

Dad's Show Brings Down PTA House

A combination of PTA Dads and Sandy high school's show band brought down the house Tuesday night in the annual Dad's night program presented at the grade school. The high school orchestra, under the direction of Larry Morrell, performed with such skill they were called back for encores following the narrative music for the Dad's All-Season Style Show which had Buck Woodward as commentator-coordinator.

The style show opened with boy-girl outfits modeled by Chuck Frazier and Harvey Hanson. George Meeker played Santa Claus followed by a charming couple dressed for a hot day's work in the berry fields. Vic Ulmen and Tom Boothby. Woodward appeared as a groom with his charming bride, Alvin Sheldon while Spike Emerson and Al Katt played the fagged out school teachers on May 31. Lady-teacher Katt impulsively tossed her whole year's supply of "pink slips" to the audience, on her way out.

Don Livesay and Luke Oldenkamp played the fishing-hunting couple while Phil Jonsrud and Fred Richardson paraded across stage in the latest beach resort wear. George Burg and Whitley Will "labored" hard for Labor Day while Joe college Wink Chilton, and his pert pony-tailed co-ed Ralph Hames went all out for football opening.

Loudest screams from the moms and kids in the audience came when the old year, Dick Revenaugh, overturned his black baby buggy, revealing the pink and shining New Year, Gus Hiebert, clad in traditional scanty baby garments .. the three-cornered kind .. period.

The grade school girls' chorus sang several numbers under the direction of Mrs. Carol Dversdal.

Fathers of sixth grade students served sandwiches and coffee in the cafeteria following the program.

Tuesday's meeting opened with the flag salute led by Mrs. Bill Stover's Brownies with the invocation being pronounced by Father Norbert Fritz of St. Michael's church.

Mrs. Don Smith, chairman for the PTA savings stamp program at the school, reported that $150.70 worth of stamps had been sold during the first three sales at the school.

Clifford Sandstrom, reporting on the success of the spaghetti dinner .. Farm Store event of Saturday night stated that between 600 and 650 people were served with the PTA clearing $475. Student ticket sales for the dinner won a prizes for John Griffiths room when his pupils sold nearly $47 worth. Griffiths room also won the roll call prize for most parents attending Tuesday's meeting. This is the second attendance prize in three meetings for Griffiths. Mrs. Evelyn Krebs' room won roll call prize for lower grades.

Before the close of the meeting President John Metzger called for volunteers to help in the Cub and Boy Scout programs.
