Friendly Corner Pastor Receives Portland Post

Rev. Mark Chamberlin, pastor of the Friendly Corner Methodist Church for the past 8 years, will take over the Willshire Methodist Church at 35th avenue and Fremont street in Portland this week.

Rev. Chamberlin has been an active member of the Eastern Multnomah Ministerial Association during his tenure and is the executive secretary of the Methodist Federation for Social Action. He will continue to live in Gresham.

Rev. Fletcher Cannell former pastor at Odell and Pine Grove will take over the Friendly Corner Church on July 3.

Other pastors of churches in the Gresham area were returned to their pastorate by action taken at the annual Methodist conference held last week at Ashland.

Mrs. Harold Black, wife of Rev. Harold Black, pastor of the Bennett Chapel Community Church, was ordained a deacon at the conference.

Stephen Braker was appointed to the committee on church location and erection from the Forest Grove District, and Miss Maude Aldrich was elected a member of the executive committee of the Methodist Federation for Social Action for the coming year.

Dr. George W. Bruce, pastor at Gresham Methodist church, is among local pastors who retain their posts. Dr. Bruce, who came here from Ashland 2 years ago, said he likes the Gresham pastorate better than any other which he has served in his long career. "I am very happy I was returned," he declared.
