$42,000 OFFERED WINNERS AT FAIR

Premium lists for the Oregon state fair, caught in the deluge of printing due to the new laws, are now being distributed to several thousand potential exhibitors. The list for the 80th fair—September 1 to 7, inclusive—offers more than $42,000 in premiums.

The total cash prizes for open class competition are about the same as last year and will be distributed in these departments: Draft horses, beef cattle, dairy cattle, sheep, goats, swine, poultry, pigeons, rabbits, honey and bees, fruits and vegetables, grains, seeds, art, flowers, baking and textiles. Another division, photographic art, carries ribbons only.

Separate premium lists for both the Future Farmers and the 4-H clubbers will be off the press about July 1.

Awards in the poultry show will be continued on the same basis as in 1940, when these premiums were set up on an entirely new plan. However, poultry premiums have been boosted in some instances.

Banners for premier breeder and premier exhibitor in all breeds of draft horses and cattle will be awarded by the judges. Also in the grain show, honey show, fruit show and floral show sweepstake banners will be awarded.

In addition to the cash premiums to be paid by the fair, a record number of special awards have been offered by breed associations. Also a number of special awards are offered for the winners in domestic baking and canning competitions.

All entries on livestock should be in the fair office at Salem not later than August 23; the deadline for poultry entries is August 26.

The fair management urges that old exhibitors as well as new ones read the premium book carefully this year, as a number of
