Legion Post To Open New Hall At Estacada

The Carl Douglas Post of the American Legion plan to dedicate their new hall in Estacada on Monday evening, May 25th, at eight o'clock.

Ex-mayor Carson, state commander, the Department Commander, and the District Commander will be present for this occasion. The program and speeches are open to any member of the Legion, the Auxiliary and their families.

The building of the hall was made possible by the "Benjamin Franklin" fund, sponsored by the Auxiliary. This thousand dollars, matched with the Legion's donation of labor, grew into a hall any post could well be proud to call home.

Steel Ban Hits Many Items Used On Farms

The war production board's recent action prohibiting the use of iron and steel in the manufacture of more than 400 items, will affect many articles widely used in agriculture, the Oregon USDA war board reports.

The order provides that for the next 90 days, manufacturers may make up to 75 per cent of the average monthly 1941 production of the specified items. After that period, no more iron and steel can be used to manufacture the items named.

Among iron and steel articles affected by the order, and which farmers will have to do without for the "duration," after present supplies are exhausted are:

Cattle stanchions, chicken crates, chick feeders, corn cribs, culverts, feed troughs, fence posts, grain storage bins, silos, dipping and watering tanks, storage tanks, wagon bodies and wheelbarrows.

Metal roofing and siding also will no longer be available, except for maintenance and repair work, the war board reports.

Oregon's plan to conserve farm machinery thru encouraging joint use and ownership of equipment has received nationwide recognition, the state USDA war board reports.

No 'Tickee' - No Gas??

Motorists should check now to be sure they have their automobile registration certificates, in case these are demanded by the rationing board before gasoline ration cards are issued, warns the Oregon state motor association. One sure way that the board can prevent duplication in the issuance of ration cards is to stamp each car registration certificate.

Such a program is being followed in the east and probably will be used in Oregon and Washington.

Motorists who do not have 1942 registration cards can secure duplicates by filing a special form with the secretary of state's office and paying a fee of 50 cents.

Controlled Burning Is Extended To May 31

Controlled burning under permit will be allowed up to and including May 31st within the defense area of the state, according to authorization received recently by State Forester N. S. Rogers from Col. J. B. Conny, IX Army Corps, Fort Lewis. The area involved includes western Oregon and that part of eastern Oregon lying west of the Southern Pacific railway. This new order cancels the former Army notification that all burning was to cease on May 14th.

"There will be strict enforcement of the permit requirements," stated the forester, "and those desiring to burn should contact the local wardens. Since the object of this order is to prevent a smoke nuisance subsequent to June 1 that might interfere with army maneuvers and air activities it is essential that the burning be completed by the end of the month."

Mr. Rogers also stated that this order referred only to the defense area of the state and that other regions were not affected. Elsewhere, he said, burning activities can be carried out subsequent to the deadline date but permits must be secured.

Registration For Gas Rationing Soon Due

Commodity rationing continues to command a lion's share of attention in Clackamas county. In preparation for the gasoline card registration to be conducted Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 28, 29 and 30, Superintendent Woodworth has sent notices to clerks or board chairmen of the county's school districts to assume local responsibility for the sign-up.

Since all but four of the 110 schools will have been dismissed for the summer months, district officers and citizens must handle the job. Woodworth stated, instructions will be given at conferences to be held thru-out the country within a few days.

Local registration will be at the Sandy grade school between the hours of 9 a.m. and 7 p.m. on May 28, 29 and 30.

Graduates Needed By Commission For Jobs

A new series of examinations for typists and stenographers on a continuous recruitment plan under the merit system was announced recently by Prof. E. W. Griffith, supervisor for the Board of Examiners for the state unemployment compensation commission.

Those passing the new tests, which will be given at various times in different cities, will be placed on eligible lists for jobs with the unemployment commission and the United States employment service.

With no actual experience required under the new qualifications, a special appeal is being directed to high school graduates who have had commercial training. The new scale of pay starts at $95 a month for stenographers and $90 for typists.

Applications, which also may be secured at 22 employment offices, must be submitted to the Board of Examiners, 701 Spaulding Building, Portland. When a group of applicants from any town is approved, an examiner will be sent to give the tests.

Ear Examination Given Grade School Pupils

During the past three weeks Dr. Gardner of the State Board of Health has made a complete ear examination of all the students at Sandy Grade School in conjunction with the county health department.

The examination showed 3 per cent of the students to have defective hearing, which average is also state-wide. Dr. Gardner contacted the parents of these children about having the defects remedied.

The chief source of trouble was in most cases the tonsils, which he advised having removed at once.

Sandy Boys Make Fine Record Building Models

The Industrial Arts department of the Sandy high school for the past six weeks has been engaged in building model aircraft for the Bureau of Aeronautics of the U. S. Navy. All students in this department dropped personal projects to aid in this vital wartime project.

One hundred models of fifty different types of aircraft have been built here for training the armed forces in plane recognition and studying concentration of fire. The planes made include American, British, Japanese, German, Italian and Russian models and are made on the ratio of 1 to 72 of the exact models. At 35 feet these models represent a real plane at one-half mile distance.

Fifty-four boys will receive certificates issued by the Bureau of Aeronautics for their work.

Women To Meet Test

State-wide plans to use the extensive organizations which conducted the house-to-house women's occupational census, first of its kind ever to be made in the United States as a farm labor recruitment body cooperating with area offices of the United States employment service, were announced this week by Mrs. Carol Brodie, Clackamas county chairman of the Oregon Board for Mobilization of Women.

By cooperating with the employment service in its crucial labor supply efforts, Oregon women can fulfill promises to work as needed in the state's offices, factories, and fields. We made American history by successfully mobilizing about 80 percent of our women, and now we are in a position to show the rest of the country how such state-wide registration can be used.

State director L. C. Stoll explained that mobilization chairmen will be called upon to serve again as county leaders in the recruiting of women workers, including applicants for training courses in war industries, employees for offices and factories, and women in the berry and bean fields.

Mobilization chairmen will be invited to attend county meetings with the agricultural labor committee, which consists of the following persons: Glenn Cumberland, R. A. Blyth, J. J. Inskeep, Ralph Durett, James Mellien and Harold Beshue.

The first "acid" test of the new plan is expected to come in the next week or two when more than 50,000 men, women and children, mostly in family groups, will go into western Oregon fields to harvest what is expected to be one of the largest berry crops in recent years.

Women and students registered in recent months will be called upon by 22 full-time employment offices and many other temporary farm offices only after the community labor supply and available migratory workers have been exhausted, according to farm placement officers of the employment service. Younger children are expected to work only in family groups or under adequate supervision.

Good Fishin' in Watertown

Uncle Sam is making an urgent plea for all kinds of scrap to be used in our war effort. As the salvage program gets under way, these three pals of Watertown, Mass., have formed a junk-collecting club and find that the Charles River has a bottom covered with stuff needed to put a dent in the Axis. The boys fished up everything except fish.
