments don't appeal to you, and you just can't find a way to get rid of it, we humbly suggest that you slide up to our delapidated desk and pay up your subscription. Lord, how we'd grab it!

SHERIFF'S SALE

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for the County of Clackamas:

L. E. HOFFMAN

Simply Terrifying.

An old lady was in the same railway car as a party of golfers.

"I found fearful trouble this morning," said one. "At the first I fell right into the middle of a blackberry bush and at the second I was stuck up on the top of a tree. I pitched out of bounds into the farmyard at the third, got caught by the wire at the fourth, stuck fast in a deep hole at the fifth, found myself buried in mud at the sixth, I was lying in a heap of rough stones at the seventh, got lost at the eighth and finished up at the bottom of that dirty ditch at the last hole."

"Gracious me!" cried the horrified old lady from her corner in the car.
"and they told me that golf was an old man's game! I'll never let my Edwin play again."—Exchange.

Going All the Way.

"How's farming?"
"Fine! You know that abandoned farm I picked up?"
"That prompted my question."
"I sold quarry rights to one crowd and rented the surface as golf links.
Now, if I can lease the air to some wireless company I'll have about everything under cultivation. Who says intensive farming doesn't pay?"—Chicago Journal.
