

Radio-TV Review

By Terry Revenaugh

Think we'll take a vacation. We're not going anywhere. Well, we've GONE somewhere—us and a large moving van—from Oregon City to Sandy, that is. Anyway, there's not much doing on the video waves or radio waves until fall season starts. There isn't much to say about what is going on. Gotta unpack a lot of labeled boxes, some unlabeled ones too. Gotta settle two kids and a large dog with their new neighbors. Several bushels of dead ripe raspberries are reproachfully staring at us through the back window. Under that jungle of dock weed and tall grass some rose bushes and dahlias are crying for light and air.

Think we'll take a vacation. Don't Miss It

With the waning of the summer season goes our final chances to see "Ethel and Albert" on Monday nights (KOIN, 8:30) still the most truly comic of the comedy shows. Unless sponsors Maxwell House decide to forgo their winter show (December Bride) or some other intelligent company picks up the tab, we'll have to wait indefinitely for Peg Lynch's satiric gems.

Probably only a few shows left. If you've never been interested in the show, try it for one night. If you don't immediately become a tenacious fan you'll become violently anti-"Ethel and Albert." And becoming interested enough to feel violent about anything on TV is a rare emotion now. Apathy is the most anybody can whip up.
