High School Test Plan Ready For Final Action

Oregon will have a high school testing program relating to college entrance, comparable to that developed in Ohio under the leadership of Ray G. Wood recognized testing specialist if a plan drawn up by the high school relations committee of the state system of higher education is approved by the secondary school executives in their October conference.

The plan has just been approved by the state board of higher education which provided an appropriation to start the program contingent upon the acceptance of the plan by the state's school leaders.

Dean E. B. Lemon chairman of the high school relations committee says the program consists of three main features. One calls for a general test for high school seniors applying for state board tuition scholarships rather than basing selection entirely on high school record and recommendations.

A second provision is for a subject matter test in basic field to be given at the end of the junior year to those contemplating college. A third feature is a general ability test to measure capacity and adaptability for college training.

The state department of education and the high schools would cooperate in making the plan largely self supporting eventually under the program adopted.

THE LOW DOWN from HICKORY GROVE

I just been reading about a coupla guys out west, they run railroads. These 2 gents didn't scam for cover when a U. S. A. attorney general hopped 'em and threatened 'em. They unlimbered their own shootin' irons And you know, so long as our country has fellows like these 2 we are not gonna crack up. One of the 2 was Mr. Oamba Jeffers of the Union Pacific and the other was Mr. San Francisco Mercier of the Southern Pacific. They were talking about this law suit the Govt is cookin' up against the roads. It is a lame excuse, dressed up in legal vernac to talk about during this election year. If more people in business, head men, would wade in and swing haymakers and catch a few more Bureau Boys on the chin, in the first round, we would not see so much irritating meddling with everybody's business, small or big, ocean to ocean.

Yours with the low down,
JOE SERRA.

Farmers who have experienced difficulty in preventing rust accumulation on the moldboard plow, the disc harrow and other pieces of farm machinery may be able to eliminate this trouble by using one of two new products recently introduced. Both are easily applied by a brush or by spraying, are easily removed in using the implement or by washing with kerosene and present rust for a year after application.
