

SANDY PARTY LINE

Mrs. M. E. Eggers returned this past weekend from a four-week visit with her son Captain John Eggers and family at San Narcos, Texas. Captain Eggers is an instructor at the base there and during her visit she was taken on a complete tour of the base. She made the trip to Texas by Greyhound lines and on the train. Other visits included Fort Sam Houston and Randolph Field.

Mrs. Richard (Helen) Suckow, Sandy, is now employed at Wright's Super-Market.

Mr. Don Shidler was the speaker at both Sunday services at the Sandy Baptist chapel November 17. Mr. Shidler is president of the Gospel Missionary Union which has missionaries in several countries of the world including Colombia, South America where one of the missionaries that the chapel helps support is located, namely, Miss Janet Troyer. In the evening there were colored slides shown from the Canadian Indian work. The headquarters for this enterprise is in Kansas City, Missouri.

The ladies missionary group from the Sandy Baptist chapel met at the home of Mrs. Norma Syblon Thursday. There were twelve ladies present most of the day with several coming in at noon. In the morning quilt blocks were prepared and some used clothing. At noon there was a delicious lunch and the hostess made banana cream pie and coffee. Mrs. Troyer from Portland spoke for a while after lunch, concerning the Child for Christ Crusade which is interested in home Bible clubs. Several of the ladies volunteered to have one in their neighborhood. The Christmas party was decided for December 12 at the home of Mrs. Russell Winchester.

Mr. and Mrs. Erett Moore and two sons visited with Mr. Moore's uncle and family near Hillsboro on Sunday. Also there for the day were other relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moore of Camas, Washington where he is manager of the Safeway store, and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Moore of Eugene.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Croston of Sandy visited with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pete of Philomath on Saturday and also attended the Oregon State football game.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Davies of Gresham were Sunday afternoon guests of Mrs. Lydia Markwart of Sandy.

A surprise birthday party for Dale Bogart was given at the Henry Whitlock home on Saturday evening. Several friends dropped in for a visit and cake and coffee were served to those attending.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Sander-cock brought Mr. Sandercock's mother for a visit. She is staying mainly at the Herb Sandercock home. She also has two other sons who are planning to move here soon. Mrs. Sandercock's home is in Portland.

Mrs. George TenEyck of Marmot spent three nights last week at the home of Mrs. W. Howard of Sandy.

Mrs. Grams and children visited all last week with her sister in Portland, Mrs. A. C. Phillips.

The Sandy Ridge Extension club met at the Kelso grange hall November 14 with 24 members and four visitors present. Visitors were Mrs. Midge Dibble, Mrs. Albina Haak, Mrs. Lane and Mrs. Jeanette Williams. The hostesses at noon for the pot-luck luncheon were Mary Lane, Mae Nolar and Rosa De Long. The tables were decorated with a Thanksgiving motif with pumpkin, squash and autumn leaves. There were also ten children present. The demonstration consisted of making Christmas decorations out of tin lids and Christmas wreaths. The ladies in charge of the demonstration were Barbara Cooley and Alpha Green.

The Patrons and Matrons of the Order of Eastern Star entertained the Associate Patrons and Matrons at a dinner dance at Sunnyside Chapter in Portland Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. Melville Richey, Boring, worthy patron and worthy matron of Sandy chapter were among those entertaining. Mrs. Margaret Kotzman, Sandy, associate matron of the local chapter and her associate patron, Carl Shetterly and Mrs. Shetterly, Portland, also attended.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Lamb of the Firwood district, drove up to White Salmon, Washington, Sunday where they visited friends. On the way they stopped in Hood River to call on the Harold Babcock family, former neighbors of the Lambs. The Lambs also visited with Mr. and Mrs. George (Butch) Harrison, Portland, on Thursday of last week. The Harrisons are also former neighbors of the Lambs. They reported that Mr. Harrison is still on crutches from a leg fracture last February.

Mrs. Josephine Lamb was honored on her birthday on Wednesday, November 13th with a surprise party at the home of her daughter-in-law Mrs. Grace Lamb. The ladies spent the afternoon playing whist after which the hostess served a lovely birthday cake decorated in autumn colors. Gifts were then presented to the honored guest. Those attending were Mrs. Hazel Lamb, Mrs. Edith Weidman, Mrs. Mabel Pullen, Mrs. Delma Pullen, Mrs. Ruby Gillmore and Mrs. Evelyn Pettin-gill.

"Of all the griefs that harass the distressed,
Sure the most bitter is the scornful jest;
Fate never wounds more deep the generous heart,
Than when a blockheads' insult points the dart."
