Board Makes Year's Plans

ESTACADA—Besides payment of the routine bills and taking care of a few minor details, planning occupied the Estacada grade school board at its last meeting Wednesday night, according to Robert Cody, principal of the grade school.

The board, with only three members present, okayed some carpenter work and other minor repairs to the school. They made no decision about going to the voters for a junior high school setup in the district but considered a new teacher's salary schedule and made other plans for the coming year.

The next meeting of the board will be January 11.
