Howe Elected Director At Welches Grade Meeting

By Alice Hickey Fifteen Mountain Grangers took the sixth degree at the Russellville school last week where the Russellville Grange held the State Grange conference. Activities were going on the greater part of the week where discussions were varied and many. About 300 members from all over the state were taken into the Pamona last Wednesday at 8 p.m. which put them in position to join with others in state membership. Oregon State can boast of nearly 1000 new members now, and Grangers in the area who attended agree the night was uncomfortably warm, but had cooled off considerably as they arrived home in the wee hours of Thursday morning.

C. G. Payne returned to his home recently after being called to Winslow, Arizona, due to illness of a relative. On his way back he stopped at Las Vegas to visit his son, Lewis, and family, and while there his time was taken up with fishing, C. G.'s favorite hobby. We learned nothing of his luck other than he caught a lively cat fish two and a half feet long.

Mrs. Walter Blaisdell, Jr., was called to Vancouver last week due to the illness of her father, and tells us he will enter the hospital very soon for an operation. Brightwood kiddies and their mothers are busy picking strawberries, and tell us the berries are ripening fast, with some of the growers unable to obtain sufficient pickers to take care of the fields as they should be.

Pioneers of the area met Sunday in Sleepy Hollow for a good, old fashioned picnic and to talk of the past as well as lay schemes for the future. In a chat with an old timer we learn faces have sure changed, but it was a treat to meet the annual gathering the pioneers date on, and the fellow remarked that each year there seems to be at least another vacant chair.

Brightwood Loggers carry a "winning" look the past week since coming out best in soft ball games with Scales and Tappers of Sandy, but the next week will tell whether or not the Loggers are wearing the smile that won't come off, and their fans are keeping their fingers crossed in anticipation.

Next Friday evening Rev. Goodrick of Sandy will hold services in the Sleepy Hollow hall at 8 p.m. and extends an invitation to all who wish to attend. We understand these meetings are enjoyed by folks who meet there for singing the old hymns, listening to the Gospel, and chatting afterwards, and each meeting has a few more interested ones than the previous.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Wilson of Gresham, and daughter, Billie Ann, enjoyed cool, mountain breezes last week when they visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. Larson of St. Paul, Oregon, were guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hamilton and family, last week. A trip to Mt. Hood and Timberline gave the folks a change and made their trip a pleasant one. Dr. and Mrs. Kinoshita and family are enjoying their summer home on Marmot road, and tell us it is the ideal place for rest, peace, and quiet.

Rhododendron 473 is a busy telephone number these days as civil defense work on Red Cross quilts is progressing. Different groups are making the quilt tops and will meet to tie and finish the coverings at an early date. Mrs. Rogan says to call the above number for information and urgently requests folks to become interested in this important work if at all possible.

From Los Angeles came Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Sellsberg and son, recently, and while here were house guests at the C. G. Payne home. They like their home state best, of course, but did admit our strawberries had a better taste which was good news to the Payne family who have a good sized berry patch. Blood donors are responding wonderfully to the call, and the mountain folks are asked to be at the bloodmobile in Sandy next Tuesday, June 26, from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Many of our men would gladly donate blood for the worthy cause, but the hours are inconvenient—in fact, impossible. At a later date perhaps the Red Cross could arrange for evening appointments, the men in the area hope.

4-H'sers In Program At Grange Picnic

Mrs. Jim Langdon, in charge of the program at Mountain Grange annual picnic and demonstration day, turned to the 4-H'sers for the day's program. After a bounteous pot luck dinner at noon, the 4-H clubs took over with Ellen Mitchell announcing the program. Several musical numbers were given and demonstrations by the following members: Glenda Jenkins and Dorothy Pounce "Making Cup Cakes;" John West and Roland Rogers, "Vanilla Drop Cookies;" Barbara Eckert, "Making Cocoa;" Carole Alt and Susanne Rogers, "Making Cup Cakes."

An original skit on a "Take Off on The Clackamas County Fair," was given by several 4-H club members. Edward Mitchell of Zigzag played the part of the well known clown who haunts the ladies and girls at the fair each year.

Mrs. Myrabelle Mahan and William Smith, 4-H agents in Clackamas county, attended this day's program and talked briefly on club work in the Mt. Hood area and gave pointers on how to improve demonstrations. A fine start has been made in 4-H in this section of the county. Several members from this area, namely John West, Dorothy Wilson, Dixie Jenks, Edward and Ellen Mitchell and Jack George are attending 4-H club summer school on OSC campus at Corvallis. Four-H leaders in this area are Mrs. Marjorie Jenkins, Mrs. John Lake, Mrs. R. Winfrey, Mrs. Hansen and Ellen Mitchell.

JOHNNY LAMBERT one year older but does not look it—LOUISE CRUTCHER with just a faint touch of sun-burn—That sparkling ring on VIRGINIA PAPPAY'S certain finger matches the sparkle in her eyes—A card from the LOFGRENS in Chicago who are away looking over this big, wide, wonderful world—BILL DRIPS JR., home from school in Chicago loaded with glory—One gold medal for four years of being first in his class and another gold medal for running away with all honors in oratory. Besides all that he is handsome too—SHARI and LARRY NORENE off to Anchorage, Alaska to visit their Dad—MRS. WALTER KREBS and MRS. FRED BROWN at Hood River as delegates to the convention of the Oregon Federation of Garden Clubs—The GIGNACS, that delightful couple hoop-de-doing Saturday night—DONNA BOYD looking radiant in spite of the fact she has been a very sick girl for months and months. DEAN BECKLEY saying goodbye to his little black book—ROY and FERN GOFF shopping—Dearie, do you remember, way back in 1932 when the Senior Edition of the Sandy H-I Times came out with the Seniors favorite song: "Will The Angels Play Their Harps for Us in Heaven?" Well we could dream couldn't we—MRS. PHELPS, that gracious lady stepping out of their jewelry store to chit-chat—GLENNY ROBERTS yodeling all the way to Sandy—DR. GEORGE and his charming wife down from their high Mountain—LEO UPDIKE and BILL STOLL are trying to think up something to do that would be printable—DATES and ESTER LYMP and RUDIE and MARTHA KREBS a-clamming they did go—The Left-handed MUGGERS had their first picnic and a wonderful fling was flung.

Latest figures show that there are 882,773 acres in 32 individual tree farms in the Douglas Fir regions of Oregon.
