Select Cockerels Early to Find Best Breeders

Mid-summer rather than fall is the time to start selecting breeding stock for the coming season especially cockerels says Noel Bennion, extension poultry specialist at OSC. Commercial poultry producers are interested in obtaining fast growing, rapid feathering, early maturing stock that will possess large body size at the time pullets start to lay.

To identify bird that possess these desirable characteristics it is necessary to examine the prospective breeders at least twice during the growing period, once at 7 to 8 weeks of age and again at 20 to 22 weeks of age as the birds reach sexual maturity, Bennion explains.

At the first examination the large, vigorous, fast growing, rapid feathering birds that show superior meat production traits can be marked with leg or wing bands. There will usually be a wide variation in the flock at this age. It is impossible to identify the birds that are making the best early growth and gains if the breeders are not selected before the flock reaches maturity.

The prospective breeders that possess these desirable characteristics at an early age and then continue to show the same traits at 20 to 22 weeks of age make the most desirable breeders poultrymen have found.

THE LOW DOWN
HICKORY GROVE

Every day you read about another convention in your town or elsewhere, and in the same paper you see where you should stay at home on account of crowded trains. And unless you have important business, it is okay and proper to stay home, so that the railroads can move the guns, and 1000 other things the soldiers and sailors and leathernecks have gotta have—if we are to keep Tojo and Adolph at arm's length.

A convention of beauticians being held in Chicago, or elsewhere, where the beautifier must travel a thousand or 2 thousand miles is a 100 percent loss—except to the "lady intriguers." "Lady intriguers" is our name beauty shoppe folks use to make here around Hickory for the mama and the girls imagine they are getting something for their mazzuma that will give 'em appeal, but which instead of doing so is working vice versa. You take a fresh and glistening permanent on mama who is hurrying home via a side street and carrying her hat, and you see what I mean by vice versa.

Give the old "Iron Horse" half a chance and he will do a skookum job. There is gonna be plenty of time for a convention, with new clothes and a spree, later on. Yours with the low down, JOE SERRA.

Republicans Win New York Beachhead On Invasion Day

Democrats were stunned by a crushing defeat suffered on "Invasion Day," in a New York City Congressional district which had been Democratic for 63 years.

Republicans hailed the election of Ellsworth B. Buck in the 11th district over Thomas V. Cantwell, a Democrat who had American Labor party support, as an omen of victory throughout the nation in November.

Buck polled 14,269 votes against 10,764 for Cantwell, whose vote was made up of 8,567 Democratic and 2,197 American Labor party ballots. Buck's vote was 57% of the total vote cast. This constituted a gain of 15% in vote percentage in two years.

What was most distressing to Democrats was the apparent rejection of their No. 1 argument for the fourth term: Don't desert the commander in chief in time of war.

If voters cast their ballots against the commander in chief on invasion day, Democratic leaders acknowledged that they cannot be expected to be swayed by appeals not to change horses in the middle of the stream on election day.

The Republican victory in a traditionally Democratic district in New York city adds to the tangible evidence of the Republican trend registered in recent months in special congressional elections in Colorado, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Kansas, Missouri and other states.

NOT MUCH LEFT FOR SUPPORT OF NEW DEAL

From the way legitimate labor, farmers, industrialists, small business men such as grocers, meat market operators, etc., are deserting the Roosevelt support for a fourth term it appears that the only support the New Deal can count on now is the CIO radical labor movement which is an outgrowth of the New Deal and fathered and mothered by Franklin D. and Eleanor Roosevelt, and the communists. Outside these two organizations and the New Deal payrollers, several million strong, there seems to be no real support left for the New Deal. But—so far as financial aid is concerned—the CIO will, if necessary, furnish millions in cash and if the purchasing of votes by New Dealers can be continued as in the past this may prove to catch more suckers, but in the end with the concerted opposition to be found everywhere this year we are certain that after the November election the New Deal will be a dead pigeon.—Quincy, Ill. Record.

Alex Bews of Eagle Creek was in town Thursday and took advantage of the chance to renew his subscription to the Post for another year.
