"For Sandy Always."

Keep the Dollars at Home.

Business is activity. The dollar that you send to the mail order house goes out of the business life of Sandy and the surrounding community forever. The dollar you spend with your local merchants—a good percent of it at least—comes back to YOU in the form of taxes donations and the purchase money for your produce.

Get this fact well in mind. The constant stream of gold that flows out of this section of the county every 30 days for goods purchased from outside houses is one of the chief reasons for the hard times that is so often with us.
This section of the county is made up of different communities. In and between these communities the public life blood (gold) must flow if business life is to be sustained. Divert that flow to outside channels and stagnation and death is the result.

We must earn and keep on earning.
Equally important we must spend and, if we desire good schools, good roads, a happy and prosperous community, we must spend systematically and intelligently at home.

Advertise Now.

Billions of dollars that heretofore have been stored away in vaults and safety deposit boxes are being taken from hiding and loaned to our allies during this war.

This vast sum will not be sent out of the country. It will be spent here for food stuffs and the thousand and one other supplies that must be sold to our allies for the support of their armies and civil population. The articles must be bought in this country and raised by our own people.

Millions of Americans will be employed in this work, with factories running overtime and farmers utilizing every hour of the daylight. Some of that money will even find its way right into Sandy and every citizen will be benefited thereby.

The shrewd merchant will heed the doctrine of commercial preparedness, and will begin now to advertise in the "Sandy News," for it is a self-evident fact that the spender will go to the merchant who makes the most attractive bid for his business, whether that merchant be local or foreign. One of the deadliest blows that our local merchants can deal to the insidious mail order business is intelligent and consistent advertising in the local paper.

Kill Flies and Save Lives.

Kill at once every fly you can find and burn his body.

Observers say that there are many reasons to believe there will be more flies this season than for a number of years.

The killing of just one fly NOW means there will be billions and trillions less next summer.

Clean up your premises; see and insist that your neighbors do likewise.

Especially clean "out of way places", and every nook and cranny.

Flies will not go where there is nothing to eat, and their principal diet is too filthy to mention.

The fly has no equal as a germ "carrier," as many as five hundred million germs have been found in and on the body of a single fly.

It is definitely known that the fly is the "carrier," of the germ of typhoid fever; it is widely believed that it is also the "carrier" of other diseases, including possibly infantile paralysis.

The very presence of a fly is a signal and notification that a housekeeper is uncleanly and inefficient.

Do not wait until the insects begin to pester; anticipate the annoyance.

April, May and June are the best months to conduct an anti-fly campaign.

The farming and suburban districts provide ideal breeding places, and the new born flies do not remain at their birth place but migrate, using railroads and other means of transportation to towns and cities.

Many a gay old fellow tells the truth in his sleep and then has to lie to square himself.

Why the Widow Got Him.

The folks were talking gossip with some neighbors who were making a social call. They were discussing a certain man that everybody agreed was such a fine man and wondering how ever it was that a rather gay grass widow had succeeded in leading him to the altar. "Well, I kin tell ye," said Uncle Ebenezer, who had continued to smoke his pipe without taking part in the discussion, "he had no chance."—Exchange.

Watering the Horse.

Three times a day is not enough to water live stock. They should have, especially in hot weather, an opportunity of drinking at least five times daily—before each meal and at intervals of two and one-half to three hours apart between meals. The animal that works in hot weather on a five or six hour stretch without water suffers intensely from thirst. Frequent watering prevents water colic and other ill effects. Never allow the animal to drink when very hot. Always force him under such conditions to drink a little at a time until satisfied.

Keep Hogs Healthy.

Every precaution should be taken to keep hogs in good health. It does not pay to feed lice on $15.50 hogs, says Carl P. Thompson, specialist in animal husbandry, Kansas State Agricultural college. Spray hogs with crude oil or hog dip as often as they need it.
Germs that cause scurf, pug nose and white scours are found in the sleeping quarters. Clean out and disinfect every hog shed.

Ground Fence Wires.

It is a common occurrence to lose stock each summer from lightning. A great part of the loss can be traced to wire fences that are not grounded. A ground wire every few rods will make animals safer and the losses fewer.

Eskimos and Whales.

The Eskimos use every part of the whale. The oil is light, fuel and food for them; the flesh, food; the whalebone and true bone are used in making sledges, huts, boats, spears and harpoons; the sinews form thread and twine; the thin membranes, window glass.

BANKS AND BANKNOTES.

England's First Paper Money Was Issued by the Goldsmiths.

With the almost entire use of paper currency at the present time the history of its origin may not be uninteresting. In the days of the Stuarts merchants used to lodge their reserves of gold in the Tower, and when one day Charles I., in a thoughtless moment, annexed a large sum lodged in that way and forgot to put it back the merchants decided that henceforth they would put no more trust in princes, but would look to the gold smiths.

The goldsmiths thereby became the first bankers, and the first goldsmith who hit upon the novel idea of giving a note, not only to the person who deposited gold, but also to the person who came to borrow, founded modern banking with an original deposit of £5,000.

The banker gave promise to pay up to, say, £25,000, and as long as there was no immediate demand on the part of the persons holding these promises to pay to have that promise converted into cash business proceeded merrily, but necessarily there was a limit beyond which it was not safe to do this kind of business, and it was always possible that something unforeseen might happen that would bring an unusual number of notes for presentation.

As a matter of fact, this did happen frequently in the early days, and finally the government stepped in and granted the almost entire monopoly of issuing notes to the Bank of England—

TEST YOUR LUNGS.

A Simple Method by Which One May Measure His Development.

People often suffer from weak, undeveloped lungs without suspecting it.
True, small, feeble lungs are usually associated with a small, narrow or sunken chest, but not invariably. By means of the misuse of physical culture it is possible to develop large chest muscles, thus acquiring a big chest measurement, while the lungs remain small and ill nourished.

Again, lung mischief is often so slow and insidious in its approach that the trouble is not discovered until it is firmly established. Here, however, is a simple test which will tell you whether your lungs are healthy or not:

Take as deep a breath as you can, and then, in a slow but distinct voice count from one onward as far as you can without taking in more breath.
The number of seconds you can continue counting is a pretty reliable index to the state of your lungs, so you should have some one to time you.

If your lungs are sound and normally developed your range will be between twenty and thirty-five seconds.
If your limit is between ten and twenty seconds there is no need to be alarmed; probably your lungs are merely in need of exercise, to be readily obtained by regular deep breathing in pure air. A range less than ten seconds, however, points to more or less mischief, and you should not delay in having your lungs examined by a medical man.

Where Knowledge Stopped.

Bill—Do you know you borrowed $2 from me over six months ago?

Gill—Yes, I know that.

"And do you know you have never paid me?"

"Why, yes, I know that."

"Do you know when you are going to pay me?"

"Well, say, you don't expect me to know everything do you?"—Pittsburgh
