GOVERNOR'S MANSION

South Carolina's governor's mansion at Columbia is clothed in history and romance that links the old and the new South. Built in 1855, it was originally the officers' barracks of the Arsenal Academy. It escaped the fire that swept through the city that year and came through the War Between the States unscathed. Simple in construction, it is cooled by dense foliage of the beautiful trees surrounding it. War Bonds have maintained a defense against injury to this historic gem and will guard it safely to peace.

Ivan Barker is treating the floor of the drug store to a coat of fresh paint.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Linn and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rehberg attended a joint installation of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs at Estacada Tuesday night. Over one hundred people were present and everybody reports a fine time.

Don Zimmerman of Milwaukee was in town the later part of the week visiting at the Orval Butler home. Don is just back from service with the armed forces in the European area.

D. B. Lauzon, an old automobile man, is planning on opening a modern body and fender shop at his place east of Sady. He is endeavoring to procure the necessary equipment and as soon as it can be secured and installed he will open for business.

Mrs. Faith Craft of the Dover district has received word that her son Robert who was reported as missing some time ago is a prisoner of war in Germany.

Robert Haselwander arrived home Thursday morning from an extended voyage with the merchant marine.

Mrs. Elizabeth Galdibina of Anulaf, Oregon is visiting at the home of her daughter Mrs. Agnes Barker for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Luke Walker arrived recently from California to visit a short time with Sandy friends.

Mrs. Ruby Loundree celebrated her birthday Wednesday and was honored with a party attended by the postoffice force and a few friends. Everybody reports a fine time and departed wishing her many more happy birthdays.

Mrs. J. R. Hall suffered a light stroke the latter part of the week. She is resting easily and showing considerable improvement. She is at her home in Sandy.

The Young adult Sunday school class of the Sandy Community church had a party at the Wessling home the latter part of the week. About twenty-five people attended and spent the time playing games and visiting. Delicious refreshments were served and everybody reports a fine time.

A party comprising Mrs. Harriet Meinig, Mrs. Manda Colson, Mrs. Margaret Kottzman, Mrs. Lola Hafley and Mrs. Lila Sherman attended a public installation of the Rebekahs at Vested Lodge No. 3 in Portland last Tuesday evening. They report a large crowd present and a very enjoyable time.

Wanted! Civic individuals or chamber of commerce or city council or some civic minded person to 'enlist' in supervising a tin can drive at Sandy. The Boy Scouts have helped splendidly in helping bring paper to the Miller-Troy porch from which some 12-tons have already been taken. But the boys cannot do it all. Rev. Hafley has given much time. Jerry Durham has tied hundreds of pounds that, for lack of string mostly, the donors brot untied. Last week 3 1/2 tons were sent to Portland. The drastic need of tin and paper should arouse every citizen to action, and a place for a tin center should be donated. The school is not open all the time. A handy place up town is needed.

Children's Waste Paper Turns Back Into Trees

Everybody knows much paper comes from trees — but children who have brought more than 85,000 pounds of waste paper to Kid's Scrap Drives held by Curtis Candy Company of Chicago got a chance to see their paper turn right back into trees when $500 from paper sales was presented to the Red Cross to buy American elm for the grounds of Vaughan General Hospital.

The check was presented during a special broadcast over WGN, Chicago, by E. V. Zeddes (left), representing Otto Schnering, founder and president of the candy company. Rear Admiral John Downes (right), former Commandant of the Ninth Naval District who, since his retirement from the Navy, has served as assistant to the chairman of the Chicago chapter of the Red Cross, accepted the money on behalf of the Red Cross Camp and Hospital Committee; and radio star Mark Love (center) interviewed some of the youngsters over the air.

The Kiddies' Scrap Paper Drives have been held every other Saturday since the first of the year. Each child receives a candy bar and special prizes are awarded those collecting the most paper.

WAR BONDS In Action

Gen. Kreuger, Gen. Kenny and Gen. Sutherland discuss invasion plans on one of the Philippine Islands. They consider the vast quantity of munitions that War Bonds buy and which make possible the advance of our armed forces.

THE LOW DOWN from HICKORY GROVE

One thing our USA could do in this swearing-off and reform season around the first of the year, is to set aside one week, and soon, in which everybody would get out and dust off his arithmetic. Call is "addition and subtraction" week or maybe "get-over-being-a-sucker" week.

We have been going thru an era where figures have become so big that lots of folks half-way believe that there is not much difference whether the Govt. is fumbling around with 10 million or 10 billion. Nothing has happened to us yet, so why get excited? If we start to read where Uncle Samuel wants another 400 million as a starter on another spree of dam building, from S. Joe to Kallispel, we turn to be funny page. What is 400 million? Chickenfeed.

In a "Sad Sights Contest" this nation can, as easy as shootin' fish, win first place. We been in kind of a hypnotic coma. More spending, more prosperity. Like the native magician in India who tosses a rope skyward and then climbs same, somebody is being bamboozled.

Yours with the low down, JOE SERRA.

BURLESQUE IN GOVERNMENT

In all the talk about manpower shortage one fact stands out clearly, under the present labor monopoly in the United States men are prevented from working unless they first pay to get their jobs. If you don't believe this, try to get a job in a war industry.

No American citizen should be forced to join any organization, whether it be labor, religious or political, before he can earn his living. Allowing labor unions to remain outside the laws which regulate all business corporations while collecting millions of dollars in dues, is a travesty on justice and a burlesque on government.

Such tyranny within a so-called free country cannot be continued without ultimately leading to dictatorship by either labor bosses, political bosses or both. Freedom files out of the window when a man must get permission of another man to earn his daily bread.

FORT NASHBOROUGH

The guns had scarcely grown cold after the Revolutionary War when James Robertson and a party of sturdy pioneers started west across the Blue Ridge Mountains through virgin woodland. Indians threatened to wreck their plans. In the vicinity of modern Nashville, Tenn., they realized a strong barricade around their homes was necessary. Thus Fort Nashborough arose in 1780. Reconstructed, the Fort stands as a monument to another area's indubitable will to win, to live and work free men. Descendants of those pioneers, are today fighting for the preservation of liberty. War Bond purchases will keep them supplied with the accoutrements of victory.
