

DODGE BROTHERS MOTOR CAR

Price $930.00

Have Your Car Prepared for Service

Spring is here and a long season of service is before your car. The weather, with rough roads, have had their effect on your car—on engine, tires, and body. To get the best possible service this summer have your car overhauled and repaired. We are prepared to do this for you and will undertake to turn your car out practically as new. Give it a chance. That's all it asks of you—it can't give good service with disabled parts, any more than you can.

Deaton & Proctor.

Gresham Feed Mill

Phone Gresham 561

Mill Feed of all kinds, and Dupont's Stump ing Powder, Caps and Fuse.

Sandy Creamery Co.

Manufacturers of

Mountain Meadow Butter

Formerly Mt. Hood Butter.

Pure, Sweet, Clean.

Steel Plow Shears

Fin Cutters and Handles, Iron Singletrees and Eveners. All kinds of Repairs for Wagons and Buggies, Bolts of all kinds and sizes always in stock at

R. S. Smith's

General Blacksmith,
Sandy, = = Oregon.

DOVER

No grain sowed yet, worth mentioning. Considerable spuds planted last week, between snows.
All the Dover Patrons attended Grange at Sandy last Saturday.
G. R. Woodie was out from Portland last Sunday.
Don Bodley and Birch Roberts autoed to Portland.
Several of the young people attended the lecture at the Firwood school house Sunday night.
We certainly welcome the correspondent from S. W. Dover and hope to see her items in the News every week,

Several Doverites attended the show and dance in Sandy, Saturday night.

The Bluffs.

Alfred Hauglum has returned from Eastern Oregon where he spent the winter.
Mrs. W. F. Severn and daughter, Lucile, spent several days of last week in Portland visiting her mother and sisters.
Mrs. Becker visited in Sandy last Sunday afternoon.
Mr. and Mrs. John Dunn were guests at the A. W. Bell home last Sunday.
Mrs. Gilbert Hauglum was calling at T. B. Milan's last Monday.
Mrs. A. C. Baumbach was a Portland visitor on Saturday.
Have you noticed the increased number of bald headed men in this neighborhood lately?
Miss Helen Milan has been out from Portland for a short visit at her home.
The sewing Club met last Wednesday with Mrs. T. Bowen.
Mildred Bowen has been visiting her sister in Portland.

HILL CREST

Mr. Pruka drove to Vancouver Sunday. He pruned and sprayed the orchard last week. He returned the first of the week.
Carl Power and sister drove to Portland Friday evening and returned Saturday morning.
Rev. Miner, of Sandy visited H. H. Watkins and family over Wednesday night last week and sent on the cream route Thursday.
H. H. Watkins and family motored to Portland Sunday to visit Mrs. Watkins's sister. They returned in the evening accompanied with Mrs. Watkins's mother, Mrs. G. W. Simmons, of Wilbur, Oregon. Tuesday they motored to Portland again and Mrs. Simmons returned to her home.

Lige Coalman is home for a few days trying to get some crops in. This rainy weather puts the farmers back in their spring work.

Notice of Final Settlement.

IN THE JUSTICE'S COURT FOR DISTRICT NO. 13 CLACKAMAS COUNTY STATE OF OREGON
Notice of Sale of Estray Animal.
To the unknown owner of the following described animal:
Notice is hereby given that I, G. P. Herz, did on March 2nd, 1917 at my place near Boring, Oregon, take up one (1) estray heifer, red color, with white stripe on back and tail, is about one (1) year old, milky, and has no brand. On the 22nd day of April, at the hour of 10 o'clock A. M., upon said premises near Boring, I will offer for sale and sell said animal at public auction to the highest bidder for cash to satisfy damages and cost of keeping and all expenses incurred, including court fees, cost of advertising and sale, and such other costs and expenses as may have been regularly made. Sale by virtue of General Laws of Oregon, 1913.
G. P. Herz.
Ordered published by J. E. Pomeroy J. P., District No. 13.
First published April 5th '17.
blu.ca.pril.19th, '17

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned has been appointed executrix of the estate of Henry McGugin, deceased, by the County Court of Clackamas County, Oregon, any and all persons having claims against said estate must present them to the undersigned, duly verified as by law required, at the office of Hammond & Hammond, Oregon City, Oregon, within six months from the date of this notice.
Alice McGugin, Executrix,
of the estate of Henry McGugin
First publication, March 29th, 1917
Last publication, April 25th, 1917

Notice to Creditors.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned has been duly appointed executrix of the estate of F. E. McGugin, deceased, by the County Court of Clackamas County, Oregon; any and all persons having claims against the said estate must present them to the undersigned, duly verified as by law required, at the office of Hammond & Hammond, Oregon City, Oregon, within six months from the date of this notice.
Alice McGugin, Executrix of the estate of F. E. McGugin, deceased.
First publication March 8, 1917.
Last publication April 6, 1917.

FOR SALE—Olive Oil, Angelini Brand, imported from Italy, Guaranteed pure. M. Boitano, R. 2, Boring Oregon, Phone Gresham 2X.

Administrator's Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned has been appointed by the County Court of Clackamas County, Oregon, Administrator Cum Testamento Annexo, of the estate of Christian J. Sindall, deceased; all persons having claims against said estate are hereby notified to present the same to me or at the office of my attorney, O. D. Eby, in Oregon City, Oregon, duly verified as by law required within six months of date hereof.
R. E. Jarl, Administrator aforesaid.
Dated March 22nd, 1917.
O. D. Eby, Attorney for Administrator aforesaid.
First publication March 22, 1917.
Last publication April 19, 1917.

