Garages Get New Buildings

MOVES TO NEW SHOP

The Gray-Davis Chevrolet Co. moved last week to their new location on the Loop highway where they have recently completed a modern new garage that gives them every facility for serving the public in all ways. New gas tanks, streamlined aqua-pumps, to give accurate measurement and to help to show off the attractive front of natural stone.

A private office, rest rooms, plenty of working space and show rooms, making up the building.

GRAND OPENING

The R. S. Smith Motor Company will hold their grand opening 1 o'clock evening in their new improved Ford garage building with the bands playing, free movies, floor show, etc. with a dance given to wind up the evening in grand style. Be on hand at 8 p. m. to start the weekend celebration that will be remembered in Sandy for months to come.

Mr. Smith has added a $10,000 improvement to his building, giving him floor space now of 88 by 80 feet, new offices, parts and show room, new rest rooms and generally remodeled building. It's brand new coat of paint and attractiveness of the entire building make it one of the show places of Sandy.

NEW GARAGE

R. S. "Shorty" Hunt has taken over the old Gray-Davis Chevrolet garage building and is having it remodeled and redecorated to give Sandy another garage and service station. Expert mechanics well employed and "Shorty" himself will be in charge of the service department. He will handle the sales agency for Plymouth and DeSoto cars, assisted by Mr. Yates.

The new concern will be known as the Sandy Garage.

Alumni to Meet

All alumni interested in forming an association of Sandy high school graduates are urged to attend the next meeting, Monday night, December 18, at the high school, when an election of officers will be held.

The alumni of Sandy union high school held their second meeting Monday, December 11th. Further plans were discussed for the dance to be sponsored for December the 29th at the Masonic hall when teachers, and students of present day attendance will be invited.

BOY'S COOKING

(by Reita Sullivan)

Eleven boys have signed up for this class. Their officers are:

Edward Willis, President; Lester Wolf, vice-president; Fred Gilbert, secretary; Reita Sullivan, leader.

The Cooking I. boys have finished their first project which is making two kinds of toast and figuring the cost of each serving. Cooking II. boys are scoring their food habits for one week.

At our meeting on Friday, Dec. 8th, we decided to have a Xmas Party on Wed. Names were drawn for presents and a committee appointed to decide on refreshments. One of the members is to bring a small Xmas tree which will be decorated and set in the center of the table. The noon hour will be spent distributing presents, serving lunch and playing games.

BABY GIRL ARRIVES

Word was received this evening of the birth today at noon of a 7lb baby girl to Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Shearman at the Portland sanitarium. Mrs. Shearman will be remembered as Marianne Markvardsen. Both she and her husband were graduates of Sandy high school last year, but had married secretly several months before the commencement exercises, keeping their plans to themselves until

Society

(Held over from last week)

At a beautiful ceremony, Nov. 30th at St. Johns Church at Welches, Lois Gertrude Beers, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Beers, of Sandy, became the bride of John Vincent Rafferty, son of Mr. and Mrs. John V. Rafferty, of Government Camp. The ceremony was read by Father Ready in front of an altar banked with yellow and bronze chrysanthemums.

The bride who entered the church on the arm of her father wore a soft green wool dress fashionable with a bustle, and brown accessories. She wore a corsage of green orchids. Her only attendant was Mrs. Thomas Westcott, of Portland, who wore a similar dress of deep rose. George Dougherty acted as best man, and Thomas Westcott and Lloyd Johnson were ushers. Mrs. Loren C. Roberts played the wedding march and Patricia Murray, niece of the bride sang during the ceremony.

Immediately following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast for thirty friends and relatives was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Murray, sister and brother-in-law of the bride. The brides table was beautifully decorated with white cyclamen and tall white tapers. Pastel chrysanthemums completed the color scheme. Assisting with the serving were the Misses Marjorie Duncan and Doris Hachlor. The young couple were at home to their friends during the afternoon in their new home at Government Camp, after which, they left for a brief honeymoon at the Oregon beaches.

Mr. Rafferty is a graduate of Sandy high school, and Mr. Rafferty attended University of Portland. They will reside at Government Camp where Mr. Rafferty is with the state highway department.

graduation.

The young daughter is the first grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Markvardsen and the third granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Shearman.

REA Plan Explained

The R. E. A signed application accompanied by a membership fee of $5.00 is required with a minimum rate of $2.50 for 1 year. The contracts will employ local help from members of the co-operation and in that way one can earn a sufficient amount to apply on your contract making only a fee of $5.00 to advance at present, which is returned to you should you wish to disconnect.

Prizes Pour in For IOOF Dance

(by the editor)

We are faced by a dilemma as this issue of the Sandy Post goes to press. We have tried to give you an extra special "buy in Sandy" paper to celebrate the big auction and dance Saturday, December 16th, stressing the fact that it pays to "Buy in Sandy."

As the list comes in for publication for the many, many prizes to be given at the Oddfellows and Rebekah dance Saturday night, we find that the Gresham, Boring, Kelso and other communities have come to the front with donations like real friends. All we can suggest is read the list carefully and then change your slogan to read, "Buy in Sandy First, but if you are unable to get what you want here, remember our neighboring towns have some mighty fine people in them."

In per meantime, Brenton Veder and Duane Knapp, together with the children of the Sandy grade school, are working hard on the Christmas tree program to be held December the 21st and committees have "gone to town" with ticket sales, which should make this year's program and tree the best ever held in Sandy.

Following is the list of prizes: (Continued to page 8)
