Happy news for television fans. "Ethel and Albert," far too wonderful a show to remain a summer replacement, moves into its own fall season time on Channel 12, beginning this Thursday at 10 P.M. Written and created by Peg Lynch, who stars as Ethel, the show dramatizes the Teeny crises of married life. The dialogue is tops, Peg Lynch and Alan (Albert) Bunce are the best actors and the situations are never tired.

John Salisbury of Channel 12, KLOR, is presenting another program drawing on his knowledge of entertainers. Entitled "They Stopped The Show," the program will feature a discussion of the career of one of America's great stars with three of his or her records. In many cases, the recordings will embrace the early, middle and latter days stages of the performer's career.

Among those stars to be discussed this week are Dolores Gray and Bob Hope with Fred Waring, Maurice Chevalier, Rosemary Clooney, George Cohan and Frank Sinatra due for the week of October 17 to 21.

The show will run Monday through Friday from 2 P.M. to 2:15.

Columbus Honored
KLOR's "Family Theatre" will show an unusual film to celebrate Columbus Day on Sunday, October 16, at 3:45 P.M. "Dawn of America," is a film produced in Spain and rates as one of the most lavish productions to come from Europe in recent years. Lip synchronized English dialogue was written for the hour-long show by Fred Niblo, Jr.

"Dawn of America," presents all the court pagentry of 15th century Spain and depicts the problem and obstacles encountered by Columbus.

Sunday's "Omnibus," (Ch. 6, 1 P.M.) spent a good deal of time trying to give a wide view of all of Europe and the makings of modern man on the pre-Columbus Renaissance theme. It will be interesting to see how the country which launched the great voyage treats a story prominent in its history.

School Show
Beginning Wednesday, October 19, at 4:37 P.M. is "See How They Learn," a public service program put on by the Portland Public Schools. Dr. Stotler, will take charge of the program, to run 5 weeks, and will present as part of each program not only illustrative material for his own comments but supplementary demonstration groups. The first program is titled: "General Introduction to Science in the Curriculum."

It's Him Again
For real you can't turn around without running into something by Walt Disney. Just about anybody would be happy to bump into "The Lady and The Tramp," two amiable canines; introduced to TV's millions on last season's "Disneyland."

"The Lady and The Tramp," appear in technicolor and without interruption on the screen of the Sandy Theatre this weekend, October 13 through 16.

In spite of carping reviews in TIME magazine and other fossilized columns, we'd be delighted to meet these little critters. We're especially eager to renew acquaintance with Peg, the slightly blowsy cocker spaniel with Peggy Lee's voice.

Companion to the Disney show is an adventure film, "Captain Lightfoot," starring Rock Hudson and Barbara Rush.
