TO VIOLA

We grieve for you who blessed us
With loving words and deeds,
You sympathized with human woes
And heeded others needs.

With Willing Hands you helped us all,
Our humble toil you shared;
Sad hearts were often cheered,
To know that someone cared.

O may we follow in Love's steps,
Along the path you trod;
And greet you with His faithful ones,

Around the throne of God.

Sandy Post to Have Front Office Location

The Sandy Post will occupy a new office room this week with the completion of remodeling operations being done by Harry Reed in the room recently occupied by Echo's Beauty shop. A full length partition is being built and a new entrance will be made to give the Post a street location. Another convenience necessary for a newspaper office will be added in the near future by installing a telephone.

Arrangements are being made for some one to be in the office all week day hours to handle news, take advertisements, or give prices on printing jobs.

Annette Radford, Doris Sekslin, and Ruby Ellen Mullen. A grand time was had by all and the group hope to take more such jaunts during the summer.

The Bull Run school closed on Wednesday with an all-community picnic. During the afternoon the mothers played the daughters a game of indoor and came off the winners by a 12 to 9 score. Later the boys chose sides and played indoor. When the fathers arrived after work the picnic was served. The fathers played a game of baseball against the sons. All sides claimed victory for the boys games as no official score was kept. A few races were run during the day. Sticks of candy were given to the winners of the following races: Sack, Three-legged, Barefoot-scramble. Three tug-of-wars were held, one each of men, boys, and girls. About 75 attended the picnic and enjoyed events of the day.

Another local boy makes good story. William, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ganger of Tule Lake, California and a member of the Tule Lake high school stock judging contest held at Davis, capital of Modoc County and thus won a trip to San Luis Obispo to compete in the state contest. This was all accomplished through his Future Farmers of America Club. William attended Bull Run grade until they moved to Tule Lake and Ralph Ganger attended Sandy High School.

Dick Haneberg returned from a weeks stay at the coast and reports a grand time.

A fifty-foot flag pole was erected at the forks of the road in Bull Run. V. Dell Butler is responsible for this new white pole which ads so much to the looks of the Community. The pole was raised and the flag flown for the first time on Memorial Day which is quite appropriate. The pole is set on a block of concrete which is six feet deep and has four inch channel braces.
