Subsoiling Pays BIG DIVIDENDS!

Subsoiling to break up hard, tight soils pays big dividends. Your land is opened up for rapid moisture penetration and storage... erosion is greatly reduced... more vigorous root growth is assured... crops are healthier, more abundant... profits are bigger.

John Deere-Killefer Panbreakers are scientifically designed to do the job right. Penetrating as deep as 36 inches, depending upon the model used, these heavy-duty implements completely lift and shatter hardpan, plowpan, and other tight soil formations—all without bringing sterile subsoil to the surface where it will interfere with seed germination.

Rugged, heavy-duty construction assures years of trouble-free service. Simple, positive tractor control and accurate screw-type depth regulator make good work easy. There's a size to match your power—from the smaller model which works as deep as 20 inches and can be handled with a two-plow tractor, up to the largest model which works as deep as 36 inches and requires the power of a track-type tractor. See us for complete information.
