Sandy Girl Scouts To Send School Supplies Overseas

The newly organized Girl Scout troop in Sandy is getting well underway with a project for their foreign schoolmates, according to Mrs. Patricia Chilton, leader and organizer of the troop.

Mrs. Chilton has a group of around 20 girls from Sandy between the ages of 9 and 14 who form an intermediate troop. These girls have been very active in organizing and encouraging other girls in this age group to join the scouts.

They have held a number of candy, cookie and food sales and their treasury is growing rapidly. A large variety of activities are being planned by the girls to take place this summer, such as swimming trips, horseback riding, picnics and such.

Chilton has been active in Girl Scout work for a number of years and reports the Sandy troop as a very enthusiastic group.

At the present time the girls are purchasing denim material with money from their treasury and are making school bags to be filled with school supplies and sent to schoolmates overseas. As well as helping underprivileged schoolmates, the girls learn new skills and find new interests.

Contents

The contents of the school bags do not have to be new, but must be clean and in good repair. The following is a partial list of what will be included and anyone wishing to contribute any, either new or used repaired items, the Girl Scouts of Sandy would appreciate receiving them and including them in their effort to help their schoolmates in foreign countries, Mrs. Chilton says.

Items will include paper, notebooks, pencils, erasers, crayons, chalk, blotters, pens, pen holders, pen points, powdered ink, paper clips, water colors, brushes, pencil sharpeners, drawing paper, U. S. maps, small items of clothing such as mittens, soap, towels, material for clothes, picture books, (not comic books), dictionaries, small games and homemade scrapbooks.

There are seven organizations in the United States which have offered to ship these school bags overseas for the Girl Scouts.

Contact The Sandy Post for details on donations.
