Alma Francis Fields Elected President Of Sandy Music Club

Of special interest to the Sandy area is the announcement of the organization of the Sandy Music Club which met early this month at the Sandy Woman's club.

Mrs. Alma Francis Fields (Mrs. Kenneth Fields) was made president, and it is probably the first club of its kind locally devoted entirely to music. The purpose of the club as outlined in its constitution is to "promote the musical education and culture of its members; to stimulate a love for music in the schools and community and to exchange programs with other clubs."

Mrs. F. R. Hunter of Portland, president of the Oregon Federation of Music clubs was present and served as temporary chairman for installation of officers. She also outlined the work and scope of Federation and stressed its value to this state when all music groups worked through it as one for the good of all. The club became the newest one in the federation.

Serving with Mrs. Fields for the coming year will be Mrs. Wm. Grashorn and Mrs. Walter Koch, vice-presidents; Mrs. Glenn S. Keller, secretary; Mrs. Thomas Scates, treasurer; and Mrs. Ruben Hoffman, Mrs. Dean Barnett and Mrs. Chalmer Landis, directors.

Meetings will be held the 2nd Monday of each month at 8 o'clock at the Woman's hall.

Christmastide Celebrated By Mountain Area Residents

Mrs. A. B. Bradley

Christmas was, as usual, a very gala occasion for most mountain families. Everyone, it seems, either had company or went somewhere to be someone else's company.

Gladys and Harry Perkins went to Portland to the home of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Monner, near Lents. Mr. Monner runs a sawmill there. Also present at the family reunion were Gladys' mother, Maud Rypczynski; Mrs. Mary Armstrong and Kathleen who used to live in Zigzag, and other relatives to the number of about fourteen altogether.

Dean and Lorraine Barnett went to Portland and had a wonderful dinner out, by themselves. Lorraine, after her recent illness and a strenuous session with her part in the Sandy school Christmas entertainment, was glad to just relax.

The C. A. Blosses had as Christmas guests their two daughters, Louella and Nola Doane, also Perry Doane and the Doane children, Carol and Stephen.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Owen spent the holiday in Portland with their daughter Jackie Secomb, husband Jack, and small daughter Diane.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kelsey, who are usually busy around the Zigzag Inn, took their children, Kip and Muriel, to Portland also, for Christmas dinner with Mrs. Kelsey's mother, Mrs. M. A. Stone.

The Reuben Meyers and two sons went to Gresham to the home of the Armon Grimstedts, for Christmas dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Howard of Zigzag (he is working at a sawmill north of Brightwood) had her mother and father of Auburn, Washington, as Christmas guests.

Cleat Boyd of Wemme went to San Francisco on business, taking with him his small daughters, Heidi and Jill, who spent Christmas with old friends there.

Herbert Bradley of Portland and Claus Hofeldt of Woodlands were dinner guests of the A. B. Bradleys.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Frost spent Christmas Eve with their daughter Lois, her husband Norman Park, and the three small Parks. On Christmas, the Parks went in to Portland for dinner with the other grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Park Sr.

The James Lynes had as their guests all Christmas week Mr. and Mrs. Adama of Gold Beach, Lorraine Lyne's parents.

The James Langdons had all of their three children home for Christmas, and a lot of other relatives besides. Donna came home from the University of Oregon to spend the holidays, returning to school next Sunday. Betty and Forrest Robinson came down from Bremerton. Louise and Bill Einstad and children, Bill Jr. and Joanne, came up from Eugene to join the clan, also Bill's mother, Mrs. Einstad Sr. Then later, on Sunday, in came Jim's father, C. C. Langdon and family, and two sisters, Mrs. Vera Anderson of Santa Clara, and Mrs. Kruger Bowden and Jack of Portland. Sounds like a busy, very happy Christmas.

Daughter Arrives

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Darr of Government Camp are the parents of a new baby daughter. They already have two boys.

Claus Hofeldt is just back from a five week trip to California. He spent about two weeks with his son, Vaughn Hofeldt, who is chief Ranger in the Mt. Shasta district, U. S. National Forest. While there, father and son spent some time visiting the Comstock mine near Virginia City, Nevada, where Claus collected some more interesting rocks for the chimney he is building in his home. Later, he visited Los Angeles, meeting there with Arthur Hailey, son of Maud Hailey of Zigzag. The two men visited Bakersfield, Tehachapi and other places, investigating effects of the recent earthquakes.

Mrs. Tom Jones' name was inadvertently omitted, last week, as one who received a poinsettia and awards at the Wy'east Garden Club dinner. James Langdon received the special citation and award, instead of a wholly mythical "Mr. James." Sorry.
