Dances, Hunting, Christmas Plans Keep Mt. Groups Busy

By Mrs. A. B. Bradley
Dean Barnett of Zigzag has recently returned from a three day visit with George Dunbar, the Barnett's son, in Oakland, Cal. George is an engineman-fireman on a submarine tender. He was in Oakland for a few days en route to San Diego, from which city he left for parts unknown last Monday. Dean came home looking rested and cheerful, having had a fine visit with lots of sightseeing in the Bay area.

P-TA
The PTA meets at the Welches school on Thursday, today, at 2:30 p. m. with Irene Petrie presiding, and Mrs. Ruffatto in charge of the program. Dom Ruffatto, principal of the school will show health films. There is a free nursery for the care of small children. Refreshments will be served by mothers of 6th and 7th grade children.

Word has been received from Daisy Schafer, recently of Rhododendron, who is wintering at Manhattan Beach. She misses her mountain friends but is busy and happy. She and "Pooch" take long walks on the beach every day, and she is attending canasta parties and Extension Unit meetings down there already.

Extension Unit News
Four ladies from the Brightwood Extension unit, Dorothy Meyer, Lorraine Lyne, Clara Gaumon and Beth Bradley, visited the Clackamas Extension unit on Tuesday, Oct. 28 at the home of Mary Kaufman on SW Webster road. Dorothy Ingraham was project leader; her subject was "Foods for Entertaining." She and Mrs. Kaufman, president of her unit, handled the demonstration admirably, and the food they cooked on the spot and served their guests was delicious and was much appreciated by the 26 ladies present.

Brightwood Meets
On Nov. 13, the Brightwood Unit meets in Dorothy Meyers home at Wemme at 10:30 a. m. to give the same program, Foods for Entertaining. Lorraine Lyne is project leader, with Dorothy Meyer and Beth Bradley assisting. Mrs. Kaufman and several other women from Clackamas are making a return visit. Much the same menu will be used as that prepared by the Clackamas ladies. Business on the agenda is planning programs for next year, and completing plans for the "Better Dress Workshop."

The square dancing club met again at the Wemme Community hall on Tuesday, Oct. 28, with new instructors, Al and Helen Goding. They will meet every other Tuesday from now on. Those present were: Dave and Nell Howe, Jim and Genevieve Langdon, Clara Gaumon, Irvin and Jessie Carleton, Dell and Gladys Farr, Wes and Jo Hawksley, Dave and Eve Womboldt, and Joe and Laurita Leuthold. Refreshments were served by Clara Gaumon and Jessie Carleton.

Hunt Elk
James and Genevieve Langdon left last Tuesday for the Blue Mountains for their vacation, now that the fire danger is all past. They will hunt for elk. Also elk hunting in the same region are Al and Betty George and Jim Ralph and wife, staying at Gilmore's.

The George Lasher family left Zigzag for Prineville last Friday. Lynn Lathrop, his wife and two boys are moving into the Lasher house.

Plans Big Feed
Mrs. Owen of the Zigzag Inn is busy planning for the big dinner for the Sandy Chamber of Commerce on Nov. 17. It is expected that 150 people will be present, and they will use both the regular dining room and the downstairs dine-and-dance room. The latter is all done, but the specially ordered furniture from Indiana has not come yet, nor the new dishes, all of which were ordered months ago.

Wes Hawksley and Irvin Carleton have gone to eastern Oregon for a week of elk hunting.

The dance given by the Lions Club at the Log Lodge, Rhododendron last Saturday was a great success. A large crowd, 150 people or more, enjoyed the music furnished by the Dale Harris 5-piece orchestra from Portland. The door prizes given added much interest to the occasion. The Log Lodge, Barlow Trail Lodge and the Zigzag Inn each gave two steak dinners, and there were two turkeys given as prizes also. The Lions Club, through Ed Cooke, wishes to thank Warren Hyland, proprietor of the Lodge, for the co-operation and help in making these dances such a success.

The Lions Club started its scrap drive this week. They hope within 90 days, to collect 50 tons of iron and other materials. The proceeds will be used to build a new recreation center in the mountain area, plans for which have already been drawn. They already have a good start towards this project, financially.

The next meeting of the Lions Club will be on Nov. 12 at the Zigzag Inn. It will be a closed meeting, with dinner at 7:30 p.m. Paul Bryant, his mother, Mrs. Pearl Moreland, and his aunt, Mrs. Hattie Bryant, spent last week end at his summer home on Truman road. This was their last visit, probably, until spring.

Nell Bistorious is back at her home in Welches again, after a visit of a week or so in Portland.

Elsie Creighton, school clerk, has finished the school census, and she reports the largest enrollment yet in the Welches district No. 13; 132 boys and 154 girls, 286 altogether.

Mrs. Creighton also announces that the school board at their last meeting elected Mrs. Beatrice Miller as permanent second grade teacher. Mrs. Miller has been a substitute teacher ever since the resignation of Mrs. Lynch soon after school opened this fall.

The Sandy Women's Club has invited members of the Wyest Garden Club to attend their regular meeting today, Thursday, bringing an exhibit of their Christmas wreaths and table decorations, which are more beautiful than ever this year. Mrs. Walter Creighton and Mrs. Nell Bistorious will be the guests of the Sandy club on this occasion. They will take Christmas orders until Nov. 15.

Sandy Hi Clubs Hold Annual Hayride Event
The Sandy high school Future Farmers of America and the Future Homemakers of America held their annual Halloween hayride Thursday, October 30, after school.

The tractor-drawn wagons proceeded to the Deep Creek school house, by way of the Bluff road through Kelso and on to Deep Creek. Games were played and refreshments served at the school house. The evening ended with the return of the hay wagons to the high school by 10 p. m.

Committees for this event were:
Decoration: Marilyn Markham, Barbara Clark, Rita Updegrave, Willa Waugh, David Horttor, Clark Lund, Don Dove, Bill King.
Entertainment: Maridine Crone, Anne Huddleson, Darlene King, Ellen Mitchell, Jeanean Mills, Elvian Burligam, Kenny Kubitz, Karl Hartman, David Warner.

Refreshments: Gwen Bennett, Shirley Dove, Joyce Bartlemay, Douglas Barker, Edwin Woody, Bill Obermaier, Lyle Buswell.
Clean-up: Colleen Murphy, Pat Pliess.

Transportation: Jack Knox, Edward Schwartz, Jerry Goff.

Congratulations Are in Order

November 9-15 is American Education Week, an excellent time for you to pay a personal visit and thank one of the most important people in our nation today — your child's teacher.

Slides Tell 4-H Story At Bull Run P-TA

Slides, showing the work of the Clackamas county 4-H clubs, will be featured at the regular meeting of the Bull Run P-TA to be held in the gymnasium of Bull Run school, tonight, Thursday, at 8 o'clock. Miss Sally M. Hartz and William C. Smith, county extension agent, in charge of 4-H club work will show the slides.

The public is invited to view these pictures which will give the story of the work being done among the boys and girls of the county under 4-H instruction.

Education is the cheap defense of nations. —Burke

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Everlasting Punishment" was the subject of a Lesson-Sermon read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, November 2. In the opening citation from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (p. 35), the congregation was assured that "The design of Love is to reform the sinner." The Golden Text was from Proverbs, "Evil pursueth sinners: but to the righteous good shall be repayed."

Character development is the great, if not the sole, aim of education. —O'Shea