RESTAURANT

AND POOL ROOM

G. C. MARONEY, Prop.
A nice fresh stock of Candies, Soft Drinks, Tobacco, Cigars, Etc., always in stock.

THREE WINGED WORDS.

How the Famous Expression "Swat the Fly!" Originated.
Once upon a time there was a man with a large assortment of ideas, and he went to a baseball game to find surcease from thought in the crack of the bat and the long hit. Now, the particular idea that had been buzzing the loudest in his head at that time was the common housefly and how to make it uncommon.
He never could look at a fly without feeling a cruel desire to squash it. He was, in fact, about to publish a health bulletin indicting the fly on more counts than the fly has eyes, and it has several thousand and fifty. Well, when he got to the game and had just rid himself of the whole notion for a moment and was eagerly awaiting action on the part of the batsman somebody—in fact, a lot of them—shouted, "Swat the ball!"
The batsman did. He swatted the prettiest fly any fan would ask to see. And then while the crowd roared the fly hater took out a pencil and scribbled on a bit of paper those three winged words that were destined in the months that followed to fly around the world and back again, "Swat the fly."
The man was Dr. S. J. Crumline of Kansas.—J. Wainwright Evans in Nation's Business.

THE SHORT STORY.

Its Chief Failing as Seen by a Somewhat Cynical Critic.
The short story, taken in the aggregate, is a collection of 6,000 words that tell how the hero happened to marry the girl. It seldom mentions the enormous number of girls that the hero has kissed prior to the affair in hand, nor does it bear heavily on the previous little love affairs of the heroine. The chief trouble with the short story is that it fills the reading public with the idea that to be happy one needs only to be married.
This idea is erroneous, for the success of a courtship depends not on the marriage, but on the manner in which the contracting parties readjust their ideas and peculiarities in order that there may not be a wholesale interference of ideas and peculiarities and a consequent stripping of mental gears and wrecking of hopes.
Every short story should have footnotes attached explaining the status quo of the hero and heroine at the end of five years, together with the condensed but honest reason for the unsatisfactory or satisfactory results. Puck.

Clever Coral Fishers.

The coral beds of Japan are worked by clever divers in the employ of a master diver, who receives the take as it comes in, grades it and, when a sufficient quantity has been obtained, asks for bids on the lots of each grade. Representatives of the leading exporting and wholesale firms are always at hand during the season the best coral is taken to inspect the take and proffer bids. The total annual take is about 65,000 pounds, valued at $700,000. The color of the coral has a great deal to do with the value placed upon it. The most expensive is "boke," a pale quince color. Single beads of this color, suitable for manufacture into ornamental hairpins, bring from $10 to $50 each. The next color in value is pink, followed by white, light red and dark red.

Commonplace Terms.

A humorist saw an announcement in a hardware store, "iron sinks," and he went in and told the man that he knew iron sank. "Yes," said the man, "and time flies, but wine vaults, grass slopes and music stands; Niagara falls, moonlight walks, sheep run and holiday trips; scandal spreads, standard weights, indiarubber tires, the organ stops and the whole world goes round; trade returns." "Yes," said the humorist, "and marble busts!"

BARBED WIRE IN WAR.

Putting Up and Cutting Down Barriers is Perilous Work.
The erection of war entanglements, even when the trenches are some distance apart, is at all times dangerous. The men slip over the parapet and in the first place pound in the supports with mallets, the heads of which are carefully wrapped in cloth in order to deaden the sound. Two other men carry the wire drum—a wooden cylinder round which the wire is rolled—by means of a long pole through the center, and a comrade attaches the wires to the supports.
The work is slow and nerve straining, says a writer in the London Graphic, for star shells burst often and compel the men to crouch low and remain motionless until the flare burns out.
To each soldier who takes part in modern warfare thick gloves for gripping wire and strong pliers for cutting it are as essential as the rifle and bayonet.
Before an assault by his own regiment the soldier cuts his own wire, and he must then endeavor as best he may to cut and hack his way through the enemy's, pulling down a support here, cutting the wires while the machine gun batteries rap out their message of death toward him.
Thus barbed wire, so simple in itself, so deadly when used in the ways described, enters into every phase of operation in the firing zone.

EVILS OF OVERFEEDING.

A Good Rule For Many Would Be "Eat Less and Exercise More."
The sin of gluttony is common, and therefore much condoned, but like every other violation of nature's laws has a penalty. Fat inefficiency, sluggish mentality, the reddened nose, the pimpled face, certain of the chronic skin eruptions and much fatigue and nervousness are due to the abuse of the digestive apparatus. Rich, indigestible foods in large quantities, highly seasoned to stimulate the jaded palate, are forced into a body already rebellious from repletion. Exercise is largely limited to walking to and from the table, and bodily deterioration proceeds rapidly.
Many an overfed dyspeptic, suddenly dragged by the stern hand of circumstances from a life of physical ease and plenty and forced to work out of doors, suddenly discovers that his semi-invalidism has gone, that a chronic skin derangement of many years standing has disappeared and that a new vigor and zest of life has been given him.
Not every one can spend his whole time in the open air, but a certain amount of exercise and plain, wholesome food in an amount not exceeding the body's needs can be had by almost every one. Simple moderate diet and exercise make for health. These are not faddish food theories, they are just plain common sense.—Exchange.

Matched.

Towne—Met Gabble and Perkins at a smoker last night and introduced them to each other. Browne—Oh, say, it's a shame to introduce a bore like Gabble to anybody. Towne—It's evident you don't know Perkins or you'd see the humor of it.