BARTON

The services held at the Barton church all last week were well attended not only from here but also from Eagle Creek and Logan.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Shuman and son Bobby were here Sunday working on their newly purchased place.

Clyde Brown was here to see his father, Irvin Brown, one day last week. He was to take his physical exam this week for army enlistment.

Marvin Becker a well known young man and a former Estacada high school pupil has been home on a furlough with his wife and parents Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Becker in Portland. He left last week for New York where he will soon leave the U.S. on a destroyer.

One of the county trucks had quite an accident Wednesday on the Ammassagor hill. Steering gear locked and the truck turned completely over. Fortunately no one was hurt.

Mrs. C.T. Whitehead was quite ill a few days last week but is feeling much better now.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Attwaser were out from Portland Sunday and were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Still.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Ashburger and Ted Zimmerman of Portland were callers on Mr. and Mrs. F. Thomas Sunday.

Many fishermen along Deep Creek but they seem to be out of luck. The water is very high and most of the time muddy.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Millsap were in Portland Friday where they were guests at a tea honoring their lifelong friend, Mrs. Carrie Pugh on her eighty-fourth birthday. Mrs. Geo. Betker formerly of this neighborhood was also a guest.

Much preparation is being made for the Barton community club party Saturday evening. A jolly skit will be given and other entertainment furnished. Friends are invited to the program which will start at 8 p.m.

ASTOR COLUMN

Atop of Coxcomb Hill the Astor Monument reaches skyward, close to the site of the first permanent settlement in Oregon. Captain Robert Gray on a trading mission and his crew were the first white men to visit Astoria, at the mouth of the Columbia River. They came in 1792 and in 1805 Lewis and Clark passed the spot, setting up winter quarters seven miles southwest. The city's location and name were picked by members of a fur trading expedition sent out by the famous John Jacob Astor Company. War Bonds pay for munitions, planes and warships that guard this area so that future generations may enjoy opportunities still untouched there.

ALL IN AN ENGINEER'S JOB—This is no game in a cage. It is routine practice of soldiers of the 9th Engineer Command spreading straw under the wire mesh of a hardstand during construction of one of the Allied airstrips in Germany. Straw prevents the mud from forcing its way through the mesh when spring thaws set in. (Official 9th AF photo.)

BULL RUN

The Bull Run community club will give a card party Friday night, April 27. Everyone is cordially invited and a good time is assured.

Miss Blanche Jadwin spent the week end with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Del Jadwin.

Mr. and Mrs. Regnar Steffanson moved to Portland Monday. Mr. Steffanson will continue to work for the Portland water system but in a Portland plant.

Mrs. Rodney Phillips spent the week end with her husband who is in the navy hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Knight and Donald spent the week end in Portland visiting with friends.

Walt Kinnfe who stays at the Knight home visited his mother in Portland this week.

V. D. Butlerr Henry Perret and Geo. Miller attended the formans meeting in Portland Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Goss were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Van Ausdel.

EVANGELINE

American boys fight, suffer and die today to perpetuate freedom. And other Americans on the home front buy and hold War Bonds to safeguard freedom. If Henry W. Longfellow had not enjoyed liberty he could not have written "Evangeline," the story of Emmaline Labiche, St. Martinville, La., pioneer girl who waited on the banks of the Teche for years, hoping to greet her lost lover. The Longfellow-Evangeline Memorial Park, oldest of Louisiana's state parks, is a monument to liberty and freedom.
