FUSS WON'T GET FAR—

State Senator R. L. Neuberger is attempting to discredit Secretary of State Earl Newbry and make a political issue of the fact that Newbry has leased especially constructed buildings as branches of his office to handle issuance of automobile registration plates and motor vehicle operators' licenses. "Dickie Boy" has procured from Attorney General George Neuner an opinion that Newbry's action in making the leases is illegal because there is no law which specifically directs him to do so.

Mr. Newbry, on the other hand, has countered with the fact that the last session of the legislature was fully informed of his program for setting up field offices and that the legislature approved his budget which provided funds for that purpose. Further, Sec. Newbry contends, that his action is in the interest of better and more convenient service to the citizens and taxpayers of Oregon and at the same time will result in greater efficiency and considerable economy in the operation of his office. Records since the operation of the field offices started already indicate the validity of Mr. Newbry's claim to greater efficiency and economy. Thousands of citizens who already have benefited from the better and more convenient service of the field offices will testify to their effectiveness along those lines.

If, in fact, Sec. Newbry's action is beyond the legal limits, it will be a simple matter for the forthcoming session of the legislature to rectify that matter. A legalizing act will take care of the situation nicely.

The public is happy with the installation and operation of the field offices. They make sense. There is no valid reason why every automobile owner in Oregon should have to undergo the delay and annoyance attendant upon having registration plates and drivers' licenses issued only from an office in Salem or Portland. The people will back Newbry in his action.

It looks to us like Dickie Neuberger, whose thinking runs more along the lines of political opportunism than it does along lines of practical realism, is kicking up a fuss that will flare like a fuse for a short time, then sputter and go out.

PROHIBITION FOR OREGON?—

Voters of Oregon may not know it, but they are going to vote in November on an initiative measure which, if passed, virtually will bring back to Oregon prohibition of the sale of alcoholic beverages. The measure won't appear upon Oregon ballots as a prohibition measure, but the effect of its passage will be the same as if it did.

Under the thin guise of being a measure to prohibit advertising of alcoholic beverages within the state, the initiative measure actually would prohibit the sale within Oregon of liquor that is "promotively advertised." The wording of the bill would prevent the sale of liquors for which advertising was circulated within Oregon in any manner. Advertising in national magazines, in newspapers published outside the state but circulated within the state, on radio programs originating outside the state or by circulars coming in from outside of Oregon—all these types of advertising, even though they originated outside our state, would bring about prohibition of the sale in Oregon of the products advertised.

A few off-brands which use no advertising of any kind might still be available in Oregon, but from a practical standpoint passage of initiative 317 would result in prohibition in Oregon.

The bill also is believed by many to be an abridgement of the bill of rights of the federal constitution and of the freedom of the press.

So strongly did the American Legion of Oregon resent the proposals in the initiative that, at its recent state convention in Grants Pass, it passed a resolution strongly condemning the measure and urging its defeat at the polls in November. The resolution was as follows:

"Whereas: The American Legion is committed through its constitution and its precepts to maintain law and order and the Bill of Rights under our national constitution and to be ever vigilant as a body of citizen soldiers that our laws and our government are kept free from that hypocrisy and cynicism which destroys government of free men, and

"Whereas: An attempt is being made to foist upon the people of Oregon a return to prohibition under the guise of a harmless appearing Initiative Measure which in fact is an un-democratic suppression of the right of free speech through the gagging of advertising, and is designed to re-establish prohibition, and

"Whereas: The American Legion in both its state and national councils has, for the above reasons, gone on record against a return to the evils of prohibition, and has always fought every attack upon our Bill of Rights,

"Now therefore be it resolved: By the American Legion, Department of Oregon, in Convention assembled at Grants Pass, Oregon, on September 6-9, 1950, that Initiative Bill No. 317, being a bill to prohibit the sale in Oregon of liquor that is promotively advertised, and to be voted on by the electorate of Oregon on November 7, 1950, should be overwhelmingly rejected by the people of Oregon for the reason that said bill is a hypocritical piece of legislation which, if passed, would return Oregon to the lawless, immoral, and cynical evils of prohibition and submit our people to a suppression of free speech and free press, tending to break down the strength and moral fiber of democratic government."

Sandy's share of the apportionment of the state highway fund revenue has not been announced yet, but five county cities did receive part of the funds, according to a communication from the secretary of state's office at Salem.

Shares to the county cities earmarked $5892 to Gladstone, $15,876 to Milwaukie, $18,894 to Oregon City, $7543 to Oswego, and $6679 to West Linn.

The money is 10 per cent of the revenues collected by the state highway department for maintenance. The sum is that collected for the first six months of the year from motor vehicle license fees, gasoline taxes, motor carrier fees and fines for violations of motor vehicle laws.

A breakdown shows that $6,013.34 came from motor vehicle license fees and $10,889,143 from the gasoline tax, $2,029,479 from motor carrier fees and $109,507 from fines for violations.

The Sandy Post's Recipe Of The Week

There's nothing like serving a dish with a foreign and exotic name to really impress your husband or those important dinner guests. When you make a foreign dish your specialty (that's something only you in your group knows how to prepare and you guard the secret with your life) don't be surprised when rumors go around about your outstanding cooking skill.

Here's an Italian dish, which like the renowned Italian spaghetti, is tasty, can be cooked in large or small quantities, and is right simple. It's called Marzetti.

Ingredients are: 4 tablespoons shortening; 1 pound pork, veal or beef cut in cubes; 1 onion, finely chopped; 2½ teaspoons salt; 1 quart tomato juice; 1 4-ounce can mushrooms; 1 8-ounce package medium-broad noodles; ¼ pound sharp cheese, grated and ¼ teaspoon pepper. Place shortening in skillet.

When hot, add meat and chopped onions and cook until both are golden brown. Add tomato juice and seasoning. Cover and cook on medium-high heat until steam comes from vent. Switch to simmer and cook until meat is tender, or about 30 minutes.

Add mushrooms and noodles, cover. Transfer to high heat and cook until steam escapes, then simmer for 15 to 20 minutes. Pour into serving dish and sprinkle with grated cheese before serving.

Howdy Folks:

Do you suppose that free speech in Russia means that if you're cut off the party line you hang up

None of us want to lose the right of free speech, but in this country, we need to learn the difference between free speech and cheap talk.

One of the high spots in our career was many years ago when we addressed a crowd of 10,000 people. The first thing we said was, "Pop corn and peanuts, pop corn and peanuts."

One of our customers thinks that if some people said what they thought, they'd be speechless.

In that case, probably a train of thought is a string of empties.

Our thought at this time is to impress upon you the importance of every American to sign the Freedom pledge. We have the scroll in our store. Be sure to get your name on it the next time you are in town.
